CITY TO BE PROVIDED WITH NEW TYPE FIRE-FIGHTING APPARATUS.

MOTORCYCLE FITTED FOR COMBATTING BRUSH FIRES IN OUTLYING DISTRICTS INSPECTED AND APPROVED BY MAYOR CURLEY AND COMMISSIONER GLYNN.

MOTORCYCLE FIRE-FIGHTING SQUAD SOON TO BE PART OF APPARATUS TO PROVIDE FOR PROTECTION OF CITIZENS OF BOSTON.

Mayor Curley, who is always seeking to improve the city and safeguard the interests of the public has planned to provide another protection in the case of fire in the outlying districts, in the form of quick-moving especially equipped motorcycle apparatus for the purpose of fighting blazes in grass plots.

The apparatus was exhibited for the first time on Saturday, May 3, before the Mayor and Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn.

These vehicles cost $750 apiece, and in service obviously will save much wear and tear to the bigger pieces of apparatus, by responding in their stead to spring and summertime grass fire alarms, of which there are about 500 annually.

There are 300 feet of $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch chemical hose, with hydrant coupling, in the basket carried in front of the little machine. Two fire extinguishers, holding seven gallons between them, are attached to the back of the side-car seat.

The vehicle also conveys two special type fire-guns for use in fighting grease-fires, and two for grass fire fighting. A steel axe, rake and broom, also a siren whistle, make up the rest of the equipment.

The Mayor asserted he means to purchase several of these machines for outlying fire stations.

MAYOR CURLEY MOVES TO PROTECT CHILDREN FROM RADIO TAX.

Mayor Curley is in hearty sympathy with the protests of children that their radio sets shall not be subject to taxation either federal, state or municipal, and is especially in sympathy with the appeal of those boys and girls who by intelligent work before and after school hours, and careful saving, have been enabled to secure radio instruments. Mayor Curley is firm in the belief that no tax should be levied upon the children's radio apparatus, or that of other persons, unless such instruments are operated for profit. The protest of the children was well voiced by Robert T. Cutler, of the Amarad Big Brother Club, who resides at The Ledges, Charles River, Mass. Master Cutler's letter to the Mayor was as follows:

To Mayor Curley, Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I am a member of the Amarad Big Brother Club at Station WGI. I have written to you to please not put a 10 per cent tax on all radios because it is very hard on some little boy who has saved $5 to buy a crystal set and he finds he has to pay $6 or $6.50.

Sincerely yours,

AMARAD BIG BROTHER CLUB MEMBER,
ROBERT T. CUTLER.

Mayor Curley, after due consideration of Master Cutler's letter, replied as follows:

MR. ROBERT T. CUTLER, The Ledges,
Charles River, Mass.:

DEAR MR. CUTLER,—I am duly in receipt of your letter protesting, as a member of the Amarad Big Brother Club at Station WGI, against a 10 per cent tax upon radios and radio supplies, and that boys, who by careful saving and intelligent work have accumulated a little money to buy a crystal set, should not be compelled to pay a tax thereon.

I am in thorough sympathy with your arguments in so far that no tax should be levied upon radios unless the instruments are operated for profit. I beg to advise that the Assessing Department of the City of Boston has taken no step in this matter, and the proposed taxation on radio sets is, according to my advice, solely a matter for consideration at the present time by the federal government. I am inclined to think that it would be of excellent service if you would write a letter setting forth your protest in detail to Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge and Hon. David I. Walsh, United States Senate, Washington, D. C., and who are in a position to protect your interests and that of other boys who are interested in radio development in the United States. I will indorse your proposal.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor.

When Master Cutler has advised United States Senators Lodge and Walsh of his contention in behalf of the children Mayor Curley will heartily indorse the young man's case.

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

TO THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquees, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

TO Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

TO THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases or public health nuisances.

TO THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and

PUBLIC LIBRARY MUSIC EXHIBITION.

Landmarks of the first three centuries of Boston's musical activities will be exhibited during Music Week at the Public Library. Musical manuscripts, publications, diaries, and books by persons intimately connected with Boston, and works illustrating the musical history of the city will be shown.

Of early items of interest, the "Bay Psalm Book" takes first place, but to show the musical background of the settlers, several of the Sternhold and Hopkins "Version of the Psalms" (1562) are shown with the musical editions by various editors, such as Parson, Este and Ravenscroft. It was the latter that the editors of the "Bay Psalm Book" had in mind, and it is interesting to note that there is a copy of Ravenscroft, 1621, in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, containing the autograph of Governor John Endicott.

The "Bay Psalm Book" contains no music, but it mentions some forty-nine common tunes in six different meters as being available. When tunes were added in 1698 they copied from John Playford's "Brief Introduction" (1662) several tunes in two parts "with the base set under each tune." It was the meter of these tunes which determined the form of John Eliot's metrical version for the Indians, as well as for Cotton Mather's "Psalterium Americanum" later.

In the Rev. John Tufts' "Introduction to the Singing of Psalm Tunes" (1712), —the first music instruction book published in America—letters are used upon the staff instead of notes.

Benjamin Franklin's brother published Thomas Walter's "Grounds and Rules" in 1721, and another patriot, Paul Revere, engraved Josiah Flagg's collection in 1764, as he did Billing's "New England Psalm Singer" in 1770. In Bickerstaff's "Boston Almanack" for 1769 can be seen a copy of the first national song.

If the music heretofore has been mainly psalmody, we can see how the European influence was introduced in the "Old Colony Collection" which was used in the beginning by the Handel and Haydn Society. Here are choruses by Handel, Mozart, Beethoven and others.

Instrumental music was introduced by Graupner, whom Elson calls the father of American orchestral music. Lowell Mason was a pioneer in introducing music into the public schools. Composers of the period—Webb, Eichberg, Buch, Paine—are represented by the original scores, but no printed book can indicate the importance of Carl Zerrahn, B. J. Lang and George L. Osgood.

Coming to a later day we see Arthur Foote's "Quartette" copied by Allen A. Brown, to whom Boston was to owe its wonderful music collection; works by Chadwick, Mrs. Beach, Loeffler, Hadley, Keller, and, crowning all, the autograph scores of McDowell, Parker, Converse, Gilbert and Hill.

Here are autographs of "My Country, 'tis of Thee," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," Boston's own contribution to the literature of national song.

But of equal importance in telling Boston's story are the histories of Hood, Gould, Dwight, and Elson; and for intimate glimpses nothing can surpass the reminiscences of Henschel, Rogers, Damrosch and others. The story of the Symphony Orchestra by Howe and of its founder by Perry take a high place in the annals of American literature. Chapters here and there tell the romance of the music industries.

The influence and importance of Boston demands that mention be made of noteworthy books, not about Boston but by Bostonians, and it is only necessary to mention Thayer's "Life of Beethoven," Goodrich's "Organ in France," Downe's "Lure of Music," Lang's "Musical Accompaniment of Moving Pictures," Engel's "Alla Breve," Henry L. Mason's "Opera Stories," Gallo's "Bard Book," Dorothy Meyers' "Introduction to Music Appreciation," to show the wide range of their interest and scholarship.

CALLS ON CITIZENS TO SINGLE OUT AND BANISH ALL TRAITORS TO AMERICAN LIBERTY.

MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS SOUL-STIRRING ADDRESS BEFORE SPRINGFIELD LODGE OF ELKS ON OCCASION OF WELCOMING THEM TO BOSTON FOR CONVENTION.

Mayor Curley speaking before the Springfield Lodge of Elks, Wednesday evening, April 30, at the Hotel Kimball, said in part:

It is a pleasure as an humble member of Boston Lodge No. 10 and as Mayor of the capital city of the Commonwealth to extend an invitation to my brother Elks of Springfield to visit our city upon the occasion of the National Convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in July. The invitation to this splendid patriotic American organization to convene in that city was extended for the primary purpose of arousing Americans through the instrumentality of Elksdom to the realization of the true meaning and responsibility of American citizenship.

In 1925, or one short year after the adjournment of the convention, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will observe the 150th anniversary of those events out of which the American Republic came into existence and through which the divine right theory of any group of individuals to rule over other individuals without their consent was destroyed in the United States.

It is a sincere hope of Boston Lodge that the assemblage may be the largest in the history of our order and that all who attend may sacrifice just a little time in a visit to liberty's shrines, Concord, Lexington, Bunker Hill, the Old South Church, Faneuil Hall, the Old North Church and the scene of the Boston massacre and to return to their homes fortified with patriotic inspiration and sow the seeds of a crop whose fruition will be a broader and better understanding of the true meaning of Americanism.

During the period of the World War, under the inspiring leadership of a truly great American and in response to a supremely great summons, America developed a degree of spiritual idealism in keeping with the best traditions of the colonial fathers and which now unhappily is apparently fast disappearing. In response to the spiritual idealistic summons of the late lamented former President Woodrow Wilson, distinction because of race, creed or color ceased to exist in America.

It represented an hour in the life of the nation when the institutions of which we in our day are custodians were threatened with destruction, and when to preserve that for which Washington and the colonial fathers and mothers had sacrificed, that for which Lincoln and three million Americans had fought to preserve and could only be saved and perpetuated by a rigid observance of the principle of equality, the selective draft was adopted; and despite an inherent antipathy of people to the thought of conscription, ten million Americans in every city and town of the Union enrolled for service wherever that service might be required.

They were mustered in the various military camps of America, marched on board transports and to the number of four million landed in France. Today 70,000 white crosses, emblematic of the purity of their devotion to God and country, dot the hillsides of France and Belgium.

No visitor ever asks the race, the creed or the color of him over whose grave a white wooden cross has been placed. All are content to know that in the hour of trial they met death as Americans have ever met death in every crisis, in keeping with the best traditions of our beloved republic.

On that dread day in early June of 1918, when the supreme test came and the American citizen soldiery were required to infuse courage by example into the harried and beaten allied soldiery of Europe, when the hour came to advance, the commanding officer did not single out the Jew, the Catholic, or the Negro, and say to him, "You are an inferior, you are an undesirable, you are not good enough to die for liberty." No, in that hour of crisis, when the preservation of liberty was at stake these questions were not asked. The only requisites for service in the hour of trial have ever been physical fitness and willingness to serve, and if these are the essentials which the hour of crisis demands, they should be sufficient with character and patriotism, in the hour of peace. It was the firm hope of every American that the World War would end for all time the divine right theory. This hope was predicated on the most democratic institution ever created from the beginning of the world, the selective draft system.

Under this system all men mustered under the flag of our country were required to wear the same character of uniform, eat the same character of food, and be exposed to the same character of service and punishment.

Thoughtful men believed that the mingling of these millions of men from every section of the land, representing every race, creed and color in our population, would result in a better common understanding, in a higher appreciation of the responsibilities which each man should hold for his fellow man, and that as a consequence of service and sacrifice these men, rendered thoughtful by their service in the shadow of death, would return and contribute to the life of America and idealism such as no nation had previously enjoyed.

Less than six years have passed since the hour of trial and in this short period of time we have almost forgotten the meaning, in certain sections, of the term "Equality," that word that has meant so much to humanity and through which America has become the Mecca for the pure womanhood and the sturdy manhood of every land in the entire world. Through the guarantee of equality and liberty we have grown from three millions of souls in 1775 to about one hundred and twenty-two millions under the American flag in our day.

We have become the wealthiest and the most progressive nation in the whole world. This progress would have been impossible if unnatural divisions because of race, creed or color had been permitted during the short period of our national life.

Today we find in our own enlightened and progressive Commonwealth the spawn of ignorance masquerading in the sheets within which they hid their cowardly carcasses during the period of the World War and from which they now emerge to disrupt and divide and, if permitted, destroy the United States of America.

I have always been a partisan in politics, but if I lived in the fair city of Springfield I should assume it my duty as an American familiar with the history of my country and interested in its integrity and progress to uphold the hand, stiffen the spine and strengthen the resolution of your courageous mayor, Mayor Leonard, in his determination to foster and perpetuate real Americanism.

I say the time has arrived to single out the traitors to American liberty and to drive them into the darkness of obscurity away from the flag and country which by their very presence they profane. So, my friends, I urge every member of this organization to visit the birthplace of American liberty to renew allegiance to God and to country, to rekindle the fires of patriotism; and let us as Americans without regard to race, creed or color welcome the 150th anniversary of the movement for American liberty as Americans, animated by the spirit of co-operation and firm and unyielding in our allegiance to the principle of equality.

If we do this we can truly say we have been worthy of the great heritage which is ours through the service and sacrifice and devotion of those who have gone before us.

MAYOR SENDS CONDOLENCES.

Mayor Curley telegraphed from New York, Thursday, May 8, a message of sympathy and condolence upon the death of J. Mitchel Galvin, as follows:

MRS. J. MITCHEL GALVIN, 12 Lyndhurst Street, Dorchester, Mass.:

DEAR MRS. GALVIN,—I pray you will accept assurances of my sympathy and condolence. In the death of your beloved husband a familiar figure whose presence radiated sunshine and good cheer has passed from the life of Boston. He had the happy faculty of making and never losing friends. His loss will be mourned by thousand into whose lives he brought good cheer and fellowship by his splendid attributes.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

MAYOR EXTENDS LIFE OF HOUSING COMMITTEE.

Mayor Curley sent an order to the City Council Monday afternoon seeking $7,000 to continue the life of the Rent and Housing Commission for one year. There had been previous extensions and it had been expected that the commission would soon pass out of existence. Much work is still being accomplished, however, and the Mayor believes that there will be no settled conditions in the housing situation for at least twelve months.

ASKS PUBLIC TO ATTEND BRIDGE HEARING.

The following notice was sent out by Mayor Curley in the interest of a war memorial bridge over the Charles river

BOSTON, May 3, 1924.

DEAR SIR,—As a member of the committee appointed by his Honor, Mayor Andrew J. Peters, in December, 1918, on the form of a memorial to soldiers, sailors and marines to be erected by the City of Boston, your attention is called to a hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means on Tuesday, May 6, Room 245, State House, at 10.30 a. m., relative to House Bill No. 1682, providing for patching the present Harvard Bridge with the idea of its being utilized for an indefinite period.

The very excellent report submitted by your committee provided for the erection in connection with the reconstruction of Harvard Bridge, which was universally conceded to be an absolute necessity, of a dignified and impressive memorial in keeping with the great spirit of patriotism, loyalty and sacrifice which it was designed to typify. This report met with very general commendation on the part of the thinking men and women of the community, but met with opposition on the part of others who have felt that pecuniary considerations were paramount to a proper recognition of human sacrifice.

Harvard Bridge is the main thoroughfare between Boston, the capital city of Massachusetts, and Cambridge one of the leading educational centers of the world. It is a matter of civic pride to both of these communities that this bridge when reconstructed shall be in keeping with the dignity and traditions of these two important communities. Certainly this can never be accomplished by patching the present structure.

The Committee on Ways and Means is in a position to secure an amendment to House Bill No. 1682 if warranted by a manifestation of public opinion. It is hoped, therefore, that you will make every effort to be present at this hearing and that you will at that time voice your opinion of the entire inappropriateness of the present proposition as compared with the plan proposed by the Committee on Memorial to Boston Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, which provides not only for an adequate and fitting recognition of our heroic dead, but at the same time provides for a dignified, impressive and entirely necessary means of communication between Boston and Cambridge, as well as a direct benefit to the metropolitan district and a credit to the entire Commonwealth.

Yours very truly,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY BEARS BOSTON'S GREETINGS TO NOTED AND MUCH REVERED PRELATE.

REPRESENTS CITY OF BOSTON AT GOLDEN JUBILEE OF VERY REVEREND FATHER JAMES F. O'REILLY OF LAWRENCE IN TENDERLY THRILLING ADDRESS.

Address of Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, at the Golden Jubilee of Very Reverend Father O'Reilly, Lawrence, May 6, 1924:

I am here this evening to bring the congratulations of a great American community to a great American citizen, who has served his God and country in every crisis in war and peace, with honor, loyalty and fidelity, and to say to him on this golden anniversary, "well done, thou good and faithful servant."

For fifty years he has lived and wrought in this busy hive of industry for the glory of God and the betterment of man. For fifty golden years he has walked the straight and narrow path of duty, transforming it into a broad and sunlit highway of Christian activity. For half a century he has taught the faith and charity that were his without fear or favor, refusing to attenuate truth or compromise morality, when opportunism smiled and expedience whispered. Through fifty years of work and worry he has preached the gospel of obedience to and reverence for God and his law, inculcating peace between men, respect for obligation, submission to constituted authority, and firm and unyielding opposition to the forces of disloyalty and dishonor, treason and turbulence.

Priest of his church, pastor of his flock, prophet of his people, his valiant leadership has been proof against the voices of slander and the whisper of misrepresentation, and his courage and unselfishness have made him in this busy community an exemplar of good citizenship. Coming here in the dark days following the disastrous financial panic of 1873, his preaching and example gave heart to the discouraged, confidence to the doubting and resolution to the wavering, inspiring and strengthening his people with his own courage and loyalty. An invincible faith in the wisdom, mercy and justice of God, an unflinching confidence in the sense, sanity and stability of his country, and an abiding belief in the honesty and good faith of his countrymen, were the elements of an optimism that made him find hope in the darkest hour and patience in days of defamation and defraction.

When stealthy slander and religious prejudice sought to question the loyalty of his co-religionists in the days of the Spanish War, by his speeches and activities he filled the ranks of his country's defenders and demonstrated to all that the faith and fatherland of the American Catholic are the objects of his unchangeable allegiance and that they are one and undivided in his heart. The lesson of the Spanish War and the record of the World War cannot be forgotten or obliterated; and when the secret foes of faith and fatherland, of America and its precious principles, gather in dark places to renew their campaign of falsehood and misrepresentation, as they do today, here in the person of this venerable priest, pastor and prophet, they will find a living proof of the falsity and futility of their treason and traducing.

His fifty golden years of service to peace and good citizenship are written into the heart of Lawrence.

When Bolshevism raised its ugly head in the streets of this city, when the prophets of treason and trouble, of class hatred and irreligion sought to foment civil war in the community, to wreck industry, mock law, destroy faith, shatter allegiance and preaching the gospel of anarchy under the red banner labeled "No God and No Master," this splendid citizen organized his people into an army of loyalty and righteousness, and led them 30,000 strong, bearing American flags, to give testimony of their allegiance to God and country, to right and religion, to peace and principle; and lo, the forces of evil and their allies fled.

Will Lawrence and Massachusetts forget the courage and service of this venerable priest? This splendid gathering of all the elements of good citizenship and loyal Americanism is the answer to the question. He who promised the church he founded on earth that "The gates of Hell shall not prevail against it" still reigns on earth and in the hearts of Christian people. His promise is still true and neither the gate of Hell nor the nocturnal agencies of Hell can prevail against truth, honor, humanity and justice, nor against the church that teaches their worth, nor the republic in whose principles and government these graces are reflected.

The promises of God are not written in water; they survive the disasters of the world. He who promised safety to the wicked cities of the valley if but one good man could be found among them will not desert this city and Commonwealth in their days of stress, for here God is revered and faith revered by many men; and here in Lawrence you have this venerable priest whose work and words have risen to Heaven like fragrant incense in his long and useful life, and whose worth during this golden half-century is written in the pages of the Golden Book.

His presence in Lawrence is a pledge of safety to this community that the threats of treason, falsehood and fanaticism shall not prevail against the peace and prosperity of its people. And so I rejoice I am the ambassador of the capital of the Commonwealth to carry to this splendid meeting and man the message "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 5 the Mayor approved the purchase of hay, grain and straw to the various city departments in the open market. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

On account of the wide variance in the prices submitted by the various dealers on No. 2 and No. 3 grades of hay, I respectfully recommend that the bids be rejected, and that I be given permission to purchase hay and grain in the open market. I feel that in granting this request, considerable saving over the prices submitted will be effected.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 5 the Mayor approved a contract with the E. S. Butterfield Company for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 2, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to E. S. Butterfield Company, 88 Broad street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph Rugo for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 5, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Joseph Rugo, 173 Magnolia street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Max Dublin for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 5, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Max Dublin, 569 Norfolk street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Wolfson & Ruggiero for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 5, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Wolfson & Ruggiero, 677 Saratoga street, East Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Charles Capone for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 5, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Charles Capone, 18 Hemlock street, West Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 2 the Mayor approved a contract with the H. P. Hood Company for furnishing the City Hospital with Grade "A" milk. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 1, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Since your award of the milk contract for the Boston City Hospital on March 31, 1924, to H. P. Hood & Sons, Inc., that concern submitted a proposal to the trustees for furnishing Massachusetts Standard Grade "A" market milk for $0.0889 per quart in twenty-quart jugs for the Main Hospital and in the most convenient sized receptacles for the Convalescent Home and Relief Stations for cooking purposes in place of the 73,000 quarts of pasteurized milk at $0.0989 per quart.

The trustees of the Hospital Department have agreed with me that the best interests of the city will be served and the hospital protected, and at the same time a considerable saving effected by accepting this proposal for furnishing Massachusetts Standard Grade "A" market milk for cooking purposes, and for these reasons your permission is respectfully requested to this change.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

John Bowen Company has been ordered to add to this contract for the erection and completion of additions and alterations to the out-patient building, ambulance entrance and drive, and subway to surgical building, at the Boston City Hospital, the sum of $168.56 for the following: Cost of wiring up motors for compressed air and vacuum systems which should have been included in the John Bowen Company's figure for this work as authorized in order No.

2, but which was overlooked by them in making up their price, $83.56; Cost of outlet boxes which were part of the electric fixtures and were included in allowance for same, but which had to be purchased in advance in order to build them in, and when fixtures were contracted for should have been included as part of the cost of the fixtures, but were overlooked by the architects, $85. Total, $168.56.

Statement of Contract to Date: Amount of contract, at signing, $493,000; Order 1 (addition), $54,245.95; Order 2 (addition), $10,108.57; Order 4 (addition), $4,210; Order 6 (addition), $1,775; Order 7 (addition), $1,283; Order 8 (addition), $3,716.83; Order 9 (addition), $373.75; Order 12 (addition), $168.56—$568,881.66. Order 3 (deduction), $8,236; Order 5 (deduction), $619.69; Order 10 (deduction), $202.80; Order 11 (deduction), $315; total deductions $9,375.49. Amount of contract to date, $559,508.17.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

M. H. Loonie has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Congress street, between Atlantic avenue and Purchase street, city proper. Items ordered: Substitute 24-inch D. S. pipe for 2-foot by 3-foot concrete sewer, excavation to be paid for under Item 16 of the proposal and pipe to be furnished at list price, 30 per cent discount; cart away about 50 cubic yards unsuitable material for backfill, excavated above grade at agreed upon price of $2.50 per cubic yard. Estimated cost of extra work, $525.

Joseph A. Singarella has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for constructing artificial stone sidewalks in East Fourth, I, East Fifth, etc., streets. Items ordered: Remove the existing flag crosswalks where directed on Old road, between Glenway and Ellington streets; to be paid for by force account. Estimated cost of extra work, $50.

FOR TELEPHONE INVESTIGATION.

Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan, representing Mayor Curley of Boston in the city's fight against the proposed increase in telephone rates, at a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission, asked the commission to request the Legislature for an appropriation for a general investigation of the telephone company.

Mr. Sullivan informed Chairman Henry C. Atwill of the commission that "if the commission fails to make such a request, the city itself will ask the Legislature to provide the funds for the investigation."

"I would remind this commission," said Mr. Sullivan, "that its predecessor, the Public Service Commission, for several years urged the Legislature to provide funds for a general investigation of the telephone company, but its request was not granted. I ask now that this commission renew the request of the old commission."

Mr. Sullivan declared that should the commission and the Legislature fail to take these steps toward an investigation, Mayor Curley will ask the City Council to appropriate money for an investigation by experts for the city. The city, however, Mr. Sullivan said, should not be obliged to carry the burden alone.

"The city has been carrying the consumers' petition against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company," said the city's legal representative, "and has already appropriated $125,000 for this fight. But if the state won't do the job, then the Mayor will see that the city does it."

Mr. Sullivan demurred at the idea of going forward today with testimony from the city's expert, Samuel H. Mildram, in opposition to the petition of the telephone company for an increase in private branch exchange rates. He pointed out that these rates are interwoven with the fundamental questions of the justice of the 4½ per cent which the telephone company pays to the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and with the big depreciation which the company is setting aside each year.

PUBLIC RECREATION IN BOSTON.

Number of large parks, 24; separate playgrounds, 44, with total of 324.5 acres, also 13 playgrounds in parks, with area of 155 acres; small parks and squares, 72.8; total area, 2,686.79 acres. Cost of Main Park System, i. e., 1,386 acres (including Common and Public Garden, 72.85 acres) land and construction (since 1877 when begun), $12,204,876; of Marine Park System, i. e., 457.9 acres (since 1883), $4,601,045; of all other parks and public grounds, $2,537,898; of separate playgrounds, $4,458,331. Total cost, $23,802,150, of which $9,789,096 is for land alone.

The leading attraction of the Main Park System is Franklin Park (named for Benjamin Franklin), acquired in 1883-84, and containing 527 acres, about 80 of which are occupied by the Zoological Garden, 15 miles of walks, 8 miles of driveways, etc., the entire cost up to 1921 being $4,496,801. There are also within the City limits 964 acres of Metropolitan parks and parkways under State control, chief of which is Stony Brook Reservation in West Roxbury, containing 464 acres of wild forested hill and dale with many rocky knolls and an extensive view of the Charles River valley and beyond.

Number of public indoor baths open all the year, 14; 9 beach baths and 7 floating baths open during summer; indoor gymnasias, 11; total number of indoor baths taken in year 1921, 1,527,171, of which 74.3 per cent were by men and boys.

Park Department maintenance for 1921-22 (including Cemetery Division), $1,366,048 or $63,260 less than in 1920. Outlay for playground improvements, $72,885; for park improvements, $394,748, of which $254,575 was from Parkman Fund income. Gross debt for parks, public grounds, etc., outstanding February 1, 1922, $9,681,050; for playgrounds, $2,224,300; total, $11,905,350 or $794,250 less than in 1921. By Chap. 13, Ord. 1920, the Cemetery Department was merged with the Park Dept., the latter title being substituted for Park and Recreation Department.

Including the State assessments of $948,310 for Metropolitan parks, boulevards, etc., and $238,073 for Charles River Basin improvements, the total expended for public recreation purposes in 1921 was $2,903,689 or $82,782 more in 1920.

Total valuation of City properties devoted to recreation $69,306,900 (including $55,112,400 for Boston Common and Public Garden), which far exceeds that of any other American city except New York.

NO POSSIBILITY OF STATLER HOTEL FOR BOSTON YET.

Mayor Curley received the following letter May 6 from Mr. E. M. Statler:

DEAR MR. CURLEY,—Your wire to Buffalo has just been received by me here. Unfortunately a change in the building height now would only result in putting us to added expense in having to prepare new plans and would in no way relieve the situation, as the problem is not one of more rooms,—which only could be gotten from increased height,—but is a question of excessive costs of site, building, equipment, taxes, operating costs, etc., which, as a whole, make the returns or profits wholly inadequate or doubtful on so large an investment.

I am afraid—from the experience and statistics we have before us—that until conditions radically change or relief of some kind be given, Boston will not be able to get for many years what she so badly needs, namely, a splendid, large, modern, up-to-date hotel.

Sincerely yours,
E. M. STATLER.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 526.

The resignation of Patrolman Harold F. Alexander of Division 9 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Thursday, May 1, 1924, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 527.

A trial board consisting of Captains Driscoll, McConnell and Laffey having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Edward J. Carroll of Division 7, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Edward J. Carroll was, on April 19, 1924, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on April 19, 1924, to the said Edward J. Carroll.

On the twenty-third day of April, 1924, the said Edward J. Carroll requested in writing a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Monday, April 28, 1924, at 2.30 o'clock p. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner, as the time and place for said hearing and duly notified the said Edward J. Carroll.

The said Edward J. Carroll was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner finds the said Edward J. Carroll guilty as charged, and further finds that the said Edward J. Carroll shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 528.

A trial board consisting of Captains McConnell, Kneeland and Laffey having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John J. Coffey of Division 5, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, neglect of duty and being absent without leave, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman John J. Coffey was, on April 26, 1924, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on April 26, 1924, to the said John J. Coffey.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 529.

A trial board consisting of Captains Driscoll, Hickey and McConnell having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Martin A. Keeley of Division 9, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Martin A. Keeley perform one hundred and forty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

MAYOR RENEWS EFFORT TO GET STATLER HOTEL HERE.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram May 5:

Mr. E. M. Statler, Pennsylvania Hotel, New York, N. Y.:

The Central Labor Union of Boston published a statement in the Press on Saturday, May 3, which would indicate that prevailing wage schedules are not likely to be subject to a reduction for many years.

Boston is extremely desirous that you construct a hotel here and I believe I voice the prevailing sentiment of the people of our city when I state that not only is the city prepared to aid in every way that is legal, but, in addition, the General Court, which will probably adjourn within two weeks, is not only sympathetic but desirous of aiding Boston and you in the present predicament.

It is possible that the recently enacted height limit on buildings, namely 155 feet, might be extended in the case of the Statler Hotel to 200 feet provided that would be sufficient inducement to warrant your beginning construction at once.

In the event that this proposition is sufficiently meritorious to justify you in going ahead with your building program, wire me at once and the necessary bill will be drafted for submission to the Legislature.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR SEEKS NOTED AIR MEET FOR BOSTON.

Mayor Curley has been earnestly requested by Mr. F. P. Lahm, chairman of the international air races of 1925, including the Pulitzer races, and who is prominently associated with the National Aeronatic Association of the United States at Washington, to have Boston compete as a site for these noted international events. Chairman Lahm is particularly anxious that the safety of the course that Boston could offer from the airport in East Boston shall be clearly outlined, especially the arrangement of a triangular course, with three separate legs of 50 kilometers.

The committee on the races must be assured that all courses will be arranged over open territory and of such nature that forced landings upon the part of the aviators can be made without undue hazard to the pilots.

Landing fields should be approximately one mile square, perfectly level, well drained, and with ample hangar facilities. Hotel accommodations, facilities for reaching the field, the roads approaching the site of the races, and the ability of car lines to handle the traffic are also necessary requisites.

Mayor Curley has requested Porter H. Adams, chairman of the Municipal Air Board, and his associates to make careful study of the availability of Boston as a site for the proposed races, and the excellent conditions attending the airport in East Boston, in the event that Boston's participation in the race competition may be assured at an early date. The site of the international races will be announced soon after July 1, 1924.

MAYOR OPPOSES YOUNGMAN LOAN PLAN FOR SCHOOL.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement over the telephone concerning his opposition to the petition of Senator Youngman for a loan, outside of the debt limit, for replacing the Bennett School, destroyed by fire.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Pakulski was directed to appear in opposition to the bill. The Mayor believed that the policy adopted in 1916, during his previous administration, of constructing school buildings out of the tax levy, rather than by bond issue, should be continued, and any authorization by bond issue for school construction or replacement, no matter how meritorious, would be destructive of the pay-as-you-go policy now in effect. The adoption of this policy in 1916 has resulted in the appropriation of over $15,000,000 for new buildings out of the tax levy, that otherwise would have been reflected in the increased debt of the city. The Mayor indicated that during his administration there would be no variation of this policy.

MAYOR SUBMITS BUDGET OF $38,726,261, TO COUNCIL.

Asking $38,726,261, Mayor Curley sent his new city and county budget to the City Council Monday, May 5. The Committee on Finance took it up Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. The budget is an increase of $2,319,079 over last year's. Wage and salary increases make up about half of this sum.

Should the Council pass the budget as it stands, thirteen city departments will get increases over last year's allowances and seven departments will receive less. Of these last, General Dunn of the Soldiers' Relief Department estimates that his work can be carried on with a reduction of $48,522 from last year. This is the largest cut.

The Public Works Department calls for $700,000 more than last year, due to its extended activities. The Fire Department asks $316,000 more, due to the two-platoon system.

The City Hospital needs $335,000 more than last year, and the Park Department $267,000.

On account of the several elections occurring this year, the Election Department requests $92,000 more than it did last year. The Library Department wants $49,000 more; the Police Department's bill is $113,000 greater, and the Public Buildings Department needs $51,000 more.

For the Boston Sanatorium, the Collecting and City Planning Departments the bill for each this year will be about $20,000 greater than that of last year.

The budget as it now stands shows a decrease from last year's appropriations for the Boston Conservation Bureau of $15,000, for the Finance Commission of $10,000, and for much smaller amounts for the Art, Auditing and Budget Departments. City Council proceedings this year will cost $530 less than last year's total, it appears.

The county budget shows the customary heavy increase, being $251,919 greater than last year's total. The Superior Court, Criminal Session, is to cost $62,000 more, and the Registry of Deeds $25,000 more.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY BROWNING'S WORKS EXHIBITION.

To commemorate the 112th anniversary of Robert Browning's birthday, there is now at the Boston Public Library an exhibition of the autograph letters and first editions of the poet's works. The exhibition is arranged in the Barton Room, where the library of the Boston Browning Society is deposited. Most of the books now shown belong to this large and valuable collection.

The most valuable — and indeed unique — object in the exhibition is an album of caricatures, sketched by the poet "whilst lost in thoughts." There are twenty-nine examples of these highly amusing drawings, most of which are illustrations of clever puns. It might be said that they are most characteristic of Browning's comical vein, as revealed in many of his paradoxical poems. These little good-humored caricatures bring the poet even nearer to us; they show him in his simple, joking mood.

The collection is very rich in first editions. The "Paraceleous" (1835), "Strafford" (1837), the Poems (1849), "Christmas Eve and Easter Day" (1850), "Men and Women" (1855), "Dramatis Personæ" (1864), "The Ring and the Book" (1868-69), are all represented in first editions, including the first American, and especially the first Boston editions. Some of the more recent publications are richly illustrated.

The Browning collection at the library, together with the works of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, comprises over 700 items. It is very rich in rare copies, but its distinguishing feature is its wealth in reference works, in critical, biographical and expository studies. The collection reflects the love and studious labor of the Browning Society of Boston, which has brought it together in the course of many years. This is eminently a working collection; and, being in daily use, is a great help to students.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for authority:

To scarify and grade Old road, between Columbia road and Glenway street, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,500.

To scarify and grade Mt. Vernon street, between Charles street and Charles River Parkway, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,500.

SEEK DISCHARGE OF CITY EMPLOYEE.

Claiming that Frank E. Magullion, a city employee, did work also for an insurance company while he was a rodman in the Street Laying-Out Department, the Finance Commission, in a report to Mayor Curley recommended that Magullion be discharged and that the money he received be recovered. He is said to have entered the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company on September 29, 1919, without informing that concern that he was on the municipal pay roll.

Mayor Curley returned the report with the following letter:

BOSTON, May 6, 1924.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, 410-416 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—Upon receipt of report this day in the case of one of the sixteen thousand city employees whom it is charged collected wages unlawfully, I am returning the communication received, as the usual expected and customary blunder has been made again by your commission.

The employee in question, according to the report received this day, if true, accepted of an outside position in September, 1919, and it is a reflection upon the sleuthing powers of your smelling department that this double dealing was not discovered and made public under the administration of my predecessor, where it originated.

Upon inquiry I find that this city employee served the nation during the World War and in conformity with the provisions of chapter 31, section 26, of the General Laws, his case must be passed upon by the City Council rather than the Mayor.

The indications are that the General Court will shortly prorogue, and the Governor having failed to reappoint you as yet, I am returning the communication to you in this case so that your action and recommendation may have proper judicial flavor and be in accordance with statute provisions.

Yours truly,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Joseph Rugo has been allowed to amend his contract for erecting and completing the John L. Motley Addition, Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester, by striking out the words, "a special bond in the sum of 50 per cent of the cost of the roofing will be required, guaranteeing the roof for a period of twenty years from the completion of the work," as set forth in section 3, page 29, paragraph (V), and inserting in lieu thereof the guaranty of the New England Felt Roofing Company covering the above work for a period of twenty years from the date of completion of the contract.

MAYOR WINS APPROVAL IN HIS DEMAND FOR NEW HARVARD BRIDGE.

Mayor Curley was heartily commended for his address before the House Ways and Means Committee on the matter of a new bridge on the Charles river at Massachusetts avenue, which would add to the beauty of the basin.

The Mayor made the point that Boston, which will pay the larger share of the cost of the bridge, is entitled to have some voice in the form it is to take. No one regrets that the new West Boston Bridge adds to the beauty of the basin, he said, even though it probably cost more than an ordinary steel span.

He still believes in the plan to erect an island in the middle of the basin, on which to erect an impressive World War Memorial, but if the Legislature will not approve the island suggestion he favors the Andrews plan, for a new bridge, with small promontories at either end, for under passes.

"This city of ours is going to endure," he said, "and I don't know anybody that wants to go backward, unless it is the commission that wants to patch a bridge connecting the city with two of the greatest educational institutions in the world, Harvard and the Institute of Technology. It would certainly be a strange contribution to the institution founded for the purpose of increasing the store of mechanical and scientific knowledge in the world to have as an approach to it a patched up bridge such as this commission and a committee of the Legislature has proposed."

The Mayor's views were echoed by practically all the architects who spoke, including H. J. Carlson, R. Clipston Sturgis, C. Howard Walker and Edward Hoyt. Several persons interested in rowing, including Coach Stevens of the Harvard varsity, opposed the promontory idea.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE
EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

WATCHMEN, GATEMEN, GUARDS AND PRISON OFFICERS, MAY 15, 1924.

This examination will be held for the service of the state and all cities and such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. This service includes watchmen and guards in public parks, grounds, institutions and departments, gatemen for ferries; turnkeys and guards in prisons, houses of detention and reformatories.

Applicants for appointment as officers in the State Prison and Massachusetts Reformatory must be not less than twenty-five and not over forty years of age at the time of filing application. Applicants for appointment as officers in Prison Camp and Hospital must be not less than twenty-three nor over forty years of age at the time of filing application. All applicants for these places must be not less than 5 feet 7 inches in height and weigh not less than 135 pounds. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the applications for this service.

There are no age, height or weight limits for watchman service other than those mentioned above.

The examination for watchmen, gatemen and guards will be as follows: Training and experience, 6; memory test, 1; arithmetic, 1; handwriting, 1; accuracy, 1; total, 10.

The examination for prison officers will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions covering general disciplinary and penological methods, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants who pass the examination for prison officers will, upon request, also be placed on the list for watchmen.

Successful applicants will be given a physical examination.

FIRST ASSISTANT ASSESSOR, BOSTON,
MAY 20, 1924.

The salary is $1,600 a year. There are four vacancies.

The duties of this position are approximately as follows: The City of Boston is divided into districts for assessing purposes. Each first assistant assessor has charge of a district. Beginning April 1 it is his duty to examine all real property and all tangible personal property in his district and put a fair valuation thereon for tax purposes. This generally takes from six to eight weeks. During the period after May 15, which is the completion of the street work, the assessors are in daily sessions at a dooming board until about August 1. From about the first of October to the first of January the first assistant assessors are required to give about one day a week for hearings in regard to abatement of taxes in their district. It is desirable that applicants should have a good general knowledge of real estate matters, with experience in buying and selling, and that they should be good judges of value, both of improved and unimproved real estate. A knowledge of tax laws is also desirable, as is experience as a builder or ability to judge value of new buildings. There is no objection to the assessors having other employment in their spare time.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions, 3; personality and fitness as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience, at least 50 per cent in practical questions, and at least 65 per cent in the oral interview and in general average in order to become eligible.

DENTISTS, MAY 21, 1924.

This examination is for the service of the state, all cities in the state and such towns as are classified under civil service. From the eligible list established as a result of this examination names will be certified to fill vacancies in institutions, schools and other positions as they occur. The salaries range from $1,000 to $1,400 per year.

Applicants are required to be registered to practise dentistry under the Board of Dental Examiners, Department of Civil Service and Registration.

The examination will consist of the filing of a statement of training and experience. The mark given on experience will be combined with the mark given applicants by the State Board of Dental Examiners, and an average will be taken to determine their standing on the list.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

JANITORS, MAY 23, 1924.

This examination will be held for the service of the state and all cities and such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. There are several vacancies at the present time.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 5; practical questions on the duties of the position, 5; total, 10. Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in practical questions. Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

ELECTRICAL DRAUGHTSMAN FOR BOSTON
SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT, MAY 26,

The salary is $1,500 a year.

Applicants should have a general knowledge of building construction on first, second and third class buildings, be able to draw and lay out electrical plans and to read building plans, have a working knowledge of electricity, both on low tension (bells, clocks, telephones and fire alarm) and on light and power circuits, a knowledge of the rules governing electrical installations as issued by the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters and the Fire Department, Wire Division, of the City of Boston, and sufficient information, both electrical and educational, to write out specifications for electrical work of various kinds in an intelligent manner.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 3; practical questions on the duties of the position, 2; total, 5.

Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience and in general average in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

COAL INSPECTOR, SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES, BOSTON, MAY 26, 1924.

The salary is $1,800 a year.

Applicants should have a general knowledge of the laws relating to the sale of coal in Massachusetts and the general laws relative to coal, and should have a knowledge of the qualities of various grades of coal, the testing, mining, and shipping of coal, etc.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; arithmetic, 2; report, 1; practical questions on the duties of the position, 3; total, 10.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

INSPECTOR OF DAIRY PRODUCTS, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, DIVISION OF DAIRYING, MAY 27, 1924.

Requisition is for a male, but the examination is open to both males and females.

The salary is $5 per day. The duties of this position are to inspect and investigate the methods and conditions of production, manufacture, handling, sampling, branding, transportation and sale of dairy products and imitation dairy products for the purpose of enforcing the laws relating thereto. It is desirable that applicants have a knowledge of the oleomargarine and dairy laws, and have had dairy farm and creamery experience.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions on the duties of the position, 3; personality and fitness as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience and in the oral interview, at least 50 per cent in practical questions and at least 65 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

For Rapid Transit debt requirements, $1,583,494. Total extraordinary, $7,017,170 or $1,327,097 more than in 1920-21. Of the 1921 loans, the amount expended within the same fiscal year was $3,715,223 or 67.92 per cent.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, April 28, 1924.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., President DONOGHUE in the chair and all the members present.

EXPENDITURE OF PARKMAN FUND INCOME.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith communication of Park Commission and order providing for the expenditure and distribution of income of the Parkman Fund now available.

The driveway at present in use at Franklin Park is but twenty feet in width and constitutes a menace both to operators of motor vehicles and pedestrians. It was originally constructed to provide for horse-drawn pleasure vehicles, which no longer obtain in large numbers upon our highways. It is necessary, provided that the public are to be afforded an opportunity to enjoy the Park System that suitable roadways be provided and for this purpose the sum of $53,000 is made available.

The sum of $10,000 is provided for grading and drainage of athletic field in the Fenway; bleachers with accommodation for seating 2,000 have been provided, in this section of the city where so many educational and scientific institutions are located, and where the number of students in attendance is in excess of 7,000.

The sum of $20,000 is provided for a system of amplifiers and radio equipment at the Parkman Bandstand in order that a larger number of persons may be privileged to enjoy the summer concerts and outdoor exercises which from time to time are held under the auspices of the city. It is estimated that through the adoption of the system of broadcasting of Sunday concerts opportunity may be afforded for 400,000 persons to enjoy a musical concert, which, under present conditions, is seldom patronized by more than 3,000 persons.

In view of the possible advantages that may result from the adoption of the program as submitted by the Park Commission I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, April 25, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to appropriate from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $83,000, which is now available, as follows:

Boston Common, Improvements: For amplification and radio equipment at the Parkman Bandstand.....	$20,000
Fens, Improvements: For grading, drainage, etc., in the Athletic Field in the Fens.....	10,000
Franklin Park, Reconstructing Road, etc.: For improvements at Franklin Park, including the construction of a driveway from Forest Hills street to Columbia road and the completion of the Greeting.....	53,000
	$83,000

Very truly yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

Ordered, That the sum of $83,000 be and hereby is appropriated from the income of the Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Boston Common and Public Garden, Improvements	$20,000
Fens, Improvements	10,000
Franklin Park, Reconstructing Roads, etc.	53,000

Referred to the Executive Committee, on motion of Coun. Brickley.

VETO—DEPUTY SOLDIERS' RELIEF COMMISSIONERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to return, without my approval, the amendment to the ordinances adopted by your honorable body under date of April 21, making provision for the appointment of two deputy commissioners of soldiers' relief.

I have conferred with the commissioner and it is his opinion that an additional deputy would be superfluous and represent an expense that is both unwarrantable and unjustifiable.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

APPROPRIATION FOR BOSTON SANATORIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 24, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The trustees of the Boston Sanatorium have submitted a communication, a copy of which is herewith appended. I cannot too strongly emphasize the importance of providing the funds necessary to combating tuberculosis.

I have a profound realization of how great the demand is for municipal improvements of every character but there is no improvement that approaches in importance that which has for its importance the conservation of public health.

The City Council, in response to a recent recommendation, made an appropriation of $150,000 for the erection of an out-patient department building for the Boston Sanatorium. A site has been selected, the properties taken, the plans drafted by the architect, and they find now that $100,000 additional will be necessary to complete the work. I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Boston Sanatorium,
Boston, April 23, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Last year the Boston Sanatorium Trustees were given the sum of $150,000 with which they were instructed to build an out-patient department.

After investigation, they arrived at the conclusion that this building should be centrally located and within the present hospital atmosphere. Accordingly, land was taken at the corner of Harrison avenue and East Concord street, and the owners of buildings already existing there were recompensed from the sum of $150,000. Subsequently, plans for the new building were drawn by Messrs. Maginnis & Walsh. These plans, when pushed to completion, will, in the judgment of the trustees, cover the needs of the city so far as the ambulant tuberculosis sufferer or suspected sufferer is concerned for many years.

They will give the Boston Sanatorium a unity of organization that it needed but which it never enjoyed. In addition to the ordinary out-patient needs which we have now, the installation of an X-ray equipment is deemed necessary. This will make for speedier and more certain diagnosis.

Children early in tuberculosis or living in a tuberculosis environment who need surgical treatment for large or diseased tonsils and obstructive adenoid growths will be treated speedily and under satisfactory surroundings never possible previously.

In other words, a real comprehensive grasp of the situation demands the acceptance of the plans submitted, which embrace these different features.

The amount already appropriated will be insufficient to warrant our proceeding along such definite lines.

The trustees, therefore, would respectfully petition you for a further grant of $100,000 so that they may carry on this work to a successful issue.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN F. O'BRIEN,
Chairman.

Ordered, That an additional sum of $100,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium for the establishment of an out-patient building, and that to meet said appropriation, the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPORT FROM CITY PLANNING BOARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith report received from the City Planning Board, the same constituting a reply to the order adopted by your Board under date of April 14, which is here appended.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City Planning Board,
Boston, April 24, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In answer to your letter of April 15, regarding the problem dealing with the increasing demand for "white ways" in various sections of the city and especially in connection with that suggested on Centre and South streets, from Pond street to the Arborway, the City Planning Board desires to point out certain general facts and also existing conditions in this special locality.

Centre street, from Pond street to the monument at South street is already well lighted. From this point along South street to the Arborway no conduits for lighting purposes exist, the lamps being served by overhead wires. The installation of a "white way" on this portion of South street, therefore, would be unduly expensive as it would necessitate the tearing up of the street and the placing of conduits, in addition to the expense of the lamps and posts for the "white way." Figures of the cost for this suggested improvement are being prepared at the present time by the Public Works Department.

In several instances in the city proper where "white ways" have already been established either the whole or a greater part of the expense has been borne by the merchants and residents along the line. In local districts out of the general heart of the city, it is a different type of locality that would receive service from "white ways." If the residents and merchants in these local districts are willing to bear the greater part of the expense in establishing "white ways" in their neighborhood, the city might co-operate in this extra service, but if the whole burden of expense is to fall on the city a precedent is established that may, and probably will, be repeated in untold demands.

It is the opinion of the City Planning Board, therefore, that unless the residents and merchants in local districts are willing to bear the greater part of the expense, the establishment of "white ways" in local districts are an expense which the city is not warranted in assuming.

Respectfully submitted,

THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

SALE OF CITY LAND, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith report of the municipal auctioneer, also the report of the chairman of the Board of Assessors, with reference to the sale of properties of the City of Boston which were recently advertised for sale at public auction.

The parcel of land located on Alford street, Charlestown, was offered for sale at public auction on March 19, 1924, but no bids were received. In the opinion of the municipal auctioneer, this was due to the fact that the upset price established by the city was excessive.

I accordingly forward the consideration of your honorable body an order providing for the sale of the property in question at a price which the chairman of the Board of Assessors believes equitable.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city to sell at public auction at an upset price of $13,000 a parcel of land on Alford street, Charlestown district, containing 67,671 square feet, more or less, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

The following letter also refers to the two following messages.

Boston, April 17, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley.

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permit me to make the following report in regard to sales held of city property: Alford street land in Charlestown was not sold. There were no bids received. The upset price was $20,300.

41-45 Arch street, brick building, was not sold. There were no bids received. The upset price was $160,000.

Seaver street land, near Harold street, Roxbury, was not sold. There were no bids received. The upset price was $1,600.

East Ninth street land, South Boston, was sold for $2,600. The upset price was $2,000.

These parcels were liberally advertised and the sales were well attended. Might I be permitted to say that I think the upset price was the reason that I received no bids, it being the consensus of opinion that the properties were listed too high. Awaiting your pleasure allow me to remain

Very respectfully yours,

EDWARD W. FOYE,

Municipal Auctioneer and Appraiser.

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith report of the municipal auctioneer, also the report of the chairman of the Board of Assessors with reference to the sale of properties of the City of Boston which were recently advertised for sale at public auction.

The property located at 41-45 Arch street, Boston proper, was offered for sale at public auction on March 26, 1924, but no bids were received. In the opinion of the municipal auctioneer, this was due to the fact that the upset price established by the city was excessive.

I accordingly forward for the consideration of your honorable body an order providing for the sale of the property in question at a price which the chairman of the Board of Assessors believes equitable.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction at an upset price of $135,000, the property numbered 41-45 Arch street, city proper, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 28, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith report of the municipal auctioneer, also the report of the chairman of the Assessing Department, with reference to the sale of properties of the City of Boston which were recently advertised for sale at public auction.

The parcel of land located on Seaver street, near Harold street, Roxbury district, was offered for sale at public auction on March 21, 1924, but no bids were received. In the opinion of the municipal auctioneer, this was due to the fact that the upset price established by the city was excessive.

I accordingly forward for the consideration of your honorable body an order providing for the sale of the property in question at a price which the chairman of the Board of Assessors believes equitable.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction at an upset price of $800, a parcel of land on Seaver street, near Harold street, Roxbury district, containing 1,643 square feet, more or less, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

LEGISLATION FOR THOMAS F. DENNING..

President DONOGHUE offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors legislation for the reinstatement of Thomas F. Denning in the Public Works Department of the City of Boston.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 2.44 o'clock p. m., on motion of the President, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 4.35 o'clock p. m.

JITNEYS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Committee on Jitneys, submitted the following, viz:

1. Report on petition of Jacob B. Herman (referred today), for license to operate jitneys from Upham's Corner to Mattapan square—that a license be granted.
Report accepted; license granted.

2. Report on petition of Boston Elevated Railway Company (referred March 3) for a license to operate jitneys on High and other streets—that a license be granted.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and granting the permission asked for.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I cannot vote for this proposition, because it means added congestion in a territory that is very congested today. I cannot see the necessity of putting the buses on, either. The Street Commissioners are endeavoring to remedy congestion in our streets and to take hold of the traffic problem, and here we are voting to add to it in Batterymarch street, High street, Franklin street, Hawley street and Summer street. Today in the busy hours it is absolutely prohibitive for an automobile to move in that territory, and I certainly cannot vote for this proposition, although I realize that in all probability it will receive sufficient votes to pass. I do desire, however, to go on record as to so casting my vote as to attempt to relieve congestion of traffic in Boston.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I appreciate the councilor's difficulty, and I wish to say that the chairman of the Street Commissioners in the hearing before the committee stated that the congestion in the downtown section would not be appreciably affected by the granting of this permission. One more bus in ten minutes would not appreciably affect the traffic and this is a thing that will help the people coming from Orient Heights to Boston by the Revere Beach & Lynn route in the ferry boats.

Coun. MORIARTY—Do you believe that the chairman of the Street Commissioners recommendation should have some weight here?

Coun. HEALEY—Why, as in the case of the chairman of the Park Department, Mr. President, of course, I have absolute confidence in the chairman of the Street Commission.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I desire at this time to reiterate what I said at the hearing, that I did not think the opinion of the chairman of the Street Commissioners was particularly valuable as enunciated in his statement to the effect that there would be no appreciable addition to the congestion by putting on these buses. These buses will carry twenty-two people each. They are much broader, broader by 3 or 4 feet, than any automobile, and broader than any truck. They will be operated by a man in front and nobody at the back to see what is going on in the rear. All told, I am satisfied, with my understanding and knowledge of traffic conditions in Boston, that the addition of these twenty-two-seated buses on such a line or lines as we have indicated here will add to congestion tremendously. I think the addition to the congestion will be very noticeable, notwithstanding the fact that the chairman of the Street Commissioners is presumed to know something about traffic problems.

The report was accepted and leave was granted, Coun. WATSON stating that he desired to register his vote as in the negative.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today), for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits be granted, viz:

Mary Sullivan, Steinert Hall, May 23.
Gertrude Murphy, South Boston Municipal Building, May 23.
Lilla Viles Wyman, Mechanics Building, May 10.

Maybelle Lyman, Fine Arts Theater, May 6.
Ralph W. Taylor, Fine Arts Theater, May 2.
Anne R. Nickerson, Roslindale Municipal Building, May 12.

Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) accepting chapter 282, Acts of 1924, for payment of a sum of money to the parents of James O'Malley—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

3. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today), for appropriation of $83,000 from income of Parkman Fund—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

4. Report on order (referred March 24) to include Cambridge Bridge employees in retirement system—that the order ought to pass.

Coun. HEALEY in the chair.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I want to reiterate what I had to say when this matter came before the Council at a previous session, that I feel that we should not perpetuate the placing of these residents of Cambridge on the backs of the citizens of Boston by including them in this retirement fund. All of you here realize, the same as I do, that we do not have a fair proportion of the men who are working on those bridges among the citizens of Boston. Probably twenty-one of them live in Cambridge and four or five of them live in Boston. Yet they go to the Legislature and ask the Legislature to saddle this expense on the taxpayers and citizens of Boston. Of course, the Legislature agrees, because they have done everything possible to injure our city while the Republican party has been in control on Beacon Hill. I feel that it is an outrageous piece of procedure for the members of this Council to accept any such act. If those interested in this legislation were sincere in their attitude toward the residents of our city, they would have seen to it that an order was submitted to the Legislature providing that the city of Cambridge would take care of its own citizens working on these bridges while Boston might be expected to take care of its citizens under the retirement act. But under this act, which was voted for by the Legislature, we are expected to pay from now until such time as they cease to work for the city of Cambridge men who reside in the city of Cambridge. We are expected to pay salaries of residents of Cambridge, and also to pay out amounts for them under the retirement fund, as well as making payments for citizens of Boston. I am absolutely and unqualifiedly opposed to paying the salary of any resident of any other section of our state than the City of Boston. I do not believe there is a member of this Council who would dare stand on a public platform and admit that he had voted to saddle onto the backs of the taxpayers and citizens of Boston the salaries of residents of Cambridge. There has been too much of this sort of thing going on. We now have on our pay roll men who live in our section, and whom we are supposed and are willing to take care of; but I believe, with the unemployment that exists today, with citizens of Boston walking the streets looking for work, such legislation as proposed here is a most outrageous thing, and it is a particularly outrageous thing to come in here and ask the Council to vote for any such proposition. I hope the Council will see the matter as I do and that they will remember the things they say to the people when they ask for their votes on election day, that they are interested primarily in the affairs of the citizens of our city, that they believe whatever positions there are here should be held by the residents of our city, and that they will not under any circumstances vote to saddle onto the backs of our people persons living in Cambridge or any other section of the state, having the people of Boston pay their salaries. We claim to believe in home rule for Boston, and this would simply mean saying that we do not believe in what we say we believe in, that we are not practicing what we preach, that we are not carrying out what we say is our position when we take office. I believe we should defeat this legislation and that we should state clearly that if there are any positions to be given out in this city we have citizens of Boston to take them. What are the conditions in Cambridge? There is some man over there by the name of Smith, who in connection with our Public Works Commissioner, and under this two-headed commission, turns whatever jobs offer themselves on the bridges over to Cambridge men. John Scully, who is directing that work, hires Cambridge men. A Cambridge man sent in by Mr. Smith is put to work on these jobs, while a man from Boston, the city which pays half the expense of these bridges, when sent to him is not even considered. I certainly think that this is a thing which should be remedied, that it is a condition which should not exist, and the way to stop it practically is to vote against the proposition here today. When men from Cambridge come over here to whip the Council into line to vote for a thing of this sort, it is high time that we resented such interference from outside. We are intelligent enough to know the situation. We represent the citizens of Boston, and I think they are watching the Council in this matter. We have been preaching home rule since I have been here, and when a matter like this comes up we see these continual attempts to drive us into line to vote for pernicious pieces of legislation. I hope the matter will be defeated, and I ask that the roll be called.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I feel that there is a lot of merit in some of the things that the last speaker has said. Personally, however, I am willing to take the responsibility when I go on record on any vote here. We are in a very unfortunate position here, in so far as some of the residents of our city are concerned. We are put in that position because the pension bill when it was drawn up was drawn up by the Finance Commission, and we find that the Finance Commission did not take care of all the citizens of Boston who are employed by the City of Boston and paid by the City of Boston. We find that unfortunately there are four or five of those men working in this part of the Bridge Department. In so far as our pension act is concerned, unless we take favorable action Boston men employed upon the Boston and Cambridge bridges will not come under the pension system, and any Boston resident so named tomorrow in the employ of the Boston and Cambridge Bridge Division, will not be entitled to get compensation from the city. Unfortunately, the Public Works Commissioner now and those who have served in the past have not protected the citizens of the City of Boston as they should have done. If this bill is defeated here we are penalizing five citizens of Boston at least and saying that, notwithstanding the fact that we have accepted a pension act to take care of city employees, we forgot about them and that they can paddle their own canoe. I, as an elective member of this Council, feel that if the only way to pension those men is to carry along other men on the Cambridge bridges, we are doing as we ought to do. There was a legislative act passed that was to be accepted by either this government or some other government elected by residents of Boston, if it was to go into effect. The Boston and Cambridge Bridge Commission were excepted. We are not responsible for that, and if they have not acted right in the protection of all the residents and all the employees of Boston, it is now for us to protect them. There is only one way in which they can be protected now and that is by the acceptance of the act that is now before us. If we are doing an injustice to the City of Boston, we will only have to protect them from now until the first day of January, and then if it is the desire of any citizen of Boston to do so he may file a petition with the Massachusetts Legislature to amend the act that is now here for our acceptance and have the wording changed, so that, in so far as our pension system is concerned, pensions shall only go to those who are residents of Boston. But I believe, as far as the action of Boston is concerned, that those five men and their families are entitled to their protection. I agree that there have been many things saddled upon us. I want to say another thing, that I believe that the councilor who has just taken his seat in so far as the information he has received is concerned, may be correct. I want to say that the Scully Company does not employ only residents of Cambridge. It is a contracting firm and employs other than Cambridge residents. I don't know how the members of the Council are going to vote, but I am going to vote to accept the act, and I shall be glad to vote "yes" when my name is called, and I will be willing to go any place and answer for my vote.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I want to say in connection with this proposition that this is not the only way in which this matter can be handled. It is the way in which those who are desirous of saddling Cambridge residents onto the backs of the citizens of Boston desire that it shall be handled. Why did not those interested in the matter introduce an act into the Legislature to have only those who were residents of Boston taken under the Boston retirement act? They state to us that they introduced some sort of bill the year previous, and it was defeated, but when they introduced a bill taking in other than citizens of Boston it was passed by a Republican Legislature onto a Democratic city. I feel that nobody is going to be hurt by our defeating this proposition. This retirement act, in my opinion, is not the great thing that it was supposed to be, and I do not think that those men who come under the retirement act will receive any more benefit than if they did not come under it, in so far as the men who are working on the Boston and Cambridge Bridges are concerned. There are only five of them who are Boston men, and they will receive, as I understand it, the pension that goes to city laborers, and the matter can be handled in such a manner, without our placing upon the backs of our citizens other than residents of our own city. I am particularly keen about this matter because I believe thoroughly in what I preach, that every Boston job belongs to a Boston boy or a Boston girl, and I shall not under any circumstances vote to give a Cambridge resident a job which in my opinion belongs to a resident of our city. I shall be glad to vote against the proposition.

The order was passed, and the act accepted, yeas 7, nays 2, Coun. Donoghue and Watson voting nay.

FINANCE.

Coun. WATSON, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $100,000 for out-patient building, Boston Sanatorium—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

The order will be given its final reading not later than fourteen days from date.

2. Report on order (referred March 3) for loan of $500,000 for Hospital Buildings—that the order ought to pass.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, in voting for this appropriation for the City Hospital I desire to reserve my right to vote "no" when the question comes up for second reading. I say that understanding that in the loan order for $3,000,000 now before the Legislature there is a certain agreement that the Legislature is going to allow the City of Boston to borrow $2,000,000 outside of the debt limit, with the understanding that the other million can come from taxes within five years. I feel that if there is any certain understanding of that kind and this is going to interfere with it, I should reserve the right to vote "no" when the matter comes up for second reading.

Coun. HEALEY—The Chair would state he understands the bill to state that for every appropriation within a year the City Council must appropriate half the amount within the debt limit or outside the tax limit. But the thing has not passed, and I have put in that order so that the Mayor might perhaps send to the Council a veto and explain what he wants.

The report was accepted and the order was passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on communication from the justices of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston (referred April 7) as to salaries of probation officers—recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That the salaries of the deputy male and assistant male probation officers of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston, as fixed by the justices of said court, be at the rate of $2,800 per annum, to date from April 4, 1924, be and the same hereby are approved.

Report accepted; order passed.

GREAT WHITE WAY, SHAWMUT AVENUE.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of installing the Great White Way system of lighting in conjunction with the reconstruction of Shawmut avenue from Broadway to Roxbury street.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I ask for suspension of the rules. I am introducing that order at this time because I noticed in the papers during the last week that a contract has been let to resurface Shawmut avenue, from Broadway to Roxbury street, and I feel if that is going to be done it is going to make an improvement in the old South End district, and at the same time we might just as well install these new types of street lamps as wait until the street is completed and then dig up the new street that has been laid and install them later on.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

REPAIRING OF ELEVATED STRUCTURE.

President DONOGHUE offered an order—That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested to make some arrangement with their working force so that the repairing of the Elevated structure during the early morning hours shall be discontinued, and that this work be done in the daytime.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I ask for a suspension of the rule on this order. I am introducing that order with the realization that, possibly, it may not be practical to comply with it; but, however, I feel that the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company ought to make some provision whereby some of this work that is done on the Elevated structure along through the South End and Charlestown practically every night of the week from one o'clock until four or five o'clock in the morning could be done at some other time. If a gang of schoolboys started whistling after one o'clock they would be arrested if they did not stop. Still, the Boston Elevated can come through that district, which is comprised practically entirely of working people, and pound with sledges for four or five hours during the hours when people must sleep. I feel they ought to take into consideration the feelings of the people of the district in which I happen to live just as much as they take into consideration the feeling of people who live in any other section of the city, and that they ought to make some arrangements whereby this work can be done at some other time and not disturb the sleep, during the early morning hours, of the people in that district.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

The President called up No. 1, unfinished business, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 14 of constables authorized to serve civil process for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1924, as contained in Document 44.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Moriarty and Brickley. Whole number of ballots cast 9, yeas 8, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed with the exception of Saverio Di Donati and True William Hunt, which were laid on the table on motion of Coun. MORIARTY.

It was voted, on motion of Coun. BRICKLEY, to consider Nos. 2 and 3, unfinished business, viz.:

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 21, 1924, of minor officers paid by fees for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1924, as contained in Document 45.

3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 21, 1924, of Samuel Smith, John F. Halligan, George A. Borofski, Michael Russell, Charles F. Hanson, Atlante Campagna and Leopold Lepore, to be Constables.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Moriarty and Brickley. Whole number of ballots cast 9, yeas 8, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

LOAN FOR WILLIAM EUSTIS PLAYGROUND.

The President called up No. 4, unfinished business, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners for the extension and improvement of William Eustis Playground, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On March 18, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

Laid on the table, on motion of Coun. MORIARTY.

LOAN FOR PLAYGROUND, ROXBURY.

The President called up No. 5, unfinished business, viz.:

5. Ordered, That the sum of $85,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the Park Commission for the purpose of acquiring land for playground purposes in the vicinity of the Jefferson School, Roxbury, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On April 14, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 6, nays 0.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 6, nays 0, the vote being:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Moriarty, Purcell, Walsh, Watson—6.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I would like to ask if a member has the right to sit here and not vote on a loan order, as far as our laws are concerned, in the Council.

The PRESIDENT—Of course I do know that it has not been observed at the last several meetings.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I would like to find that out.

The PRESIDENT—Do you object to taking up No. 6 on the calendar in the meantime?

Coun. MORIARTY—No.

Later in the session Coun. MORIARTY rose on his request for information.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I asked for some information. I would like to be able to get it.

Chairman HEALEY—Perhaps the Clerk can give the information on that. I will ask Coun. Donoghue to take the chair.

President DONOGHUE in the chair.

President DONOGHUE—Rule 23 of the City Council says: "Every member who shall be present when a question is put, where he is not excluded by interest shall give his vote unless the council for special reasons shall excuse him. Application to be so excused on any question must be made before the council is divided, or before the calling of the yeas and nays; and such application shall be accompanied by a brief statement of the reasons, and shall be decided without debate."

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I feel that if any of the rules are worth anything then they are all worth something. I came in here about three weeks ago and I found the place very nice and clean—the seats taken out. I asked who did the job. The City Messenger informed me that he was carrying out the rules of the City Council. Nobody was to be allowed upon the floor of the Council other than members of the Council and those attached to the Council and the newspaper men. And that rule has been carried out for three weeks. If that rule is being carried out by the attaches of our department, then I believe that the rules in so far as they meant members of the Council, the rules pertaining to their limitations, should also be carried out, and I feel I am either against the proposition or I am for it. When it comes to voting you cannot be neutral. That is not what we were sent here for. We were sent here to vote either "yes" or "no" on all questions. If any member desires not to be recorded he has the right of not doing so; but on all questions members should be made to live up to the rules. And I request that hereafter on all votes that all members of the Council, on a roll call vote, if they are in the chamber, be compelled to vote either "yes" or "no" on all questions.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, what he says is right, but it is so easy to overcome the rule by walking out the door. The reason I did not vote on that loan order is because I could not feel right in letting the City of Boston get a ledge for a playground without plans being made by the Park Department as to the way they were going to fill in and lay out that particular part of the city for a playground. I think it was one of those orders that went through because it was a playground. More or less, every councilor feels that a vote against a playground puts him in bad with the people. If you insist on my voting, I will vote "no," because if there was ever a gold brick sold to the City Council for a playground that ledge is the gold brick. The city will wait a long, long time before they will lay that out and fill it in and blast those rocks that the business men could not get out of there when they were running it as a crusher. I know that it looks unusual for a man not to vote on some proposition, and it looks unusual to vote sometimes for a proposition. I would vote for almost anything for a playground, but I could not conceive of voting for a ledge, an unused ledge, for a playground, some parts of it 10 feet above the street and others 15 feet below the street. If the Park Department had brought in a general plan to lay that out, why, of course, I could have voted for it but there wasn't any general plan. They were simply going to buy the property. There was no general plan the same as there was in the Eustis Playground for bleachers and the running track, and there wasn't any letter from the Mayor saying exactly what they were going to do; and I thought that the nicest way and the best way and the most amicable way was to remain silent. But if the rules are put up to me, I would request the Council to allow me to vote "no" on that proposition, because while I will vote for playgrounds and for the improvement of all districts, I will never vote for a proposition such as was contained in that unused ledge property for playground purposes.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, a few weeks ago we had a number of loan orders which were introduced in the Council which more than exhausted the borrowing capacity of the city. Coun. Watson, at that time, and myself stated that we were unwilling to vote upon those propositions, not upon their merits as playgrounds or public improvements as such, but because the financial condition of the city would not permit the borrowing of that amount of money. We did not vote when those questions came up and I do not think that our motives were questioned at that time. On this present occasion there came a question also of a playground. I was unwilling to vote against giving the boys that district playground but, like Coun. Healey, I did not believe that that piece of property was adapted for use as a playground. Just as Coun. Healey has said, it is a ledge, in some places 10 feet above ground and in some places 15 feet below, and I believe it would take half a million dollars, which I do not think the city will ever expend, to make that playground fit for such use. Therefore, I thought the easiest way was not to vote; but, if I am transgressing the rules of the Council and it is demanded that I go on record, I, too, will vote against the order on the ground that the land is not fit for a playground and that it will take probably half a million dollars to make it such, and I do not believe that the city is in a position to expend, or that the Mayor and the Park Commissioners will feel like appropriating, that amount of money, and therefore, if they desire, I will vote against it.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I take an opposite view to the view of the last speaker. I do not propose to vote on a proposition before this Council unless I am reasonably certain that I am doing that which I should do. I believe it is absolutely incorrect, it is illogical and ridiculous to compel a man to vote on any proposition here on which he does not want to vote. There is no other branch in the country that does it. I think, probably, in the Legislature they do compel them to vote if they get them inside; but I do not think it is logical to compel me to vote on a proposition, for or against, if I feel I cannot vote either way and save my conscience. I shall refrain from voting regardless of the rules, and I know the only way you can get me to vote is by writ of mandamus. I am going to continue to reserve my vote, for or against, regardless of the rules of the Council.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am not interested in how Coun. Lane or Coun. Healey vote. They may vote "yes" or "no" as much as they want—I am not interested in that. You have a rule there. If the rule isn't any good, wipe it out. If everybody is going to do what he wants to do, I am going to bring some chairs in here if I have to bring them in myself, and I am going to say to the people, "Go ahead and sit in there," and I am going to tell the policemen to open the door and let them come in. If other people are going to do anything they want to in here, I believe I have that same right. If they see fit to break one rule, I have the same right to break the whole of them as they have to break one. So far as going on record is concerned, I do not care what they do. I do not care whether they vote. I did not bring up the point for that purpose. But I feel that hereafter any member of the Council who is in the chamber, on roll call, should be compelled to leave the chamber. That is his choice. Or he has the right to take that provision out of the rules. Of course, they would have to go to the Legislature and take it out of the charter, because I believe the same rule is in the charter. Now I do not want to criticize anybody for taking that right. I am not doing it because Coun. Lane did not vote today, or because Coun. Healey did not vote today. I am not taking it up for that reason. There isn't anybody in here that I am after or have any intentions of going after, but I feel if we are going to carry out one rule they should all be carried out. If that one is not going to be carried out, I think we ought to tear the rest of them up and throw them out the window.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I think he is absolutely right. I think we ought to run this Council with a rigid observance of the law. However, it will make a rather sad place for us to live in. There will be no smoking and other things, and there will be some puritanical methods of legislation here which are practically unheard of throughout the rest of the United States. I think everybody agrees that rules are made not to be broken but to be observed under the ordinary conditions of life. We know that. If all men acted right at all times, there would not be any necessity for any rules. But there are times when order may be obtained sometimes by nonobservance of rules and matters will reach a right end. I feel that it would have been much better for the standing of the Council if the statements which Coun. Lane and myself have made had not been made. I think it would have been better if the Council was not on record as having voted in favor of a rock pile for a playground. I did not want to make that statement. I have an honorable view of the standing of the Council. They have done pretty well in the last several years that I have been in here, and I did not like, naturally, to see a statement made that they so far forgot their observance of public comity, you might say, as to allow the Mayor or anybody else to put over this lot on them for a playground. I do not think that anybody that ever looked upon that lot would say that it is a proper place for children to play. Two or three hundred thousand cubic yards of filling will be required before it can be made suitable for playground purposes. At one time, I was in favor of giving a playground out there if they changed the wording of the act; instead of having "the lot adjoining the school," have it read "in the neighborhood of the school," but when the chairman of the Park Department said that the ledge was the place they were going to take for the playground, I said that is out of consideration, and so far as I was concerned I would not vote. I bow, of course, to my genial friend on the right, and I realize that we have been chastened somewhat by his statement that we have broken the rule.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, Coun. Healey has said much concerning the playground referred to as being a ledge. Now I will admit that, if there were other sites nearby, this particular site is not ideal; but he has rather exaggerated the condition concerning the so-called playground in the Jefferson School district. It is not a ledge. A part of it is not 15 feet below the surface and a part of it above the street. That particular section of the property facing on Heath street, on which the Jefferson School stands, is level with Heath street. The playground is about 10, 12 or 15 feet below Heath street but on a level with all the adjoining streets except Heath street. The entrance to the playground will not be from Heath street. It may be from Heath street but it will be by steps. It is not a ledge in the way portrayed by Coun. Healey. He has exaggerated it beyond reasonableness. It is not any such thing as he claims it is. If he had seen it at all, well, then, he would have exaggerated with his eyes wide open and would have seen that it is a tremendous exaggeration. The playground will not have to be filled in; it is very near down to grade now. It probably will have to have a surface in order to make it a decent playground, and perhaps to level, but it will take very little fill. Now, understand, I do not think it is the ideal place, but the Planning Board says it is O. K., the Park Department says it is O. K., and I know that there is no other locality there, no more large vacant land where a playground can be located. Consequently, I am satisfied that eventually, like all the playgrounds we have had, it will be a very good playground and will serve the purpose for which it has been taken. There has not been a playground taken in Boston that was not considered a poor taking and a ridiculous location. It is the development of it that makes the difference. Eventually, they will have a playground there which I believe will suit the needs and be a credit to the locality; and while I have no desire to enter into any debate concerning the proposition, I could not sit here and permit Coun. Healey to exaggerate the condition which he says exists there, and he certainly has exaggerated it beyond reason, and he knows it.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I voted for the so-called ledge, and I have no apologies to make to anybody. I wish it were possible to cut Franklin Park up and bring it in to the residential sections. Then we would have ideal playgrounds in every section. The masses of the people do not have the selection of the places where they live. Those were long ago selected by the real estate promoters of this town. The real estate promoters, some years ago, with the assistance of the Boston Elevated, introduced a bill in the Legislature to get the people out of all congested districts, to the outlying districts, and promised the people if they would go out in the outlying districts, where the Elevated was then running, that they would have a 5-cent fare for twenty-five years. That was the promise by a legislative act. But what do we find? We find out that after the people went out into those communities the act was changed; after they went out to God's country, then they were compelled to pay the 10-cent fare. In the congested districts where the masses live, sites are not available, with green grass on them as we see in many playgrounds like Franklin Field and Franklin Park. I will agree that if there was one of those places in the near neighborhood I would vote for it. But we had a petition here with 5,000 names on it, I am informed, of people desiring that specific playground be given to those people. That specific playground. The petition, as I understand, read "adjoining the Jefferson School." That is the only place available—adjoining the Jefferson School. So, while it did not say so in language, it meant it in reality; and if those 5,000 people in that district wanted a playground, I voted for it, and I hope to have the opportunity in my time here to vote for a lot more of them in that kind of community. Now, the councilor on my left said that he had great condence in a gentleman who sat here this afternoon—the chairman of the Park Department. The chairman, so far as my hearing is concerned, said that although the money now appropriated would not be sufficient, he thought by grading they would make a fairly good playground out of that, if I am using his language correctly. There isn't any misunderstanding on this matter here. I think I held it up when it was held up first. I asked the members of the Council to go and look at it. I think that is true. I thought from what I had heard that it was a ledge, and that it was being foisted on the city; but I got some information; I found out that there was a political uprising out there, that they were starting to use it against some one for election to political office and in favor of some political position, and I said I wasn't going to get mixed up in their fight, and I agreed to vote for it, and did vote for it. The only thing I hope is that it does not take as long to put it in shape as some of the other playgrounds for which the money has already been appropriated. We want it to go into something that has been bought for a playground. We appropriated $50,000 for Eagle Hill in East Boston. Was there anything more outrageous in spending $50,000 on Eagle Hill to make it a playground than there is for the Bleiler Playground?

Coun. HEALEY—I wasn't here then.
Coun. MORIARTY—Well, I was. I voted against it, not because I did not want to appropriate the money for Eagle Hill, but they were taking $50,000 from something which I had already put over. But, nevertheless, I think you agree with me that there were places in the near vicinity of Eagle Hill which were more adapted for playground purposes than Eagle Hill. So, to satisfy a community, I said all right. But I had no intention of bringing out the fact of making any criticism of Coun. Healey, or Coun. Lane, or Coun. Watson for not voting on any specific thing. My contention is this, that if the rule is there we should be compelled to live up to the rule.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman a question.

Coun. MORIARTY—I reserve the right to answer it or not.

Coun. WATSON—I would like to ask the gentleman whether he is acting in accordance with the rules by talking now when no order or anything is before the Council? Is he observing the rules?

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I will say in answer to that, that I am acting within my rights.

Coun. WATSON—With no motion before the house?

Coun. MORIARTY—And I say this with no criticism, that we elected a presiding officer to conduct our meetings, and he is supposed, when any member transgresses the rules, to enforce the rules.

Coun. WATSON—Absolutely.

Coun. MORIARTY—And if he has not enforced the rules, that is not my violation—that is his.

Coun. WATSON—Oh, no. You know you are violating the rules.

Coun. MORIARTY—I will say that, until the member called it to my attention, I did not realize that I was violating the rules.

Coun. WATSON—You realize it now?

Coun. MORIARTY—I do, yes.

Coun. WATSON—Well, let us adjourn.

Coun. MORIARTY—So, Mr. President, with all of them being out of order I will say that the member who asked me the question was continually out of order by talking to me while I was talking. As I say, I am not interested but I feel, with no feeling against the presiding officer, because the presiding officer was not in the chair when the vote was taken, so I couldn't have it against him, but I am going to say that as a member of the Council during the remainder of my term while I am here I am going to insist on every roll call that the vote not be declared until every member inside of the chamber is recorded as voting.

President DONOGHUE—The Chair might state that he stepped into the chair in the middle of this condition, and, of course, he realizes that a great deal of latitude has been taken, but it has been taken by all the members of the Council who have participated in the debate, and that includes practically everyone here; so, therefore, the Chair did not feel that he could shut off the trend of talk of the members. The Chair will now entertain a motion to reconsider matters acted upon today.

LOAN FOR PLAYGROUND, FOREST HILLS.

The President called up No. 6, unfinished business, viz.:

6. Ordered, That the sum of $17,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated for the establishment of a playground on Wachusett street, Forest Hills district, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On April 14, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, CHARLESTOWN.

The President called up No. 7, unfinished business, viz.:

7. Ordered, That the sum of $75,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the purchase of a site and preparation of plans for a Municipal Building, in the Charlestown district, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On April 14, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WATSON moved a general reconsideration on all matters transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 5.20 o'clock p. m. on motion of Coun. WATSON, to meet on Monday, May 5, at two o'clock p. m.

EXPENDITURES FOR SCHOOL MAINTENANCE PER CAPITA (RANKING FROM HIGHEST).

CITY OF BOSTON.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING FIRE HOSE TO THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Supply Department of the City of Boston invites proposals for furnishing to the Fire Department the following:

5,000 feet of 2½-inch double jacket fire hose,
3,000 feet of 3-inch double jacket fire hose, according to specifications. The bidder must use the form to be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex, and the successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the total amount of the bid with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts as surety for the faithful performance of the contract. CITY ADOPTS NEW AND NOVEL METHOD OF WARNING OWNERS AS TO IMPROVEMENTS.

USES TEAM AND HUGE SIGN TO NOTIFY SHAWMUT AVENUE PROPERTY OWNERS TO MAKE PLANS FOR GAS, WATER AND ELECTRICITY WHILE PAVING IS BEING DONE.

NEW METHOD ADOPTED BY PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT FOR NOTIFYING CITIZENS OF CONTEMPLATED STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

The above photograph shows a new scheme of notifying alutters and owners along a street which it is proposed to repave so that arrangements can be made for gas, electric, water and sewer connections or changes before the surface is finished and avoid digging up and retain for a longer period the unbroken pavement surface. This sign was paraded up and down Shawmut avenue for about four weeks.

The work on Shawmut avenue includes the replacement of the present pavement, from Castle street to Roxbury street, and comprises approximately 40,000 yards of bitulithic pavement on a 6-inch concrete base and 114,300 square feet of artificial stone sidewalks, one of the largest contracts awarded in this city for some time. The cost of the work, including the reconstruction of catch-basins, will be $230,000.

MAYOR CURLEY APPEALS TO SENATOR WALSH FOR CHEAPER COAL.

Mayor Curley on May 10 forwarded the following letter to Hon. David I. Walsh, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.:

Boston, May 10, 1924.

HON. DAVID I. WALSH, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.:

MY DEAR SENATOR,—I beg to forward herewith circular letter which the Staples Coal Company is sending to consumers of coal in Boston. The letter clearly indicates that the coal dealers propose to again gouge the public.

In the interest of this New England section of the United States where anthracite coal has long been a necessity because of the construction of the homes, I beg to suggest the advisability of governmental control of this great national necessity for the protection of the public from a system of pillage which in the past has been regularly conducted and which, if I read the communication I am forwarding you aright, will again be undertaken.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The following is a copy of the Staples Coal Company letter:

Boston, April 29, 1924.

We announce our opening prices on anthracite coal for delivery prior to July 1, in the City of Boston, as follows:

Broken, $15 per ton; egg, $15.50 per ton; stove, $15.50 per ton; nut, $15.50 per ton; pea, $12 per ton.

The price of hard coal at the mines for the month of April, 1924, is about 35 cents per ton higher than the price a year ago, and we have already been advised that the price will be further advanced on May 1. Our local operating costs have also advanced during the year. We therefore feel that the above prices are as low as can be expected this spring.

We solicit your orders for immediate delivery, and guarantee that should we make any lower prices for similar coal and delivery your price will be adjusted accordingly.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS FRED J. KNEELAND DEAD.

Funeral services for Fred J. Kneeland, Superintendent of Public Buildings for the City of Boston, who died suddenly in his office chair at City Hall Thursday morning were held from St. Andrew's Church, Jamaica Plain, this morning at 10 o'clock. A requiem mass was celebrated. Interment was at Calvary.

Mr. Kneeland's death, caused by acute indigestion, came Thursday morning within a half hour after he conferred with Mayor Curley in regard to the laying of the cornerstone of the new Hyde Park Police Station.

Engaged in the preparation of the program for the cornerstone exercises, the superintendent suddenly collapsed and toppled over on his desk. He is mourned by a host of friends and acquaintances and all the city was deeply touched by the news of his demise.

ANNUAL REPORT OF BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

The Board of Examiners have presented the following annual report which has been received by the Mayor:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston,

DEAR SIR.—In compliance with your request the Board of Examiners submits herewith the report of the activities of the department during the year 1923:

During the year the Board held 112 meetings, at which 3,960 applicants for new license, renewal and special license were examined and passed upon. In addition, twelve complaint cases presented by the Building Commissioner were heard. These were disposed of by the Board or passed on to the Law Department for prosecution. Included among the above-mentioned applications were those of 300 mechanics in charge of the installation and alteration of elevators, steel stacks, hoists, etc. Formerly the law as applying to this type of mechanic had not been strictly enforced; but realizing that proper control of these classes of work is necessary in carrying out a prevention-of-accident policy, the Building Commissioner, in July, 1923, referred to the Board of Examiners the matter of passing upon the qualifications of men in charge of such work. These men were examined in compliance with section 5 of chapter 8 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914.

The number of applications for license and for renewal exceeded those of any previous year. Since responsibility for proper completion of building operations is distinctly placed upon the license holder, the qualifications of each applicant must be passed upon most carefully. Men appearing for renewal of previously issued licenses were re-examined and their records investigated. For two years the Board had been impressing upon license holders the necessity made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. TO Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

of being familiar with the building law, with the result that all available copies of the building law have been purchased. Examinations during the past year have shown a decided improvement, and this opinion is concurred in by the building inspectors who report better understanding and improved workmanship among mechanics and superintendents.

At Franklin Union and at Wentworth Institute where, at the suggestion of the Board, last year classes were formed for the instruction of those men who were desirous of becoming superintendents of construction, two classes have been organized this year for the same purpose. In preparation for this work the Board held at its office classes of preliminary instruction. These classes had the indorsement of builders, architects and engineers, several of whom addressed the classes on subjects having to do with construction work.

During the year communications from various parts of the country have been received; they come from persons and organizations interested in the result of a law allowing other than professional control of building operations. Records show that better results have been gained by the enforcement of a law requiring the constant supervision of a practical superintendent on the work.

The following is a summary of applications acted upon by the Board during 1923:

New Licenses.—655 approved; 290 rejected.

Renewals.—1,832 approved; 21 rejected.

Special Licenses.—1,059 approved; 104 rejected.

Total.—3,546 approved; 414 rejected. Total, 3,960.

The fees collected amounted to:
New licenses, $3,275; renewals, $3,664; special licenses, $1,059. Total, $7,998.

APPEALS TO PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TO STOP KILLING NEW ENGLAND INDUSTRY.

MAYOR CURLEY PROTESTS AGAIN AGAINST AWARD OF ARMY SHOE CONTRACT TO PRISON LABOR AND THE MAKING OF CLOTH FOR UNIFORMS TO AN ENGLISH FIRM WHILE NEW ENGLAND CITIZENS ARE IDLE AND FACTORIES WANTING THAT WORK ARE CLOSED.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to President Calvin Coolidge May 10:

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT, Under date of April 7, 1924, I deemed it my duty to the industrial and business interests of Boston and the Commonwealth it serves, to call your attention to certain transactions and conditions that were affecting the life and happiness of our workers, with the hope that they might be corrected by your personal interposition.

The business of clothing, equipping and supplying the personnel of the army and navy of the United States constitutes a great industry of various character, that gives profitable employment to many employers and workers in this Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and is the main dependence of their homes and happiness.

At that time I called the attention of the President to the executive action which deprived the factories of Massachusetts of the business of supplying the army and navy with shoes—a specialized industry—and diverted it to the convict labor of the Federal Prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. I called the attention of the President to the real, economic hardship this policy involved and to the dubious industrial morality of taking the honest labor of American citizens from them and transferring it to the criminal who were paying the penalty of lawlessness of many kinds.

I regret to state that my protest up to date has remained unnoticed and unacknowledged, and what is of more importance than official discourtesy, the economic wrong has remained unchanged, at a time when unemployment is increasing and social hardship grows harsher and more acute.

Since then, when many of the textile industries of this Commonwealth have slowed down and the workers are suffering from lack of work and wages, the whole state is shocked and angered to learn that a contract for 500,000 yards of uniform khaki cloth has been awarded to an alien manufacturer, Skinner & Co. of Manchester, England, in preference to an American competitor, the Amoskeag Mills of Manchester, N. H.

It is a time honored policy of American government to protect the industries of its own people against the competition of the foreigner; and to give back to its own industrial interests something of the taxes they pay to support their own government; and this contract, entered into with alien interests at a time when industrial depression was breeding idleness, the mother of unrest and discontent, is at its best a piece of folly and stupidity that must be very embarrassing to your administration. It has been the boast of your own, the Republican party, that it stood pre-eminently for the protection of American industry and its workers; the opportunity for giving this political pledge a practical demonstration has come to your administration in these days of depression and idleness and in each instance the promise has been broken.

Is it too late for the President of the United States to right these two great wrongs? Is it too late to restore to the free honest, law-abiding, home-building, tax-paying, shoe workers of Massachusetts the work and bread and butter taken from them and handed over to the convict, criminal prison labor of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas? Has the time passed when the contract entered into between the Secretary of the Navy and Skinner & Co., of Manchester, England, can be cancelled and given to the Amoskeag Mills of Manchester, N. H., that work and wages be provided for American operatives?

May I not say with propriety that the aroused and indignant sentiment of New England asks and must have an answer to these questions, since these two transactions of your administration are staggering blows to American industry. I might without any suggestion of discourtesy remind the President of the United States that the votes of the idle operatives of Manchester, N. H., have more political significance and weight in American affairs than those of Manchester, England; and that the free idle workers of the Old Bay State count more potently at the polls than the criminal convict laborers of Leavenworth Prison; and I respectfully submit that these facts are worth time and attention of the administration in this year 1924.

The people of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts have a right to expect a kindlier consideration from your administration than they have received; for while recognizing the fact that you are not alone President of New England but of all the United States, they cannot forget that they were the most important factor in your political career; and that they hearkened to your appeal "Have Faith in Massachusetts" with a belief that you who had profited by that faith, would respond to them in kind on their day of stress by the grace of official gratitude.

The people of New England—Massachusetts and New Hampshire—have asked for industrial bread, and your administration has given them a stone—given them convict labor for free labor, work and wages to alien British labor, idleness and privation to American labor.

In the distribution of public money for the improvement of rivers and harbors, as an aid to maritime commerce, a contemptible $40,000 is allotted to Boston, one of the great ports of the country, out of the many millions appropriated. Yet Massachusetts is supposed to be represented in the White House, the Cabinet, and the chief places of the Senate and House. With the beggarly results such eminence secures must our faith in Massachusetts be transferred from her representatives to men whose faith is shown in their good works.

No condition is so perilous to American Democracy and representative government as the idleness and discontent of its workers; and if these workers should translate the blunders of their government into a deliberate betrayal of their vital interests, how can the lovers of law and order avert the results of such betrayal and find reasonable answer and logical explanation for such amazing things as convict labor and foreign industrial preference.

American industry may lose its strength and activity by the indifference, and worse, of national legislation and administration. To break down the wage scale of American labor by the employment of prison labor and the utilization of the product of sweated foreign industry would be a dangerous and stupid policy; and to close up American shops and factories that these two agencies may thrive, would be little short of treason; and yet that seems to be the road upon which the administration in Washington is started.

I sincerely trust the President of the United States will awake to the danger of present day conditions and apply the remedies that lie in his authority; that he will realize that the prosperity of the common weal is of greater importance than the success of any party or partisan; and give us some substantial reason for broadening our faith in Massachusetts into faith in the United States and confidence in him who owes all he has and all he is to the people of this state.

I ask for action that will litigate the troubles into which we are drifting and which unless shortly corrected may result in soup kitchens and bread lines in New England industrial centers.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ROYAL ARCANUM PAYS MAYOR CURLEY HIGH TRIBUTE IN SET OF RESOLUTIONS.

Mayor Curley received the following communication May 10:

ROYAL ARCANUM, GRAND COUNCIL OF MASSACHUSETTS,
BOSTON, May 8, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor,
City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In accordance with a unanimous rising vote, it is with very much pleasure that I send a copy of resolutions adopted at our forty-seventh annual session, April 24 and April 25, 1924, held at the American House, Boston.

Yours very sincerely,

WILLIAM L. KELT,
Grand Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS.

The Grand Council of Massachusetts recognizing the fact that the Mayor of a city the size of Boston is carrying at all times a tremendous burden, and that countless demands are made upon his time and strength, feels that Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, paid our Order a signal honor in coming to our session on April 24, to extend to this body a welcome to the city and to present us the key to the city.

The splendid inspirational address which he delivered, the patriotic thoughts which he uttered, the tribute he paid to the order for its forty-seven years of service to humanity and fraternity were all in keeping with our highest ideals. His generosity in inviting us to dinner was another evidence of the honor he wished to show the Royal Arcanum.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Council are due and are hereby given to his Honor James M. Curley.

THE NEED FOR DAY TRAINING AT FRANKLIN FOUNDATION EMPHASIZED.

DIRECTOR OF FRANKLIN UNION STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF NEW FORCE FOR GOOD IN REPORT AT ANNUAL MEETING.

The sixteenth annual report of the director of Franklin Union, presented at the annual meeting of the Franklin Foundation, at the office of the president, Hon. Nathan Matthews, Tremont Building, Monday, May 12, was as follows:

Boston, May 12, 1924.

The Franklin Foundation,
Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with Article III of the By-laws, I beg leave to submit the following report:

Vocational training which has been conducted for the last five years for the United States Government is rapidly drawing to a close. During the past year there have been slightly over five hundred trainees and there are now less than one hundred and fifty. The evening registration has been sixteen hundred and fourteen (1,614) different individuals, 12 per cent larger than last year, and the total of both day and evening classes is twenty-one hundred and eighty-three (2,183) different students. Fifteen of this number are women.

Franklin Union exists to train adults. It is one of the few institutions built and equipped solely for adult instruction. Only a small number of those of high school age ever graduate from high school and still fewer complete the four years additional at university or engineering school. The majority of adults must look to evening classes for further training. Are there not many, however, who might spend one or two years in vocational day training following high school, as a preparation for entrance into industry, provided that such training were available and could be procured at a nominal charge? Are there not also others who have left school early and have met difficulties in advancement due to insufficient preparation, who could return for further day instruction, which would enable them to rise ultimately at least to the lower grades of executive positions?

Franklin Union evening classes have long been a fact; its day classes remain a dream. There are two reasons for this condition: First, because in 1908, when the school was opened, the field of evening training was clearly defined, and it was only necessary to adapt proven methods to the local industrial needs of Boston; second, because the modest income from invested funds, which has never exceeded $25,000 annually, precluded anything but evening classes.

Flexibility to individual needs is perhaps the most striking characteristics of successful evening classes. Within its chosen field, the oft-quoted words of Ezra Cornell might apply to Franklin Union with but slight qualification. He desired to "found an institution where any person can find instruction in any study." It is probably true that no institution offers more nearly individual instruction than Franklin Union. Six distinct evening courses are opened annually, in October, in electricity alone, varying in the approach to the subject and in the intensity of instruction, each course intended for a different group of workers. Where men are helped, there are always those who do not succeed, either through lack of time or brains, and there will always be sufficient such to keep instructors from becoming conceited. A stiff weeding out might make for more scholarship records, but the successful evening school dealing with adults must recognize that efficient men and women, already at work, cannot be classified by academic standards, and that months of industrial experience have given them many equivalents to high school or even college training. An inflexible standard would crowd out some who are destined to become at least corporals and sergeants, and perhaps even captains of industry. Evening instruction is permeated with optimism. Every student is ambitious. There is a spirit of mutual helpfulness. Men are more nearly equal than elsewhere. A college graduate helps the so-called practical man beside him with the theory, and receives in return invaluable pointers on shop practice. There is an atmosphere of achievement and accomplishment. It is team work with a common objective. Appreciative and grateful students report progress and advancement. The class pulls, the instructor steers.

Evening classes must not only be flexible to individual needs, but must be sensitive to the constant changes in industrial demands. Courses must change from year to year to correspond with industrial progress. With the perfection of automobile engines and the introduction of self-starting and lighting, the demand for instruction has largely shifted from engine to ignition. The continued introduction of central power plants has caused a decrease in the demand for steam engineering, while there is an increased demand for heating and ventilating design. The increase in building construction has been reflected by unprecedented demands during the past year for architectural and construction courses and for electric wiring. The further application of chemistry to manufacturing is shown by increasing calls for industrial chemistry. A course in metallography, a subject unknown a few years ago, is now in its third season, and is meeting a specific need of men connected with the metal trades. Every room of the Franklin Union building is now in use five nights a week during the winter months. The demand for evening instruction is thus being met, subject only to the limitations of space.

No institution has ever faced a more definite call for specific day instruction than Franklin Union now faces. No institution, in organizing a comparatively new type of instruction, has known more clearly what it proposed to do. The needs for such day training are urgent. Modern youth does not see the inside, nor as a rule, know anything of practical industry until he is plunged into what, to him, is an unknown world. Formerly the boy in his home town might, from daily observation, acquire a fairly good idea of many lines of production before he finished the country school. Moreover, industry is constantly taking on more of an engineering aspect, with endless diversities and more exacting requirements. The untrained man will soon find himself out of the race. Pre-war conditions of employment are returning, and men are now being hired on a basis of skill and achievement, and no longer because they possess two legs and two arms. Moreover, there are at present almost no facilities for thorough training, except the four-year engineering courses, which, on account of time and expense involved, are out of the reach of the majority of adult workers. Hardly half a dozen cities in the United States have any day vocational instruction for adults. This city has only one endowed school fitting for productive industry with one and two year courses, in spite of the fact that Boston is the greatest educational center of the world. Franklin Union stands ready and equipped to provide further day vocational instruction for men seventeen years of age and over, who cannot attend college and university, but who should be fitted to enter industry, and should be provided with a background which will enable them to advance later. The lack of endowment is the only serious obstacle to be surmounted. The call for funds for day courses is to meet a distinctly modern exigency. The need is not only recent but increasingly serious. The type of training required is different from that which has long been familiar to New England educators and philanthropists. Thoughtful students of education and of industrial conditions predict a rapid development of this type of instruction, which will ultimately occupy an important place as a constructive force in the community. Are there not those in Boston who will join hands with the two far-sighted benefactors of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries,—Benjamin Franklin and Andrew Carnegie,—and provide the next step in the development of the philanthropic institution which these men have established?

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER B. RUSSELL,
Director.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Commissioner of Public Works for the following construction work:

A 12-inch and 15-inch earthen pipe sanitary sewer and surface drain and six catch-basins in Harrishof street, between Warren street and Humboldt avenue in the Roxbury district, and that he estimates that the cost thereof will be $21,069.

A 10-inch pipe surface drain in Price road, between Glenville road and Long avenue in the Brighton district, and that he estimates that the cost thereof will be $1,897.

CHANGE IN CONTRACT.

John B. Dolan has been ordered to make the following changes in contract for municipal garage, Albany street.

Items ordered: Deduct the sum of $500 for finished hardware according to Section 12, page 65, of specifications. Hardware is being furnished by the owner. Deduct the sum of $500 for electric lighting fixtures according to Section 31, Article 1, page 101, of specifications. Fixtures are being furnished by owner.

Deduct the sum of $2,000 for gasoline storage equipment according to Section 14, page 90, of specifications. Equipment is being furnished by owner. Total deductions, $3,000.

CALLS FOR SENATORIAL PROBE OF COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN FUNDS COLLECTION.

MAYOR CURLEY SENDS REQUEST TO SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH AFTER DISCOVERY OF SINISTER LETTER SHOWING BUSINESS CONCERNS ARE BEING SOLICITED WITH DECLARATION OF PURPOSE TO EVADE THE LAW.

Mayor Curley sent on May 13 the following letter to Hon. David I. Walsh, United States Senator, Washington, D. C.:

The Senatorial Committee investigating the existence of certain corrupt transactions, activities and persons, of which you are a member, would do a much-needed public good at this time by turning its attention to and its light on an organized plan for corruption, designed to "solicit" contributions from business firms, corporations, manufacturing concerns and trade organizations, the funds so collected to be spent to secure the nomination and election of federal and state officers—Republicans from the presidency of the United States down.

This organization is known as the Massachusetts Calvin Coolidge Finance Committee and its announced purpose, as can be seen by the inclosed copy of the original letter of solicitation, is that of "collecting funds to make sure of the nomination and election of Calvin Coolidge." I assume the Massachusetts organization is duplicated in every other state where tariff-protected interests can be reached; and without doubt the mind and man back of this nation-wide corruption campaign is the chairman of the Republican Committee, William Butler of New Bedford, mill owner and millionaire, and one of the notorious industrial group of Massachusetts, fat and growing fatter, by the exploitation of child labor and underpaid, overworked mill operatives in certain Southern cotton factories.

The following paragraph has a sinister significance and indicates a cynical determination to evade the provisions of the Corrupt Practices laws and get around the limitations of expenditures for political purposes incorporated in federal legislation:

"There is no limit to the amount an individual may give the committee. Large contributions will be so divided as to give full observance to the requirements of the statutes."

An eminent American has said "Public office should represent the result of the voluntary act of the people and not be the sequence of an auction." The intimate private and political relations of the Republican National Chairman and the pseudo-prophet of law and order, who dictated Mr. Butler's appointment as his own choice as campaign manager, leaves no doubt in the mind of any honest and self-respecting American that the President of the United States is not only the inspiration of this scandalous plan to corrupt the American constituencies, but is fully cognizant of its purposes and aims and is aiding and abetting this audacious attempt to buy the national election of 1924. This document and the bold campaign of corruption it visualizes illustrates the sustained hypocrisy and manifest unfitness of their authors, organizers and beneficiaries, and the exposure of the plot to make the 1924 election "the sequence of an auction" is a paramount duty that must not be delayed. The sooner the people of the United States learn something of the subterranean activities of the Republican Party, its candidates and leaders, the better for the safety of the country. If the public offices of the United States can be bought and sold in 1924, the beneficiaries of the foul transaction will transfer the control of national legislation and administration to the industrial, commercial and financial underwriters of this outrageous bargain.

You, my dear senator, have a personal as well as a public interest in this treasonable scheme; you are one of the targets of the dirty dollars of the Massachusetts Calvin Coolidge Finance Committee; but I am certain your sense of public duty will outweigh any personal consideration and guide your actions.

Coming as it does on the heels of the betrayal of New England's industrial interests—the preference shown by the Washington administration for convict prison labor over free labor, the transfer of the army shoe industry from the factories of Massachusetts to the Federal Prison at Fort Leavenworth, the gift of contracts for navy khaki cloth to British mills in Manchester, England, and the refusal to give contracts to the Amoskeag Mills of Manchester, N. H., where unemployed American workers walk the streets idle and hungry—it becomes evident that this conspiracy of corruption to which the aid and sympathy of Calvin Coolidge and his friends are pledged, is a well-considered plot to crush and degrade the American worker.

The constant stream of phrase and flummery, humbug and hypocrisy that flows from the White House is intended to conceal the iniquity and baseness of this scheme to Europeanize American labor and cripple American democracy and its stealthy progress can only be arrested by a swift and thorough senatorial investigation that the American people may know the peril they are in; for it is idle to expect that the engineers of this corrupt scheme will set the machinery of law in motion to embarrass themselves. You can do the work they will not, dare not, do.

The Walworth Manufacturing Company of Boston from which the corrupt correspondence emanated is a highly-protected concern, whose head is President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce; the signer of the circular letter "G. F. Elliott, Chairman, Pipe Fittings and Allied Material Group," is some inconsequential figurehead behind whom the corruptionists work; and I believe an early descent on this group of conspirators will serve the public good. The sale of Massachusetts must not be permitted; its consummation would be a victory for the deadliest enemies of American liberty.

I earnestly ask early and effective investigation of this audacious scheme to destroy the good name of Massachusetts and the integrity of representative government in America.

With the assurance of my personal regard, I am,

Sincerely yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

WALWORTH MANUFACTURING COMPANY,
(Established 1842.)
General Offices, Boston, Mass.
Boston Branch,
142 High Street.

Boston, April 24, 1924.

DEAR SIR,—The Massachusetts Calvin Coolidge Finance Committee has delegated to me the chairmanship of the pipe fittings and allied material group in the matter of collecting funds to make sure of the nomination and election of Calvin Coolidge.

The money goes — first, to the National Coolidge preconvention fund for maintaining Calvin Coolidge headquarters and organization work; secondly, to pay a proportion of the National Committee expense; thirdly, to maintain the Massachusetts State Committee's active work of registration and Americanization throughout all our districts, and to carry on the active campaign for all federal and state offices as soon as nominations are over.

There is no limit to the amount an individual may give to this committee. Large contributions will be so divided as to give full observance to the requirements of the statutes. All contributions must be voluntary.

I assume that you will wish to have a share in making sure of the election of Calvin Coolidge, and I am inclosing a card furnished me by the Finance Committee.

Your check should be made to Louis K. Liggett, and if you will send it to me for forwarding to him I can keep correctly my records of our group. In any event, whether your response is a check or a signature of promise on the inclosed card, will you kindly make it promptly, so I may make full report without much delay.

Yours truly,

G. F. ELLIOTT,

Chairman,

Pipe Fittings and Allied Material Group.

MAYOR CURLEY WARNS REPUBLICAN FUNDS COLLECTOR L. K. LIGGETT AGAINST DUBIOUS FINANCIERING.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to Mr. Louis K. Liggett in answer to Mr. Liggett's statement to the press in Wednesday morning's papers:

MR. LOUIS K. LIGGETT, Chairman, Calvin Coolidge Finance Committee, Boston, Mass.:

MY DEAR LOUIE,—The Boston morning papers of Wednesday carry an interview with you designed to explain and defend certain stealthy and sinister activities of the Calvin Coolidge Finance Committee to which I called the attention of Senator David I. Walsh with a request for investigation. There is an obvious imprudence in rushing into print with explanation and defence that might better be reserved for the Senatorial Investigating Committee and the Federal Grand Jury. This particular phase of questionable finance may be new to your experience, and were your common sense more robust and your moral sense more acute, you might be in a position to appreciate the danger and depravity of the work you are engaged in.

I imagine a habit of skating on thin ice at the border line of lawlessness is not the best kind of training for a raw recruit in the ranks of Republican righteousness; and I would suggest that you take counsel with your Christian keepers and guardians on Devonshire street before again venturing into type, for it is perilous to rely on gratitude of the beneficiaries of your political panhandling, when the limelight is turned on your dubious financiering. You should know by this time that signing incriminatory circular letters is a dangerous practice; that financial solicitation for lawless purposes has its perils; and that the collection and emission of corruption funds is frowned on by law. You are not a guileless innocent. Experientia docet.

I note with interest a personal appeal in your interview. You express an eager curiosity to learn the origin of the funds with which I finance my pledge-card campaign; and were your curiosity not so transparently an attempt to draw a herring across the trail that will lead the Senate and Grand Jury to a knowledge of your corrupt plans and purposes, I might be tempted to take you into my confidence. As Shakespeare said "Thou almost persuadest me."

However as between man and man I will say this—the funds that intrigue you were not collected from dependent employees, panicky creditors and the holders of dubious stocks wished on them for good money and whose tape value was wrecked by questionable transactions. Nothing like that, my dear Mr. Louis K. Liggett; nothing like that.

However, I am of the opinion that if you will keep out of the public press and make a clean breast of things to the constituted authorities, in view of your political youth and inexperience, you may be treated with clemency.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

SENATOR WALSH REPLIES TO MAYOR ON SLUSH FUND CHARGE.

Mayor Curley has received the following telegram from Senator David I. Walsh:

May 15, 1924.

Telegram received. Have conferred with my colleagues on the matter. It is very evident the federal law needs amending to prevent campaign slush funds. Though several bills to this end, including a resolution by myself some time ago, no action has been taken. Your calling public attention to the methods described in your letter will I hope expedite legislative action. Of course if state laws have been violated action may be taken locally.

DAVID I. WALSH.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

The Mayor has approved the following order of the Board of Street Commissioners:

That in the matter of Katherine McNally, petitioner for damages caused by the relocation of North Beacon street, Brighton district, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of August 22, 1921, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board agrees to abate one-half of the betterment assessment of seventeen hundred and ten (1,710) dollars levied January 10, 1923, on the estate of said McNally for said relocation, the petitioner to give to the City of Boston an agreement dismissing her petition for land damages on account of said improvement; and the Board consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

MAYOR WINS PEOPLE'S BATTLE.

Sullivan, Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, Mr. C. L. Edgar, representing the Edison Company, and his Honor the Mayor, an agreement was reached:

First.—That in the arbitration now pending before the Public Utilities Commission in regard to the price to be paid by the city for its street lighting, that the company would waive all claim to an increase up to June 1 of the present year and accept the sums already paid by the city under the rate established by the last arbitration which took place in 1919, as a full discharge of the city's obligations under its street lighting contract. The claims waived by the Edison Company amount to approximately $600,000 for the period since 1919. In consideration of this waiver the city agrees from June 1 next to accept the rate which is paid by other municipalities as fixed by the Public Utilities Commission.

Second.—Upon petition brought by the Boston American Publishing Company and the city for a revision of the company's rates, the terms agreed upon, subject at all time to the control of the Public Utilities Commission, provide for an immediate reduction in the A rate (household lighting) from 9½ cents to 9 cents per kilowatt hour, to be followed upon December 1, 1924, by a further reduction to 8½ cents and on December 1, 1925, to 8 cents.

This agreement terminates the litigation between the Boston American Publishing Company, formerly represented by Mr. MacFarland, and the City of Boston, represented by Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, and Mr. Arthur D. Hill, as special counsel, which has lasted over a period of years. During that time reductions have been secured which to date approximate $3,500,000 of saving to the people. Under the present agreement the annual saving to the people up to the time when the 8-cent schedule goes into operation will be about $5,000,000. After the 8-cent schedule goes into operation $1,500,000 a year additional will be saved over the cost to the community at the present rate. When this is contrasted with the charges approximating 12 cents per kilowatt hour, which were in force when the litigation began, the result is an extremely satisfactory one.

NEW HOTELS FOR BOSTON.

It is pleasing to announce that a favorable reaction resulted in consequence of the decision of E. M. Statler, with reference to the establishment of additional hotel accommodations in Boston, word having been received at the office of the Mayor that plans are being drawn for a 700-room modern and up-to-date hotel and also plans are about completed and financing has been assured for a 350-room hotel in Boston.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

Bids have been asked for by advertisements in the City Record for the following departments. The attention of contractors and others is specially called to the closing time for the receipt of such proposals. This will be published weekly.

ECONOMIC JUSTICE AND PLANS FOR FUTURE ON CONSTRUCTIVE LINES URGED.

MAYOR CURLEY DELIVERS NOTABLE ADDRESS BEFORE NEWBURYPORT LODGE OF ELKS AT MEETING MONDAY, MAY 12.

Address of Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, before the members of Newburyport Lodge of Elks, at Newburyport, Monday, May 12, 1924:

Ours indeed has been a most glorious past but what of the present and what of the future. Surely a nation with such a wealth of achievement must realize the necessity not only for economic justice in the present hour but the adoption of a constructive program for the future. The leadership achieved by America during the World War, the unity that obtained in the land and the patriotism shared by women and men alike must be revived. Less than six years have passed since the close of the World War and today in every portion of the land the wheels of industry are silent, the obligation to the patriots who served in the World War is disregarded and where optimism should be the keynote, pessimism alone obtains. Periods of depression due to over-production have been common in this and every other land from the beginning of time. Their presence is invariably accompanied by an increased death rate and by crime waves. The question for this great patriotic organization whose splendid service in the period of the World War is a blessed memory, is what can and what should be done to aid Americans and by aiding Americans promote the happiness and preserve the peace of the nation. There is no question that approaches in importance that of the stabilizing of industry. Stabilizing of industry means contentment in the land, happiness in the house.

The question for us to consider is, how much longer the conduct of the most important business in the land shall be delegated to political organizations. During the period of the World War the necessity for employing brains and talent outside the narrow confines of politics was nationally recognized. When we wanted the finances of the nation adjusted we called to the aid of the government the foremost financial experts in America, Baruch and Morgenthau; when we wanted a bridge of ships extending from America to Europe we called to our aid the foremost shipbuilder in the world, Charles M. Schwab; when we recognized the necessity for improvement to our railroad service we employed that great engineer who built the tunnel under the East river, William McAdoo; when we assayed the task of transporting four million of our citizen soldiery across an expanse of water sown with undersea boats we called to the aid of the government Admiral Benson, who transported the four million Americans without the loss of a single transport.

If the services of these men were necessary in the hour of crisis for the preservation of our heritage, it becomes both a duty and an obligation to employ a similar character of service in the hour of peace for the preservation of national welfare, prosperity and progress.

I personally know of no more valued service this splendid organization can render than to transfer from the field of partisan politics the welfare of the nation through the creation of a National Planning Board as an adjunct to the conduct of governmental affairs.

Congress unquestionably is well intentioned but lacks only the spur of an intelligent program which represents the intelligent crystallized thought of the great body of patriotic American citizens. The futility of the tariff due to the increased production developed in America as a consequence of the war is today apparent to every thoughtful man. This increased production renders it possible in substantially every line of activity to provide in seven working months the nation's requirements for a full twelve-month period.

Despite this we have disregarded the imperatively essential necessity for either the development of foreign markets or the establishment upon a sound and sane basis of an American merchant marine. In response to the voice of pessimism and the plea of economy, a merchant marine created at enormous expense has been permitted to lie idle and rot in every waterway upon both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. This condition has been permitted in America, while in other nations, governmental aid has supplied the incentive which not only opened foreign markets but made possible a permanent outlet for excess production.

The American merchant has never sought other than a fair fighting chance; to this he is entitled, but he will never be permitted to enjoy that to which he is entitled until an aroused American public compels recognition of present national needs.

Under our system of government, the most ideal in the world, it is essential that there be continuity of program rather than the system which obtains at the present time of sacrificing national welfare to partisan advantage. I look forward to the time in the life of America when there will be continuity of program, when seasonal unemployment will no longer obtain, when the toiler, the laborer whose brains and hands have been the creative source of national prosperity and greatness, will have some prospect other than the poorhouse in the closing years of his existence to look forward to, when the exploitation of children in industry will be at an end and when, animated by a common purpose and public weal, America will face the future with a people united and patriotic, whose love of country is based on economic justice and equality of opportunity and liberty.

DIRECTOR OF SCHOOL MUSIC REPORTS ON CONFERENCE.

John A. O'Shea, Director of Music, has made the following report on his attendance at the Eastern Music Supervisors' Conference, held at Rochester, N. Y., March 4 to 8.

Boston, May 5, 1924.

To the School Committee:

The following is a report of my visit to the Eastern Music Supervisors' Conference held at Rochester, N. Y., on March 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1924.

I arrived in Rochester on the morning of March 5, and each day and evening visited the various schools as mentioned in the inclosed programs.

It was very evident that choral practice was being neglected because of the directing of attention almost solely to the development of bands and orchestras. Although it was to be regretted that choral practice was slighted, there was no doubt but that Rochester had accomplished very admirable results in instrumental work.

It seems that the Music Department at Rochester is able to procure any of the different instruments they desire through the wonderful beneficence of Mr. Eastman of Kodak fame. He has an agreement with the Board of Education by which he will supply the instruments and the Board will supply the instructors for children to whom these instruments are assigned. If the Board fails to supply the instructors the instruments revert to the Eastman School of Music.

To carry on their music work they have a director, Mr. Charles H. Miller, and fifty assistants to the director.

Peculiarly, in this country we have been beset with people who undertake to conduct orchestral and band groups even though they have very little knowledge of music. Rochester's advance has been due chiefly to the recognition of the importance of securing experts for class instruction of each instrument, and all in charge of orchestral or band groups have the advantage of instruction in conducting by some eminent conductor. This year it is the great English conductor, Albert Coates.

From a musician's standpoint the most impressive work was seen at the instrumental session of seventy classes on Saturday morning, where bands and orchestras were separated according to instruments and specialized instruction given on each instrument by an expert.

Of course I recognize that Boston has no "Mr. Eastman" who will devote much of his wealth to these things, but the success of Rochester in instrumental work is convincing evidence that whatever can be done along the lines of specialized instruction should be undertaken in Boston.

For instance, to demonstrate the development of the trombone, "The Lost Chord" was played exclusively by a class of 150 trombones and the result was indeed inspiring.

Instrumental work has developed in Rochester to such an extent that on the roof of one of the high schools a sound-proof hall was constructed where practice may be conducted without annoyance to the rest of the school.

The junior high program allows two periods per day for extra curricula work. By this plan students are allowed to undertake work in subject in which they are especially interested, such as language, dramatics, debating, music (vocal and instrumental), etc.

All in all, the visit to Rochester was extremely valuable to me in seeing work which is highly developed in that city, perhaps beyond the ability of the average city.

I desire to take this opportunity to thank the School Committee for making it possible for me to take the trip to the Eastern Music Supervisors' Conference.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. O'SHEA,
Director of Music.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 10 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph Todesca for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 7, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Joseph Todesca, 105 Walworth street, West Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 12 the Mayor approved a contract with James Collins for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 9, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to James Collins, 38 Linden street, Roslindale, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Charles Hvass & Co. for furnishing nine trailers to the Sanitary Service. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 6, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of April 10 you approved a contract for Charles Hvass & Co., Inc., for furnishing nine trailers to the Sanitary Service, Public Works Department, at $1,650 each. The Commissioner of Public Works has found that it will be necessary to have these trailers equipped with brakes on all four wheels at $150 per pair, making the total additional cost on the contract $1,350.

The original contract amounted to $14,850, which with the addition of $1,350 for brakes, makes the total amount of the contract as it now stands, $16,200.

Trusting that this meets with your approval, I am,

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 10 the Mayor approved a contract with Castner, Curran and Bullitt, Inc., for furnishing coal to Deer Island and Long Island institutions. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 7, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., for furnishing: Approximately 500 tons of semibituminous coal to be delivered alongside Deer Island at $5.95 per gross ton; approximately 500 tons of semibituminous coal to be delivered in the bins at Long Island at $6.50 per gross ton.

This request is made owing to the fact that we haven't any contract at present and it is necessary to obtain the coal at once. Various dealers were asked for prices and the above were the lowest bids received. In view of same, I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

P. J. Dinn Company have been ordered to do the following additional work on contract for wire fence at Arnold Arboretum, signed February 1, 1924:

Furnish and install extra rail at curve for 8-foot wire fence, four (4) gateposts for two (2) additional gates, and relocate thirty (30) feet of 8-foot fence.

Estimated cost of this work $200.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners to issue an order of addition to the contract of Joseph Rugo, for erecting and completing addition to the Thomas Gardner School, in an amount of approximately $10,000.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

John B. Dolan has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for erecting garage, Albany street, Boston, from May 10, 1924, to June 10, 1924.

V. Barletta has been granted on extension of the time of completion of the contract for the building of sewerage works in Well street between Board of Survey Street No. 1779 and Parkvale road, West Roxbury, from May 1, 1924, to September 6, 1924 (126 days).

WANTS NATIONAL CELEBRATION OF 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

Mayor Curley on May 10 sent the following communication to the chairmen of the Board of Selectmen of the following towns, Arlington, Lexington, Concord and Brookline, and the Mayors of Medford, Somerville and Cambridge:

DEAR SIR,—The 150th anniversary of the Revolutionary War and of incidents connected therewith, centering about Patriots' Day, April 19, next year, 1925, present possibilities for a celebration of national importance and significance that may be built without undue labor or expense upon the efforts which have been devoted the past few years to stimulating general interest in a worthy observance of each annual Patriots' Day, through the initiative and persistence of the Citizens' Public Celebrations Association of Boston.

Therefore, it has seemed wise to the joint committee on Patriots' Day this year, at their final meeting a few days ago, to recommend that preparations be started now for dealing with the problem involved, and to recommend that the Mayor of Boston extend an official invitation at this time to the several mayors and selectmen of the towns and cities that have been in the habit of co-operating each Patriots' Day in arranging a joint celebration, asking them to designate representatives who may meet right away to start next year's plans.

It is expected that there will be the customary harmonious co-operation of the several towns and cities through which passes the rides of Revere and Dawes to Lexington and Concord, and that the latter two towns will have elaborate observances of the day, but the 150th anniversary seems to call for more than that, in the opinion of the Patriots' Day Committee which has just completed its work for the holiday recently observed. You have doubtless received a report from your representative on that joint committee and information from him of the future plans proposed.

To the recommendation I am pleased to give hearty approval as far as Boston is concerned and to comply with the request of the committee that I send an official letter to each mayor and chairman of selectmen, which I am now doing. May I count on you, therefore, to submit as promptly as possible the name and address of the individual who may be selected to represent your community at this time, in order that he may be notified of a meeting to be held as soon as the several town and city representatives shall be named.

The great success which has marked the yearly joint observances of Patriots' Day, and patriotic stimulus derived therefrom by the men, women, and children of our respective localities, appears to me to increase our responsibility to make every effort in 1925 to spread far and wide the gospel of liberty and freedom first preached in our own eastern Massachusetts and to proclaim to the nation and to the world those great principles upon which our republic is founded and in the conservation of which our future must rest. With sincerest thanks for your generous and willing co-operation in the past, I have the honor to remain,

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

FIRST ASSISTANT ASSESSOR, BOSTON,
MAY 20, 1924.

The salary is $1,600 a year. There are four vacancies.

The duties of this position are approximately as follows: The City of Boston is divided into districts for assessing purposes. Each first assistant assessor has charge of a district. Beginning April 1 it is his duty to examine all real property and all tangible personal property in his district and put a fair valuation thereon for tax purposes. This generally takes from six to eight weeks. During the period after May 15, which is the completion of the street work, the assessors are in daily sessions at a dooming board until about August 1. From about the first of October to the first of January the first assistant assessors are required to give about one day a week for hearings in regard to abatement of taxes in their district. It is desirable that applicants should have a good general knowledge of real estate matters, with experience in buying and selling, and that they should be good judges of value, both of improved and unimproved real estate. A knowledge of tax laws is also desirable, as is experience as a builder or ability to judge value of new buildings. There is no objection to the assessors having other employment in their spare time.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions, 3; personality and fitness as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience, at least 50 per cent in practical questions, and at least 65 per cent in the oral interview and in general average in order to become eligible.

DENTISTS, MAY 21, 1924.

This examination is for the service of the state, all cities in the state and such towns as are classified under civil service. From the eligible list established as a result of this examination names will be certified to fill vacancies in institutions, schools and other positions as they occur. The salaries range from $1,000 to $1,400 per year.

Applicants are required to be registered to practise dentistry under the Board of Dental Examiners, Department of Civil Service and Registration.

The examination will consist of the filing of a statement of training and experience. The mark given on experience will be combined with the mark given applicants by the State Board of Dental Examiners, and an average will be taken to determine their standing on the list.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

AUTOMOBILE STATISTICS.

Registration and licensing of motor vehicles and operators in Massachusetts is in charge of the State Department of Public Works, Registrar of Motor Vehicles. In year ending November 30, 1921, there were registered 360,732 automobiles, an increase of 56,101 over the total in 1920 and 90.58 per cent more than 5 years ago, also 12,058 motor cycles. New York ranks first among the states in number of automobiles in use November 1, 1921, viz., 651,796; (2) Ohio, 616,800; (3) Pennsylvania, 570,164; (4) California, 568,892; (5) Illinois, 568,759; (6) Iowa, 437,300; (7) Texas, 427,434; (8) Michigan, 412,717; (9) Minnesota, 364,312; (10) Indiana, 332,707; (11) Massachusetts, 304,631; (12) Missouri, 295,817; (13) Wisconsin, 293,298; (14) Kansas, 265,396; (15) New Jersey, 226,459. The West leads in ratio of automobiles to population, the farmers being the most numerous users. In Iowa, California, Nebraska and South Dakota there is one to every 6 inhabitants and most of the other western states show from one to 7 to one to 9. In Massachusetts the ratio is one to 13 and in New York State, one to 16. Reported (unofficially) owned in Boston alone, in 1921, 46,725 or 36,706 passenger cars and 10,019 trucks. TOTAL REVENUE RECEIPTS PER CAPITA IN LEADING CITIES (BY RANK).

Los Angeles, $73.52; Boston, $65.93 (as corrected according to approx. population); Pittsburgh, $54.28; New York, $53.49; San Francisco, $51.99; Philadelphia, $45.27; Chicago, $40.89. (See U. S. Census Bureau's Financial Statistics of Cities, 1920, Preliminary Reports.)

AREA OF BOSTON.

Area to ward lines (26 wards), 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,484 acres flats. Land area only 27,971 acres (i. e., 43.70 square miles). Included in the latter are 154 acres of filled flats added to the land area of South Boston in 1919 and 1920 and 133 acres to that of East Boston. Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (365.7 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6) and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.5 square miles.

MAYOR HIGHLY PRAISED FOR CHAMPIONING NEW ENGLAND'S TRADE CAUSE IN LETTER TO PRESIDENT.

Mayor Curley on Tuesday, May 13, received the following letter from Mr. R. Campbell, treasurer of the Kenwood Company of 161 Summer street, Boston.

Please accept a few words of earnest appreciation for your masterly letter which was published in yesterday's papers. Our voice is very small and weak, but such as it is we have raised it to the statesmen (?) who are representing (?) us in Washington. More power to you!

We take the liberty of inclosing herewith a copy of the letter which we have sent to Washington.

"Being one of a multitude of business concerns suffering from the present stagnation of New England industries, we respectfully call your attention to the pertinent remarks made by his honor James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, in the inclosed letter.

"If Mr. Curley's statements in this letter be true, why would not a petition be in order for Great Britain to assume a protectorate over these poor helpless United States?

"It would seem not only that we have prohibition as regards liquor, but also that the present administration is looking toward prohibition of all further growth of New England Industries.

"Our letter mailed to Calvin Coolidge, Henry Cabot Lodge, David I. Walsh, Louis A. Coolidge, James A. Gallivan."

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS FOR MEN OF BROAD AND NOBLE VISION TO GOVERN.

TELLS MEMBERS OF ATTLEBORO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THAT OUR INDUSTRIES AND GOVERNMENT NEED MEN LOYAL TO THE IDEALS OF JUSTICE AND DEMOCRACY, WITH RESOLUTION ENOUGH TO MAINTAIN THEM.

Mayor Curley addressed the Chamber of Commerce at Attleboro, Mass., on the evening of May 15, speaking in part as follows:

Attleboro lives and has its being because of its peculiar and specialized industries; and as these industries thrive or decay this town is happy and contented, or given over to unrest and discontent. In a broad sense Attleboro caters to a luxurious trade; it seeks to supply demands that are not necessities; it caters to beauty, to the decorative and artistic tastes of the people; and it follows, since the indulgence in these products is a luxury, they come after the purchase of necessities and are financed by the savings and surplus that remain after rent, insurance, clothing, bread and butter and the other practical things of our domestic economy are satisfied.

When hard times come, when business depression hits this country, industry slows down, unemployment shows its ugly head and the conditions that may for a prosperous Attleboro vanish, this busy and ingenious community is the best business barometer in Massachusetts.

Today business is depressed in Massachusetts; the textile industries are marked by short time and unemployment; workers are walking the streets in idleness, without work and wages; unrest and discontent are the evil product of unemployment; they mean hardship and unhappiness and the conditions that are dangerous to a free democratic government.

I always dislike to carry a hard luck story into a happy business community; but the time has come for us to face the industrial conditions of the day and take an account of stock; Massachusetts is a distinctly industrial Commonwealth; we take raw materials and transform them into articles of necessity and utility for other communities; and upon our ability to compete successfully with other states, find markets for our products and enter them on an equality of opportunity, we are able to live and thrive; and the economic conditions that give Massachusetts and her sister Commonwealths employment for their men and women, all the year round, that bring them prosperity and contentment, happy homes and social security are reflected here in Attleboro.

It is the duty of representative government to foster and protect the interests of its people, for upon the prosperity and contentment of the people rest the safety and stability of republic. When politics and partisanship enter into the consideration of business and industry, they are endangered; they become footballs to kick instead of interests to foster; fair play goes out when favoritism comes in; and the things most vital to the life and happiness of the citizenry are jeopardized.

No matter what the political complexion of our representatives in Congress may be, they must be made to understand that business, industry and commerce are not matters of party politics, but questions of life and living, and that the legislation dealing with them and the political policies adopted for their protection and preservation, must be American, and not Republican or Democratic.

Waste in administration of government, the adoption and pursuit of paternalistic projects, the squandering of the public funds in schemes and theories that are in no sense national and public, and are really matters that concern private initiative, at best are state affairs; these are things that vitally affect us all. The government as such cannot make money; every dollar it receives and spends comes out of the pockets of the people, out of the work and sweat of the men and women of America, out of the life's blood of industry and commerce; and the greater the waste of public money, the more extravagantly the affairs of government are administered, the heavier the burden placed on every energy of the people.

This is the condition we are confronted with today; and because of waste and extravagance in government, because of favoritism in treatment, indifference to public protest, a cynical contempt for administrative fair play and a proper consideration for public duty, American industry is coming to a standstill and every vital interest of the employer and worker is being sacrificed to certain personal ambitions and private enrichments.

This may be pessimism, but it is the naked truth; and it is time for all of us, regardless of parties and political predilections, to gird up our loins, get rid of illusions, partisanship and prejudice and look to the safety of our home. We are being fed with empty phrases that pay no dividends, with fine words that butter no parsnips. Every public interest and private enterprise is being subordinated to the ambitions and desires of political aspirants; and trade and traffic are being pushed off the highway to make room for the chariots and cohorts of the conquering candidates.

To serve purposes that are obscene and persons that are concealed, the shoe industry of Massachusetts is being sacrificed that prison contractors may grow rich; the criminal convict labor of Leavenworth Prison displaces the honest shoe operative of this Commonwealth; and we are calmly advised that a transaction that drives the self-respecting worker into the street to idleness, hunger and discontent has the consent and approval of the majority party in control at Washington.

A contract for the manufacture of khaki cloth for the American Marine Corps is given to a British mill and refused to an American manufacturing concern, and the plea in excuse is that the English concern can do it cheaper and provide the right dye. Which, think you, is eventually the more desirable—giving American work to alien mills to save a few dollars, or giving it to American mills to keep American workers from idleness, suffering and discontent?

I ask you again — are the vital interests of this Commonwealth served by this sort of thing? Is it wise to degrade and beggar the American worker that the ambition of some politician may be gratified? Attleboro should have something to say in this matter, some answer to make to this betrayal of our industrial fortunes, for the tide of disaster that flows over American industry eventually swamps Attleboro.

We need a radical change of policy and treatment, and that change can only come by a radical change in government and administration; those we have trusted have proven unfaithful and we must change our servants and our service, or perish.

Our domestic market through economic evils cannot consume our production and keep the wheels of industry turning; and the foreign markets needed to supplement our home consumption have slipped out of our hands, through congressional indifference, inefficiency and stupidity. The shipping that should carry our industrial products abroad is rotting at the wharves, through administrative neglect and congressional ignorance; and metaphorically Washington is fiddling while industry is dying.

Until we introduce into our affairs a robust, vigorous American maritime policy, that will fight for foreign markets, that will carry American products in American ships, so aided and protected as to compete successfully on every sea and in every market of the world, we must expect to see silent mills, arrested wheels, idle men and stark adversity all over this great country, and witness the amazing spectacle of the richest and most powerful republic in the world paralyzed and destroyed by the inefficiency of its own government, the greed of the parasites, sucking out the blood of industry and commerce, and the indifference of our representatives to conditions that spell suffering, hardship and ruin for all.

The way out is so plain that those who run may read. I am not here preaching calamity, a voice calling in the wilderness; I am here to warn and waken you; to urge you to early action to remedy the needless evils we are suffering from. A drastic, political, surgical operation is necessary, if the worker, his home and happiness are to be preserved from disaster; if industry is to function, if capital, that is our accumulated thrift, is to be saved from waste; if our resources are to be utilized and our prosperity restored. I know no danger so terrible to visualize as a vast army of workers transformed into a hungry horde of idlers through the arrogance and stupidity of political administration. This is a democracy, a government of the people; every worker is a unit of the government; employed, contented, happy, he is a bulwark for law and order; idle, discontented, unhappy he is a threat to our safety and stability. He is the government; upon him rests the whole fabric of the United States; he is the blind Samson in the snare of the political Delilah; when he moves in anger and despair he may pull down the pillars of the Temple of Liberty. When the sleeping giant awakes — then tremble.

This is the paramount question of the day and it must be settled; but it will not be settled by continuing the conditions we have. This is Attleboro's question and the question of every hamlet, town and city all over the United States, and we must settle it ourselves. Not only must we revert to older and better ideals of government, but we must discard the authors of our present evils and supplant them by men of broader, nobler vision, loyal to the ideals of justice and democracy and resolute enough to secure and maintain them.

I am not a pessimist. I am an invincible optimist. I am diagnosing our ills that we proceed to cure them. I am advising you to clean house, to get rid of the politicians that make it untenable. Let us be up and doing. Give us workers not word-mongers; men not machines. The sun is still in the heavens and the blood of America is still red. Our salvation is in our own hands.

Under our system of government, the most ideal in the world, it is essential that there be continuity of program rather than the system which obtains at the present time of sacrificing national welfare to partisan advantage. I look forward to the time in the life of America when there will be continuity of program, when seasonal unemployment will no longer obtain, when the toiler, the laborer whose brains and hands have been the creative source of national prosperity and greatness, will have some prospect other than the poor house in the closing years of his existence to look forward to, when the exploitation of children in industry will be at an end and when, animated by a common purpose and public weal, America will face the future with a people united and patriotic whose love of country is based on economic justice, and equality of opportunity and liberty.

FINANCE COMMISSION ASKS COUNCIL TO DELAY STREET LIGHTING ACTION.

The Finance Commission has made the following request of the City Council:

BOSTON, May 14, 1924.

To the Honorable the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—In response to the request of the Committee on Finance of your honorable body for any information relative to the lighting contract, the Finance Commission submits the following:

On April 3 the Finance Commission had a conference with Mr. Frederick M. Ives, attorney, representing the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in the absence of President Edgar, and with Mr. Elden, the electrical engineer of the company. At that conference Mr. Ives stated that the company could furnish the necessary electricity for 10,000 street lamps to replace the existing street gas lamps by electric lamps right away, but that the prices and conditions under which the Edison Company would be willing to undertake the service could not be stated until a study of the locations was made.

Later a letter was received from President Edgar, under date of April 10, 1924, in which he states that:

"It may be stated generally, therefore, that the company will undertake to supply any business at prices which are remunerative; provided, where new investment is required, a certain degree of permanency is assured.

"We have made no special study of the cost involved in substituting electric lamps for the 10,000 gas lamps now operated by the gas company. It is certain, however, that the initial investment expense would be considerable and it would require many months and probably years to make the entire change. I believe that all the gas lamps are in the outlying districts of Boston, but we have no record of their exact locations; if informed of the locations of the gas lamps, which it is desired to have changed, we shall be glad to have our engineers figure on the cost, and will advise further regarding the most desirable form of service and the prices and guaranties which we should expect to receive."

A few days later the Finance Commission furnished the Edison Company with plans showing the location of the street gas lamps and it understands that a study by the company for the purpose above outlined is now in progress, although it has not proceeded far enough to base an authoritative statement as to what the proposal of the Edison Company will be.

The Finance Commission believes, however, that a very large part, if not all, of the present gas lamps can be taken over by the Edison Company at prices that will result in a very great financial saving to the city over the cost of the proposed contract for street lighting by gas, and also secure much better street lighting.

There is no urgent need of any action by the Council at the present time, or until the study of the Edison Company has been completed and its proposal made.

Respectfully,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Commissioner to be allowed to construct fifty catch-basins, eleven manholes and 600 feet of minor drains in Shawmut avenue, between Warrenton street and Roxbury street, in the city proper and Roxbury districts, and that he estimates that the cost thereof will be $19,908.

CONTRACT TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Commissioner of Public Works to relay granite block paving with grout joints in Columbus avenue, from Arlington street to Tennyson street, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost being $10,000.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

M. F. Gaddis has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying bitulithic pavement in Washington street, West Roxbury, from Denton terrace to West Roxbury Parkway. Items ordered: Haul surplus paving blocks to West Roxbury Paving Yard. Price to be paid for hauling blocks, the sum of $0.25 (twenty-five cents) per square yard. Estimated cost of extra work, $90.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

J. C. Coleman & Sons Company have been allowed to amend their contract for grading of lot of proposed East Boston High School in the Chapman District, East Boston (White street), by striking out the words and figures, "October 1, 1923," on page 12, Section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "June 1, 1924," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said Section 3, on page 12, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about August 6, 1923, and is to be completed on or before June 1, 1924."

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, May 5, 1924.

Meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock
p. m., President DONOGHUE in the chair.
Absent, Coun. Moriarty.

RENT AND HOUSING COMMISSION'S FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 5, 1924.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—The funds available for the continuance of the Rent and Housing Commission are about exhausted and it being desirable, in the interests of the public, that this safeguard against usurious property owners be maintained, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $6,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Committee on Rent and Housing, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

EQUIPPING OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 5, 1924.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—The Out-Patient Department building of the Boston City Hospital is about completed, at a cost estimated at $600,000.
The City Hospital Trustees estimate that an additional appropriation of $70,000 will be necessary to furnish and equip the building.

I had sincerely hoped that the General Court of Massachusetts would permit of the $13 tax limit so that this additional $70,000 might be provided for out of taxes; due to the failure of the General Court to allow the amount which in the opinion of the financial authorities of the city was necessary, I am obliged to request that you approve the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $70,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the City Hospital Trustees for the furnishing and equipping of the new Out-Patient Department, and that to meet said appropriation the City

Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

VETO OF NEYLON ANNUITY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 29, 1924.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, your order for the payment of an annuity to the widow of Patrick J. Neylon, late a member of the Boston Fire Department.
The opinion of the Corporation Counsel in a similar case permits of no other action on my part.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

THE ANNUAL BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 5, 1924.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—In accordance with section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 I submit herewith the estimates of the several departments for the fiscal year 1924-25, with my recommendations thereon.

This year the statutory tax limit for general municipal purposes is identical with that of last year, namely, $12.75 on the thousand.
The amount that can be raised by taxes within the $12.75 limit is $21,052,805.51, to which should be added the estimated income and cash in treasury of $6,148,142.34, making a total available for general municipal purposes of $27,200,947.85, and I recommend the appropriation of the total amount.

Provision has been made in the municipal budget as here submitted for wage increases and salary adjustments affecting 9,200 persons in the employ of the city. These advances represent a greater increase in the number of persons to be benefited and in the amount of money represented by the benefits to be enjoyed than ever previously accorded in the history of the City of Boston.

The increases in the case of the lower paid workers represent a measure of justice to which they are entitled, not only because of the character of labor performed but because of the living costs which prevail at the present time.

I sincerely trust the Council in its wisdom will see fit to approve the increases as recommended and which I regard as an important factor in the stabilizing of the saving wage which resulted from the shortage of man power during the period of the World War and the economic necessity for which is today recognized by every student of economic conditions.

The salary increase schedule contained in the budget for 1924-25 this day submitted provides that salary increases of all city employees shall be effective as of April 4, with the exception of patrolmen and firemen, whose salary increases will be as of August 1, 1924.

The number of persons affected by the salary and wage changes and the amount in each case is here presented:

3,000	Laborers, janitors, teamsters, etc. ($4 to $4.50 per day).
1,000	Mechanics, gardeners, etc. ($5 to $5.50 per day).
1,729	Patrolmen, $100 flat increase as of August 1, and $100 step rate increase to men below maximum.
1,103	Firemen, $100 flat increase as of August 1 and $100 step rate increase to men below maximum.
650	Hospital employees, $100 per annum.
471	Nurses, $100 per annum.
400	Clerks, $100 per annum.
212	Library employees, $100 per annum.
207	Matrons, $100 per annum.
150	Drawtenders, $100 per annum.
80	Custodians, $100 per annum.
70	Stenographers $100 per annum.
30	Telephone operators, $100 per annum.
93	Miscellaneous ratings, $100 per annum.

I regret the delay I have necessarily been put to in submitting the budget, but the bill increasing the tax limit of the City of Boston did not become law until May 1, and without definite knowledge of what appropriating power would be available I was unable to transmit the budget estimates to your honorable body. It will now require extraordinary effort on the part of the City Council to pass the budget in order that funds may be provided necessary for the execution of departmental work, as we are now close to the time when the expenditures permitted by law prior to the adoption of the appropriation bill will be exhausted.

This budget is submitted in substitution for the one filed with your honorable body on February 29, 1924.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1924-25.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning the first day of February, 1924, or performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be and the same are hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1924, exclusive of the money raised by loan or need to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1924, and taxes to the amount of $30,235,564.75, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax of the year 1924, or any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the fifteenth day of October, 1924; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the first day of November, 1924, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the fifteenth day of October, 1924, until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or by transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item; and except as aforesaid, no salaries or wages shall be paid in excess of the rates specified in said tables and schedule.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriation.

PAYMENT TO PARENTS OF PETER P. OGINSKIS.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LAYING OUT NEW MINOT STREET.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners lay out New Minot street, between Carruth and Adams streets, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. WALSH called up No. 1, under unfinished business, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 28, 1924, of Jeremiah E. Connor, Fred G. Trask and Thomas F. Coffey, Jr., to be Constables.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Lane and Walsh. Whole number of ballots 7, yeas 7, and the appointments were confirmed.

SALE OF EASEMENT IN WEST ROXBURY.

President DONOGHUE called up under unfinished business, No. 5, viz.:

5. Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston to sell at private sale an easement, and the right to use a certain parcel of land situated at the corner of Washington street and Tower street in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, containing six thousand two hundred and eighty-one (6,281) square feet of land, more or less, to Patrick J. Brady, his heirs and assigns, for the sum of four thousand dollars, and to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the City of Boston a deed of said easement in said premises to the said Patrick J. Brady, his heirs and assigns, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston. Said premises are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Washington Street, Tower Street, West Roxbury, January 26, 1917, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and the said plan is on file in the office of said department.

Said easement shall be so limited that the City of Boston and its assigns shall at all times have control of the sewerage works now located in and passing through said premises, and all manholes, coverings and appurtenances thereto belonging, and the right to forever maintain and use said sewerage works as they are now located or may hereafter be located on said premises for all the purposes of a public sewer and the right of the City of Boston to enter upon said premises or any part thereof at any and all times to maintain, repair, construct or reconstruct said sewerage works, and the said easement shall be limited so that no structure or building shall be placed or erected upon said premises which shall in any way interfere with the use and maintenance of said sewerage works or be placed or rested upon any part thereof, and that no building or structure shall be placed or erected upon said premises which shall interfere with or impede the right of the City of Boston to enter upon the said premises for the purpose of maintaining, repairing, constructing or reconstructing said sewerage works as they are now located or may hereafter be located, and said easement shall be so limited that no building or structure shall be placed or erected upon said premises without the written approval of the Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston with the written assent of the Mayor.

On April 14, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 7, nays none.

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Lane, Purcell, Walsh, Watson—7.

RECESS.

President DONOGHUE ordered a recess at 2.32 o'clock p. m. and the Council reassembled and was called to order by the President at 2.45 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Reports recommending that leave be granted on the following petitions (referred today), allowing children to appear in places of public amusement:

Cecile A. Mara, Jordan Hall, May 15, 1924.
Jennie M. Trainor, Convention Hall, May 24, 1924.

Nellie Ferguson Jordan Hall, May 28, 1924.
Gertrude D. DePetro, Jordan Hall, May 26 and 27, 1924.

Reports accepted, leave granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) to accept act of the Legislature authorizing payment of a sum of money to the parents of Peter P. Oginskis,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order submitted by his Honor the Mayor today appropriating $6,000, for the Committee on Rent and Housing—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

4. Report on order submitted by his Honor the Mayor today appropriating $70,000 for furnishing and equipping the new Out-Patient Department of the City Hospital—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed yeas 8, nays 0.

FENCE FOR JOHN W. MURPHY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. PURCELL offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to provide an appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose of providing a suitable fence at the John W. Murphy Playground for the protection of the adjoining property.

Coun. PURCELL—Mr. President, this is something very much needed in the district. Windows are broken there every day. In one house a woman has had twenty-two baseballs come through her windows. Sitting at the window the other day she had a baseball hit her between the eyes. Under the conditions a wire fence should be put up to protect people. It is on two streets. I move a suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECONSIDERATION REFUSED.

On motion of Coun. WALSH reconsideration of all action taken today was refused.

Adjourned at 2.50 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. HEALY, to meet on Monday, May 12, at 2 o'clock p. m.

CITY OF BOSTON.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR REPAIRING, CLEANSING, AND PRESSING OVERCOATS.

The Fire Commissioner of the City of Boston invites sealed proposals for the repairing, cleansing, and pressing of approximately 1,400 uniform overcoats of the Boston Fire Department. These proposals must be in accordance with forms and specifications which may be obtained at the office of the Fire Commissioner, 60 Bristol street, Boston. Proposals will be received at the office of the Fire Commissioner, 60 Bristol street, until 12 m., Tuesday, May 27, 1924, and at that time will be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be sealed and made in duplicate, one to be deposited with the City Auditor at City Hall previous to the time stated for opening the bids and the other is to be deposited at the office of the Fire Commissioner. The latter proposal shall contain a certified check for two hundred (200) dollars, made payable to the City of Boston, and to be forfeited if the accepted proposal is not carried out. All proposals should be marked on the outside, "Proposal for Repairing, Cleansing and Pressing Overcoats." A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars. The Fire Commissioner reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to award the contract as he deems best.

BOSTON'S EXPERIMENT WITH RUBBER PAVING FOR STREETS MEETING WITH SUCCESS.

SECTIONS LAID TWO WEEKS AGO ON THE NORTHERN AVENUE BRIDGE WHERE TRAFFIC IS HEAVY SHOWS NO SIGNS OF TRACKING AND IS NOISELESS.

Boston is making a special test of rubber pavement and is the second city of the country to undertake to find a more suitable paving material for general wear than is at present employed and is apparently succeeding.

Sections of rubber street pavement were laid on Northern avenue draw span on May 7 and on May 14, 1924, where traffic, both horse-drawn and motor vehicle, is extremely heavy.

This is the second section of rubber pavement laid in the United States, a very small section having been laid in Racine, Wis. The section laid in Racine was 2 inches thick, whereas the rubber pavement laid on Northern Avenue Bridge is but 1 inch thick.

The pavement is laid on two sections of roadway, one of which is confined wholly to the traffic of horse-driven vehicles and the other section confined wholly to the traffic of motor vehicles, so that a test can be obtained of the wear under both kinds of traffic.

The paving consists of blocks 6 inches wide, 12 inches long and 1 inch thick. Underneath the paving is a layer of 2-inch tongued and grooved plank to which it is nailed and this tongued and grooved plank is in turn spiked to the 5-inch plank floor of the bridge.

The paving blocks are constructed with two semicircular flaps on the side, $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick and one flap on each end, which project out from the blocks at the base and fit into corresponding recesses in the base of another block. A rubberized cement is used to cement the blocks to the plank floor and to the adjacent blocks and drive screws are driven through the circular flaps to hold the block in place. The blocks are laid close so that the paving is made very nearly watertight.

A crew of four men, unfamiliar with the work, laid the paving at the rate of 100 square feet per hour and with increased familiarity with the work the cost of laying this paving, including the cement and spikes, but excluding the cost of the block itself, would be considerably under 10 cents a square foot. The cost of the block itself is at present somewhat problematical and would depend on the demand that would develop, but from present indications paving of

MAYOR CHARGES ELECTION AUCTION BY REPUBLICANS.

Mayor Curley sent the following communications May 16:

HON. DAVID I. WALSH, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.:

MY DEAR SENATOR,—Your telegram addressed to me this day in answer to communication forwarded you under date of May 13, relative to solicitation of campaign funds for the Republican Party and in which communication was included a paragraph clearly indicating that it was the purpose of those in charge of the raising of funds to violate the statutes, both federal and state, has resulted in the receipt by this office of additional requests for funds and would rather strengthen the opinion expressed in the original communication that it is the purpose to conduct an auction rather than an election, unless the federal and state authorities intervene.

I have taken the liberty of forwarding copies of all communications to your colleague, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, in addition to forwarding copies to you, and have likewise directed the attention of the Attorney-General of Massachusetts to a request for funds which has been circulated in the city of Newton in the name of Thomas W. White, Supervisor of Administration in the Department of Administration and Finance of this state, a Republican office holder, and which communication is clearly in violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

HON. JAY R. BENTON, Attorney-General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, State House, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to forward herewith copy of communication received by me this day and signed by a member of the Massachusetts Board of Finance and Administration.

A communication of this character, circulated through the mails by an employee of the state, is clearly a violation of section 11, chapter 55, of the General Laws, and I am forwarding the same for such action as you may deem proper.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

SECTION 11, CHAP. 55, GENERAL LAWS.

No person holding any public office of employment under the Commonwealth or any country, city or town, shall directly or indirectly demand, solicit, or receive any gift, payment, contribution, assessment, subscription or promise of money or other things of value for the political campaign purposes of any candidate or for any political purpose whatever, but this section shall not prevent such persons from being members of political organizations or committees.

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

TO THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquees, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

TO Room 604, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the supplying or metering of water and the water charges of the city.

TO THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Room 1107, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the inspection of milk, vinegar, meat, fish and vegetables, the issuance of permits for stables, slaughter houses, etc., smoke nuisances, the existence of contagious diseases or public health nuisances.

TO THE BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS, 33 Beacon street, for information as to the care of the Common, Public Garden, Franklin Park, Franklin Field, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Marine Park and the small parks and playgrounds in general throughout the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. MAYOR NAMES TEMPORARY COMMITTEE FOR 300TH ANNIVERSARY OF SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

A preliminary survey committee on plans for the City of Boston Tercentenary has been appointed by Mayor Curley to be the official custodian of suggestions and ideas of all sorts which may be possibly and appropriately employed in the final completed plan for the observance in 1930 of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston. In the opinion of the Mayor six years is none too long for making adequate preparations for an event of such magnitude and one which suggests so many possibilities.

The preliminary committee has been named and the present plan of procedure approved as an outcome of recommendations submitted by the Citizens' Public Celebrations Association.

The committee, which is made up of several men and women who have done much for public celebrations and civic betterment, is purely temporary in character and will cease to function after making its final report unless the Mayor should choose to continue its existence for a longer period. The members of the committee are:

Frank Chouteau Brown, chairman; John B. Archibald, Edward L. Curran, Elisabeth M. Herlihy, Frank Leveroni, James H. Phelan, Walter K. Watkins, Eva Whiting White. Advisors to the committee: J. Philip O'Connell and Wilfred F. Kelley. Secretary to the committee, E. B. Mero.

The immediate purposes are as follows:

"The committee will assemble information from various sources, it may encourage advance discussion of ways in which the anniversary should be observed, receive and classify plans or suggestions from various sources, consult individuals and organizations, consider personnel and other details of a permanent committee, and finally formulate and made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. TO Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

submit to the Mayor a report as complete as may be possible to serve as the basis of the organization that will deal with the actual preparation for the events of 1930."

Arrangements will be made for several meetings at which suggestions from citizens of Boston from organized groups and other sources to be considered by the committee relative to methods of giving proper municipal recognition to the Tercentenary. Due notice will be given publicly of the time and place for presenting plans and ideas. As soon as these suggestions can be considered and assembled, the preliminary survey committee will complete its report to the Mayor with recommendations for the observance in 1930 and for such permanent form of organization as will seem best adapted to carry out the recommendation.

The City Council has made a small appropriation for current incidental expenses of the official Tercentenary Committee and no financial contributions are solicited or desired at this time.

RUBBER PAVING FOR STREETS.

this type, 1 inch thick, may be laid for $14 a square yard.

The rubber paving has been down for a couple of weeks and so far there is no sign of any failure on either section of the roadway. The calks of the horses' shoes and the heavy steel tires apparently make no impression on the rubber surface. It is noiseless and according to indications is not slippery, although it was thought that it might in wet weather become slippery and for this reason some the paving is grooved.

The blocks were furnished without cost to the city, through the courtesy of the Wright Rubber Products Company of Racine, Wis.

The Mayor has been very much interested in the possibilities of this type of pavement and has encouraged everybody connected with the making of the experiment.

MAYOR CURLEY APPEALS DIRECT TO LEGISLATURE FOR MORE HUMANE STATE PRISON.

POINTS TO FACT THAT DESPITE ADVERSE ACTION OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS IT IS NOT COMPATIBLE WITH HUMANE PROGRESS IN PRISON WELFARE AND ASKS FAVORABLE ACTION ON DEER ISLAND SITE.

To the Members of the General Court:

House 1270 is the report of the Special Commission on a new state prison. This report carries with it recommended legislation, which, if passed, would make effective the will of the Legislature of 1923, and the almost unanimous wish of all persons in the Commonwealth who have publicly manifested any special interest in giving the Commonwealth a modern, humane state prison.

The Committee on Public Institutions has reported unfavorably upon the bill recommended to the Legislature by the Special State Prison Commission. It was manifest to all persons present at the public hearing given by the Committee on Public Institutions on March 27 that most of the members of that committee were opposed to a change in location of the state prison, despite their effort to mask their real hostility to the Special Commission's report and recommended bill.

The Committee on Public Institutions seems to have misconceived its functions with respect to the matter now pending before them. The Legislature of 1923 authorized the appointment of a special commission with instructions to make a study of the sites available for a state prison and to report to the next Legislature the results of their investigations, together with a recommendation of a proper site other than Charlestown, and adequate and definite plans for a new state prison.

That special commission has made its report. It finds and so reports that Deer Island in Boston Harbor is the best available site for a state prison. With its report it submits a bill authorizing the state to take over Deer Island at a price to be determined by a board of arbitrators, one of whom shall be appointed by the Governor, one by the Mayor of Boston, and the third by these two so appointed. Expecting that this report would be accepted by this Legislature, the Governor and the Mayor each appointed a representative and these two in turn selected a third, who acted as an informal commission to determine the fair price to be paid by the Commonwealth to the City of Boston for Deer Island and the buildings thereon. Mr. Maurice H. Maney, an architect, construction engineer and expert appraiser on property values of forty years' experience, representing the City of Boston, after a very careful and lengthy investigation of the properties at Deer Island and the market value of island property, made a detailed report to the effect that these properties were worth over a million and a half dollars, but without fixing any definite or final price therefor. Mr. Homer Loring, chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, the Governor's appointee to this board of arbitrators, recommended approximately $500,000, and was frank to state to his associates that he fixed this price on the theory that the state prison should not be moved from its present location and that the property was being offered for sale by an "anxious seller," the City of Boston, to an "indifferent buyer," the Commonwealth. The third member of this board, who was Mr. Howard Coonley, suggested the price of $850,000.

The Legislative Committee on Public Institutions gave a public hearing which was attended by the members of the New State Prison Commission, the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, representing myself, and some few other persons. The members of the committee took occasion to remark that the slim attendance at that hearing indicated an indifference on the part of the public toward the proposed removal of the state prison. Mrs. Fearing, one of the members of the Special Commission, adequately replied that the Legislature of 1923 had practically settled the question and for that reason the hundreds of persons who attended the hearing on this question in 1923 did not feel any necessity of appearing before the committee of this year, whose only function was to accept or reject the specific recommendation of the Special Commission, the major question itself having already been very definitely settled by the Legislature of the previous year. At that hearing the Corporation Counsel was asked if the City of Boston would accept $1,000,000 for Deer Island and his reply was that the City of Boston would set no price that could be regarded as obstructive of the will of the people and the express wish of the Legislature of Massachusetts; that we would content ourselves with permitting the Legislature, or any board appointed by it to fix a price, the true value of the property owned by the city at Deer Island. Mr. Sullivan further observed that Mr. Loring, who had expressed his indifference, in fact, his opposition to moving the state prison from its present site, had accurately characterized the attitude of the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, when he said that it was the case of an "indifferent buyer" and an "anxious seller"; that if the Committee on Public Institutions and other persons representing the state accurately reflect the attitude of the state toward the removal of the state prison from Charlestown, the state was an indifferent buyer, and in view of the fact that the City of Boston and myself as its Mayor were both very anxious to co-operate with those responsible for this humanitarian movement, that would give to the Commonwealth a modern state prison, sanitary, healthful and fit for human habitation and measuring up to the standards set by modern penologists, that indeed the City of Boston was an "anxious seller" and so anxious was the City of Boston to let the Commonwealth have Deer Island that neither I nor the city government of Boston would neglect any opportunity to further this humane project.

Property in Boston Harbor in recent years sold at varying prices, the lowest of which, if accepted as a fair standard of value for the property at Deer Island, would place the value of this property far above the million dollar mark, the figure suggested by the Committee on Public Institutions to the city's representative.

If the Legislature of this year shall fail to carry out the wish of the people and its own expressed determination of last year, then it must be made clear that any blame therefor does not rest upon the people of Boston or their Mayor and City Council. The blame will fall just where it belongs, upon the Massachusetts Legislature. The Special Commission has done its work well, intelligently and sympathetically with the wish of the people as it has already been expressed. I, myself, stand ready to give every aid and assistance in pleading this great humanitarian work.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

NEW PLAYGROUND FOR SOUTH BOSTON CHILDREN.

THOMAS P. GLYNN, Chairman, School-house Department, 1009 City Hall Annex:

DEAR SIR,—The City of Boston on two occasions has endeavored to dispose of old Police Station 6 on Broadway, South Boston, without success. In my opinion the razing of old Police Station 6, with the stable adjoining, would provide an excellent play space for the children attending the Parkman School at South Boston, and I would appreciate your conferring with the chairman of the School Committee at once with a view to securing the assent of the School Committee to this program.

In the event that it meets with the favor of the School Committee kindly inform me and I shall have the necessary order presented to the City Council for the transfer of this property without expense to the School Committee.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

THANK MAYOR FOR AID IN MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS FOR CITIZENS.

Mayor Curley received the following letter May 17:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST CORPS AREA, ARMY BASE.

BOSTON, May 15, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—I was very much pleased to learn from General Brewster that your son would attend the training camp at Devens this year. I have heard from different sources of his outstanding qualities and he will be a real asset to the camp.

May I take advantage of this opportunity to thank you for the many ways in which you have been assisting us in our campaign for enrollment this year. Every few days I hear of something that you have done to further the movement that has brought appreciable results.

BOSTON FAR AHEAD OF BALANCE OF COUNTRY IN MATTER OF SPRINKLER REQUIREMENTS.

BUILDING COMMISSIONER JOHN H. MAHONY MAKES REPORT TO MAYOR CURLEY ON RESULT OF BUILDING OFFICIALS' CONFERENCE IN LOUISVILLE, KY., IN APRIL.

BOSTON, May 19, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR:—With your approval I attended the tenth annual meeting of the Building Officials' Conference in Louisville, Ky., on April 8, 9, 10 and 11, 1924.

The Building Officials' Conference was composed of approximately one hundred members; twenty subscribing members representing manufacturers of building material, and the others representing the largest cities of this country, extending as far south as Dallas Tex.; as far west as Los Angeles, Cal., and Portland, Ore.; northwest to Minneapolis, Minn.; and north to Boston, Mass., and it even extends its membership to Toronto, Canada.

All cities with over twenty-five thousand inhabitants are eligible for membership. This includes cities presided over by one man to the larger departments of New York with its five burroughs, to Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Boston.

With this scattered membership one comes in contact with men of varied experiences, of various degrees of competency in engineering, building construction, architecture and legal requirements, and also with men of ability along administrative lines.

With a group of such men assembled in a conference, all taking a particular interest in all the proceedings of the program, the amount of knowledge thus obtained is of great value; in other words, one sees how the same problems are handled by other commissioners.

In this respect it is interesting to know that about the same problems are engaging the attention of the heads of the building departments throughout this country, the only difference being as to the degree. These problems are as follows:

All the cities of the country are rearranging, codifying or writing a new building code. It seems as though we will never arrive at a time when we are all satisfied with a complete commonsense law on building construction. The code is either out of date or made up of so many amendments, or being revised, that it is almost impossible to understand, and in most every city the head of the department is required to have legal knowledge as well as a knowledge of engineering, architecture and mechanics.

The city of New York has one of the most complete codes of this country. This code is the result of long scientific study, costing between two and three hundred thousand dollars, and it is even now undertaking some changes.

No code is able to stand in force (with many changes each year) a very long time. In most cities these changes are made by the local city authorities or by the state legislature as is the case with the City of Boston.

The subject of building codes is of such importance as to engage the attention of the United States Department of Commerce. Secretary Hoover is attempting to standardize building construction throughout this country so that the American people will be able to construct buildings of similar occupancy along standard lines of construction with a minimum cost. The work already done is of great value to cities contemplating a complete revision or to other cities that are revising their codes.

The results of the studies made by the United States Department of Commerce and the United States Bureau of Standards are of such value and importance to the building trade that it should be encouraged and strengthened by all those who take an interest along these lines.

The next subject of importance that is engaging the attention of the building officials is the subject of municipal zoning. Almost every city is struggling with its problem and in many cities like Boston, the subject is entirely a new one, and consequently it will take some time to work out all its many and varied problems.

Many problems present themselves to the building commissioner because he is the official who must, in most all the cities, enforce the zoning requirements. The zoning law, like all new laws, at the first study, presents many perplexing problems and in many cities the first few years of its enforcement is met with great opposition.

For instance, the city of New York is now operating under a zoning law that is about seven years old. The zoning director told the legislative committees that during the first year of the zoning law in the city of New York the law was amended with a view of lessening the requirements at a ratio of three to one; last year strengthening amendments were taken at a ratio of three to one, thus showing that when the people understand the benefits obtained under the zoning law, it is almost universally approved.

Some of the opponents to the zoning law were heard to say that zoning was only applicable to new communities, but this is not so. It is also necessary in the old congested cities.

It might be interesting to know that the City of Boston was the first city of this country to zone the city for height of buildings in certain sections. This work so well begun is now to be continued by the introduction of your Honor's bill now before the State Legislature for a complete zoning of the whole city.

The third subject of importance was the relation of the architect with the building department. As this is a subject on which a paper was read, I will deal with this more in detail later.

The fourth subject that was considered more especially in round-table gossip, or in the conversation of small groups, was the question of responsibility after disaster sometimes resulting in loss of lives. It is the history of municipal building departments throughout the country that the commissioner, at some time in his tenure, has to meet a building disaster. Immediately the public demands an investigation, and if the disaster causes the loss of life the building inspector or the building commissioner sometimes is indicted by the local grand jury. After a most complete investigation it is generally found that the building department used reasonable care in the examination of the plans or was reasonably diligent in the inspection of the building during erection, and that the cause of disaster was some imperfect piece of construction performed by some unlicensed mechanic, very few cities requiring building mechanics to be licensed, Boston being one of the few that does require them to be licensed.

Sometimes the public demands far too much from the building inspector. All he can hope to accomplish is to so arrange his many inspections each day as to give a reasonable amount of time to each job. He is not expected to be a clerk of works or a general superintendent.

The next subjects taken into consideration were the amount of time that the building department should take in the examination of plans, the completeness of plans, the checking of first-class and steel construction, the granting of partial approvals so as to commence construction, the number of employees, the cost of maintenance, the use of automobiles for large districts or districts of great distance from the head office. All these subjects were discussed in detail; many will never be settled, but in all of them information of great value is obtained.

The "National Monthly Building Survey," prepared by S. W. Straus & Co., dated April 1, 1924, contains the figures for the first quarter of this year which amounted to approximately $984,055,102, or approximately three and one half billions of dollars for the year. This shows a gain of over 11 per cent of the first quarter of 1923 which was about 40 per cent ahead of the first quarter of 1922. As this organization represents over one billion and a half dollars in permits granted, one can readily see the importance of this conference.

The conference opened on Tuesday, April 8, at 10 o'clock a. m., with an address of welcome by Mayor Huston Quin, who extended the courtesy of the city government and local building commissioner. He informed the members of the conference of the manufacturing and railroad importance of the city, and in a well-chosen, witty speech acquainted the commission with the city's history and what it hoped to accomplish in the future.

The first paper read was on "Building Exits Code" and was read by Mr. Charles McDermott, State Inspector of School Buildings at Trenton, New Jersey. This paper was submitted only as a progressive report and was not complete. It contained much valuable information as regards egress from school buildings.

On the subject of elevators a most complete and lengthy report was read by a representative of Mr. Charles Brady of the Borough of Manhattan, New York City. The following are the most important features of his report:

The number of passenger elevators in the Borough of Manhattan has increased from 2,800 in the year 1898, to 12,375 at the close of the year 1922, and the estimated daily passenger traffic has correspondingly increased from 1,260,000 to 9,275,000. The estimated number of miles traveled daily by the elevator cars is more than 48,000 miles.

The number of accidents reported in connection with passenger and freight elevators during the year 1922 was 74, of which 89 per cent were of a preventable nature, 69 per cent occurred at the entrance to the hoistway, 54 per cent due to carelessness of the operator and 9 per cent to carelessness of the passenger.

The relation of the number of fatal accidents to the number of passengers carried during the year 1922 was as 1 to 168,750,000, and the corresponding relation of the total number of accidents to the total number of passengers carried was as 1 to 50,000,000.

In the year 1923, 120 accidents in connection with passenger and freight elevators were reported. This is an increase of 38 per cent over the number reported in 1922; 95 per cent of these accidents were of a preventable nature; 75 per cent occurred at the entrance to the hoistway; 64 per cent due to carelessness of the operator, and 10.8 per cent to the carelessness of the passengers; 15.83 per cent due to defects in machines, equipment and maintenance, but notwithstanding this fact not one fatality occurred on passenger elevators as a result of the failure of machine ropes or equipment, and only fourteen passengers were injured from such failures during 1923.

The following are the elevator statistics relative to elevators and elevator operation in the City of Boston for the years 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923:

CITY OF BOSTON BUILDING DEPARTMENT, ELEVATOR STATISTICS FOR THE YEARS 1920-23 (INCLUSIVE).

ESTIMATED NUMBER OF PASSENGERS CARRIED ON PASSENGER ELEVATORS DURING THE YEAR 1923.

Total number carried.....	1,686,866,500
Number carried illegally (unlicensed operators) two fatal accidents.....	14,028,000
Number carried by licensed operators with no fatal accidents.....	1,672,838,500

One hundred and twenty-six times as safe with licensed operators as with unlicensed operators.

In estimating the number of passengers carried on passenger elevators actual count was taken in several typical buildings and this formed a basis from which to derive the total number carried. Allowances were made for Sundays and holidays, for apartment houses and for private dwellings.

You will note that according to the report of the Superintendent of Buildings, Borough of Manhattan, for the year 1923, that the ratio of the number of fatal accidents to the number of passengers carried was one to fifty millions, while in the City of Boston for the same period it was none in one thousand six hundred and seventy-two millions. On freight elevators our records show that during the past nine years there has been no fatal accident on freight elevators under the control of licensed operators.

In New York (Borough of Manhattan) for he year 1923 the percentage of increase of elevator accidents over 1922 was 38 per cent; in Boston for the same period it was only 24.5 per cent. These remarkable figures bear out the contention of the department that as far as elevator travel is concerned, conditions of safety and security in Boston are far superior to conditions in other cities of the country.

The paper on "Walkway Surfaces," a very interesting progressive report, was read by H. W. Mowery, secretary, Sectional Committee. The report was only in part as the subject embraced such a large amount of detail matter and the committee working on the same coming from great distances, it was impossible to complete the subject at this time.

Some headway has been accomplished on the subject of walkway surfaces in stairways of hotels, theaters, railway stations, and department stores. It was recommended that rough surfaces be substituted in all cases for slippery, highly-polished surfaces of marbles and mosaic and when these surfaces are substituted the number of accidents have been greatly reduced.

It was interesting to know that a number of elevator accidents are due to slippery, highly-polished elevator thresholds, and on this particular point considerable information was recommended for safety.

The committee hopes to be able to complete its work by the next annual conference and, when published, it will contain a most complete and valuable specification on this subject of walkway surfaces.

Rudolph P. Miller read a good report on the subject of "Fire Tests" on different building materials.

The report on the subject of "Simplified Practice" was read by Frank P. Cartwright, technical secretary, Building Code Committee, United States Department of Commerce. Mr. Cartwright explained that it was the purpose of the committee after research and investigation to so report its findings to the manufacturers of building materials, that a great saving of labor, and cost of machinery, should result in a more simplified method of producing the same results.

For instance, it was found on investigation that of the one hundred and twenty-five different kinds of metal lath, twenty-four would in most all cases be sufficient.

Reductions should be made along the following lines: Range boilers from 130 to 13; paving bricks from 66 to 6; asphalt paving bricks from 102 to 10; face building bricks from 39 to 1; common bricks from 36 to 1, and an equal reduction could be made in all plumbing fixtures.

If these results can be obtained a saving of millions of dollars would result.

Mr. Ira H. Woolson of the National Board of Fire Underwriters read a progressive report on the work of the Building Code Committee, United States Department of Commerce. He explained that the subject was so gigantic that the committee has not been able to finish its work on the subject of building codes. It has practically completed its work on frame dwellings and brick dwellings and has distributed quite a complete volume on this subject. Mr. Woolson expressed a desire for any information on this subject that would be helpful to the committee, or any other building construction information that the committee needs for compiling a building code.

Mr. J. F. Downey, Building Commissioner of Cambridge, Mass., read a paper on the building code requirements for the proper use of lime. This paper contained information on the proper mixing and best preparations for use of lime mortar in brick and stone masonry, and also the amount of time and proper conditions for slacking of lime.

"Sprinkler Requirements." James G. Houghton, Inspector of Buildings, Minneapolis, Minn., submitted a partial report on requirements that a building code should contain relative to sprinkler equipment in buildings of a hazardous occupancy.

The City of Boston is so far in advance of most cities of this country on this subject that little of value was obtained from this paper.

The City of Boston is one of the few cities that contains a sub-division in its Building Department inspecting nothing but sprinkler installations.

Mr. Frank Burton, commissioner, Department of Buildings and Safety Engineering, Detroit, Mich., read a paper on "Limestone Requirements." As this subject was of great importance only a progressive report was submitted at this time.

"Minimum Live Load Requirements for Use in Design of Buildings." This subject has been dealt with in great detail by the United States Department of Commerce, Building Code Committee, and they have recently issued a pamphlet on this subject that contains some surprising information.

Almost every building code in this country contains a live-load section, and in many cases quite a range of live loading is indicated; for instance, in office buildings, the number of building codes examined numbered one hundred and six; in floors not used by the public the live load requirements ranged from twenty-five pounds to one hundred and fifty pounds per square foot. This wide difference is shown in the table in most all the different occupancies of buildings.

Now, as is the case in designing an office building, either twenty-five pounds per square foot is too low, or one hundred and fifty pounds per square foot is too excessive; so the United States Department of Commerce is endeavoring to standardize all live load requirements for the same occupancy throughout the country. When this is accomplished and a reasonable live load numeral arrived at, the first step will be accomplished in the reduction of the high cost of construction.

"Efficiency in a Building Department." This paper was read by H. E. Plummer, Inspector of Buildings, Portland, Ore., and it was one paper that was widely discussed by the conference. It contained much that was important and much that was highly impracticable and never could be carried out to a logical conclusion.

With the exception of the paper on the legal aspects, it was the most lengthy report and contained much information in office requirements and inspection data.

Its main lines of thought were almost identical with the office organization of the Boston Building Department or any like department of equal size and importance.

The author of the paper stated that the cost of maintenance of municipal building departments varied from 25 cents to 75 cents per capita. Boston's cost comes between the points—42 cents.

"The Relation Between the Architect and the Building Department" was submitted by Brinton B. Davis, architect, of Louisville, Ky., and it was shown by this report that many architects show a complete misunderstanding of their cities' building codes, and by incomplete plans increase the difficulties of their local department.

It was also shown that with most architects their duties end with the granting of the building department and it was suggested that all architects be either licensed or be obliged to register.

The need of greater restrictions in the issuance of permits to persons competent to design and willing to assume responsibility for safe construction was again emphasized as it has been at previous meetings.

"The Building Inspector as he Appears to the Public." This paper was read by Mr. Frank P. Cartwright, technical secretary, Building Code Committee, United States Department of Commerce. He indicated that the functions of the building inspector and the place occupied by the building regulations in the general scheme of municipal administration, are generally misunderstood. Among the points made are: That many building codes are out of date; that appropriations for the administration of the building laws are inadequate; that building permits are issued to persons of questionable competence and responsibility to carry out safe construction; that the public generally regard the inspector as nothing more than a job holder; that the official has not adequate discretion; and that building officials are often unjustly held responsible for failure to anticipate unsafe construction and to apprehend violations of law.

The officials were guests of the Board of Trade of Louisville at a luncheon held at the Brown Hotel on Wednesday, April 9, Arthur D. Allen, president, presiding.

Mr. Rudolph P. Miller, president of the Building Officials' Conference, also addressed the meeting, calling attention to the dangers of too large a city, and he also called attention to the officials of small cities that they should endeavor to use all their energy to guard against construction of large buildings in small areas with a view of spreading them out into the suburbs.

A paper on "The Scope and Limitations of a Building Code" was read by George R. Hauser, Building Commissioner, Cincinnati, O.

Mr. Hauser cautioned the framers of new codes in the brevity of codes, the plain language of codes, and the proper use of building language that can be readily understood by laymen and mechanics.

Mr. Fred W. Lumis, Building Commissioner of the City of Springfield, Mass., read a paper on "Non-Occupancy Structures," such as gas holders, storage tanks, coal elevators and such like structures.

Mr. Lumis called the attention of the conference to the collapse of the molasses tank in the City of Boston as an example as to the importance of building codes to contain more stringent laws governing the construction of such like structures.

Mr. R. G. Kimbell read a most complete paper on the subject of "Building Code Limitations on Floor Areas in Buildings." His paper was submitted in a printed form and the whole subject is contained in the "American Architect" under date of March 26, 1924, with formulas and tables which show how complete this subject has been studied.

"The Standardization of Specifications for Steel Construction" was presented by Lee H. Miller of Cleveland, O, who explained by lantern slides and formulas the necessity of standard practice in the construction and design of steel framed buildings.

Among other things the reasons for using in these new specifications a column formula which is deemed theoretically correct, as against an empirical straight-line formula, were outlined, but they were not received as conclusive.

Mr. T. J. Foster, president, National Bridge Works, Long Island City, New York, submitted plans and details of a "Lattice Rolled Steel Beam," which he claimed was a new development in steel shapes with a view of reducing the cost of building construction.

"Investigations on Stucco by the United States Bureau of Standards" was read by Mr. J. C. Pearson, Washington, D. C., who pointed out that the chief factors in the successful use of that construction are thorough workmanship, the use of an absorptive base for stucco, and proper water content.

A scholarly paper on "Legal Aspects" was presented by Frank Burton, Commissioner of Buildings of Detroit, Mich., reviewing fully the basis in law for the exercise of police powers as related to building work.

This subject was handled so masterly by Mr. Burton that it was the leading paper presented at this conference; it was indicative of a great research work and study and contained many citations from decisions of the supreme courts of different states; it is a paper that should be found in the libraries of building attorneys throughout this country.

The conference concluded its work by visiting the plant of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company at Louisville and a visit to the Louisville Cement Company's plant at Speeds, Ind. It adjourned at 5 o'clock p. m., April 11, 1924.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. MAHONY,
Building Commissioner.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Advertisers for proposals for steel shelving for the City Hospital. Surety bond will be required in an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Supply Department, Room 801, City Hall Annex, Boston. Bids, accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $200, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Tuesday, June 3, at 12 m.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Joseph Todesco has been granted extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Columbia park, between Lawrence avenue and Hamilton place, Dorchester, from May 10, 1924, to July 26, 1924, 77 days, on account of the fact that the rock is of such a difficult nature that a much longer time will be required than was anticipated.

The McCulloch Manufacturing Company have been granted a further extension of the time of completion of the contracts for assembling 6-inch and 8-inch gate valves; and 10-inch and 12-inch valves (both contracts dated August 24, 1923), from May 20, 1924, to July 30, 1924.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Warren Foundry and Pipe Company has been granted extension of the time of completion of the contract for furnishing cast-iron water pipes and special castings to the Water Service, from May 15, 1924, to July 15, 1924.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor, upon recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following claims.

Marjorie F. Ready, in the sum of $1,200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by defect in highway at corner Causeway and Beverly streets, June 9, 1923.

Irene Glaser, 79 Walworth street, Roslindale, in the sum of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by fall over coal hole cover on Corinth street, near Washington street, November 8, 1923.

Stephen Sansone, 30 South Margin street, in the sum of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by being struck by city automobile at corner of Staniford and Green streets, January 23, 1924.

DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The following changes in the number, rating and compensation of city employees have been made during the week ending Thursday, May 22:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

The following-named temporary street clerks have been granted an extension of time for a period of fifteen days: Albert Soosman, John M. Devine, John A. Reagan, James L. Cluney, Joseph Bianco, Andrew Fay, James F. Cheever, Daniel J. O'Sullivan, Clement F. Reardon, William H. Doherty, Charles Foley, John L. McKay, Jeremiah M. Collins, Thomas J. Meldon, James P. Maguire, John J. King, Jr., Robert C. Murray and John W. Walsh, upon piece-work basis, as follows: Counter book, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents per item; indexing, 20 cents per page; corporations, 5 cents per item.

James A. Sweeney, Jr., has been continued in employment for a period of fifteen days upon piece-work basis, as follows: Counter book, $1\frac{1}{4}$ cents per item; indexing, 20 cents per page; corporations, 5 cents per item.

Catherine J. Moore has been continued in employment as temporary clerk, for a period not exceeding ten days at $4 a day.

POSTON SANATORIUM.

The following persons have been employed at the Boston Sanatorium during the week ending Thursday, May 8:

To Fill Vacancies.—Thomas E. Crosby, male nurse, $540 per year; Dora Hunt, nurse (patient), $240 per year; Isabel Scott, maid, $468 per year; Emma Murphy, cook, $480 per year; Annie Hatch, maid, $468 per year; Marie Whalen, cook, $480 per year; Arthur Ross, attendant nurse (patient), $240 per year; George Wright, choreman (patient), $240 per year; Luke Kelley, choreman (patient), $240 per year; Julia J. Wall, laundress, $420 per year; Ellen Washburn, laundress, $420 per year; John Mahoney, maid (patient), $240 per year; Edward Ross, choreman (patient), $240 per year; Richard Coughlin, assistant farmer, $600 per year; William Hessen, assistant farmer, $600 per year; Cornelius Lee, maid (patient), $240 per year.

Temporary.—Essie Joyce, maid, $468 per year.

The following persons have ceased to be employed at the Boston Sanatorium:

Annie Cullen, nurse (patient), $240 per year; Eliza Kane, assistant cook, $480 per year; Emma Murphy, assistant cook, $420 per year; Marie Whalen, maid, $468 per year; Thomas Bannigan, attendant nurse (patient), $240 per year; Edward Ross, maid (patient), $240 per year; Michael Calnan, choreman, $240 per year.

Hollis French and Allen Hubbard, consulting engineers, have been appointed engineers for the new Out-Patient Department Building.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

Margaret L. Lang, clerk and stenographer has been granted an increase in pay, from $840 a year to $1,100 a year.

Increase in salaries of the following 33 assistant registrars and three carpenters have been granted.

Assistant Registrars.—Joseph J. Burke, John H. Campbell, Charles W. Harrington, Austin F. O'Malley, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year; Harry L. Breed, James Doyle, Kathleen G. Ennis, Helen J. Fitzgerald, Daniel B. Hurley, William H. Murphy, John P. Roach, Frank F.

Tripp, John Young, Jr., from $1,600 to $1,700 a year; Patrick M. Costello, Rocco Leone, from $1,700 to $1,800 a year; Joseph A. Calkins, Jr., John J. Capelle, John C. Crossen, John C. Davis, Frederick A. Hopkins, David Jacobs, William T. Jones, Paul D. Kane, Edward P. Kennedy, Michael F. McLaughlin, Thomas J. McMackin, John F. Monahan, George H. Norton, John H. Quinlan, Frank A. Sughrue, William H. Tighe, C. Alford Wilton, Ambrose Woods, from $1,800 to $1,900 a year.

Carpenters.—Michael J. Harkins and George W. Knight from $5 to $5.50 a day; James J. Ahearn, from $4.50 to $5 a day.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Catherine McLaughlin, clerk with knowledge of typewriting, has been transferred from the Division of Civil Service, Department of Civil Service and Registration, at $840 a year, to the Boston Health Department at $1,000 a year.

The following changes in the compensation of the employees have been approved.

Weekly.

In effect from April 4, 1924 (except as noted):

Max Stone, caretaker, from $1,700 to $1,800 a year.

Michael Ahern, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

George W. Boylen, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Dennis J. Coleman, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

John F. Doherty, caretaker and chauffeur, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

William D. Hayward, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

John J. Lindsey, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

William J. Murphy, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Frank Riseman, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Max Becowsky, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

William T. Caffrey, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Patrick Curran, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

James R. Gallivan, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Edward J. Gill, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Michael J. O'Kane, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

John J. Mellyn, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

James A. O'Rourke, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Richard F. Stack, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Daniel P. Connor, caretaker, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Andrew J. Murphy, caretaker (in effect May 6), from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Michael J. Fallon, chauffeur and mechanic, from $29 to $32 a week.

James T. O'Hara, chauffeur, from $28 to $31 a week.

Maurice P. Newman, chauffeur, from $28 to $31 a week.

William A. McNulty, chauffeur, from $28 to $31 a week.

John A. Canniff*, clerk, $1,800 a year.

Daniel P. Ego, clerk, from $1,700 to $1,800 a year.

Alice G. Balfe, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

William A. Bothwell, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

Jeremiah Carroll, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

William J. Healey, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

Ellen A. Heffernan, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

Mary H. Spillane, clerk, from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.

Rose A. Doherty, clerk, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Fidelia Fisk, clerk, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Mary F. Murphy, clerk, (in effect May 20), from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Sophie Finkelstein, clerk, from $14.00 to $1,500 a year.

Margaret E. Mahan, clerk, from $1,300 to $1,400 a year.

Anna E. Smith, clerk, from $1,300 to $1,400 a year.

Thomas A. Collins, clerk, from $1,200 to $1,300 a year.

William J. Fallon, clerk, from $1,200 to $1,300 a year.

Helen B. O'Donnell, clerk, from $1,200 to $1,300 a year.

Edward F. Byrne, clerk, (charge against 4 at $1,200), from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.

James D. Carney, clerk (charge against 4 at $1,200), from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.

Adrian E. Crampton, clerk, from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.

Leo E. Diamond, clerk (charge against 4 at $1,200), from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.

John F. Fitzpatrick, clerk (charge against 4 at $1,200), from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.

Margaret B. Maraghy, clerk (charge against 5 at $1,200-$1,300), from $1,000 to $1,100 a year.

William F. Grady, collector of samples, from $4.85 to $5 a day.

James C. McNally, collector of samples, (in effect May 2), from $4.85 to $5 a day.

Joseph E. O'Neil, collector of samples (in effect May 2), from $4.85 to $5 a day.

Barney C. DeLuca, constable, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Joseph F. Kelly, constable, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

James F. Neville, constable, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Walter R. Tarbett, constable, from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.

Morgan J. Dwyer, custodian, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

James F. Kaveney, fireman, from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Mollie Davies, hospital helper, from $15 to $16 a week.

Elizabeth O'Brien, laboratory helper, from $1,000 to $1,100 a year.

Joseph F. Walsh, inspector, from $1,900 to $2,000 a year.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the contract with the Dewell Company for preparation of poll tax bills. A communication from Edward T. Kelly, of the Assessing Department, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 16, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with M. A. Dewell, known as the Dewell Company, in the preparation of poll tax bills.

The limited time between the earliest delivery of the completed lists and the date when the bills must be issued renders the operation within the department liable to seriously interfere with the work of property assessments. The Dewell Company have done work of a similar character in the past and their familiarity with our books and forms make it desirable to have them do the work.

From the figures submitted by other concerns competent to do the work, I am unable to find anyone who is willing to do it at a less cost.

For these reasons permission is requested to make the contract, without advertising, at a price of 1 cent per item, the total cost to be approximately $2,500.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

A. Piotti Company has been ordered to make a change in contract for the restoration of Faneuil Hall, said change being as follows:

To remove existing brick sidewalks on north and west sides of building. To bring curb to proper level and line. To furnish all materials and labor and lay a granolithic sidewalk on substantial sub base over all area from which brick has been removed. Sidewalk and sub base to meet requirements of the Paving Division of the City of Boston.

Sidewalk to be squared off to match existing work, alternate squares to be left unpoured until first pouring has reached final set. Surface to be treated with master builders' hardener, or equal, and to line with existing work from curb to building line.

The amount to be added to contract on account of this work is $540.

To furnish all materials and labor and change the location of north sprinkler riser to location as directed by architects.

To conceal the sprinkler supply lines and extend the heads through ceiling of exhibition room on south side and gun room on north side of Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company's Hall.

To omit the sprinkler lines under the seat inclines on Faneuil Hall floor.

The amount to be deducted from contract on account of the above work is $19.68.—$520.32. Contract price, $191,472; total additions, $98,782.31; total deductions, $4,269; amount of contract, $285,985.31.

MAYOR NAMES P. HARRY JENNINGS AS SUPERINTENDENT, PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

P. Harry Jennings, for seven years the Central Labor Union's business agent, has been nominated to the Civil Service Commission by Mayor Curley to succeed to the $4,500 superintendency of Public Buildings made vacant by the death last week of Fred J. Kneeland.

Nominated by the Mayor for a $3,500 post on the Street Commission in February, 1923, Mr. Jennings was refused civil service confirmation.

Mr. Jennings makes his home with his family on Dorchester avenue, South Boston, having been born in this city fifty years ago. For twelve years he was secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' Union. He was president of the Central Labor Union, 1914-1917. In 1919 he was a candidate for the City Council.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following buildings as constituting fire menaces and nuisances:

To take down the building on premises 50 Silver street, Ward 9. The owner, John G. Morris of 503 East Broadway, has been served with a notice of the condition of the building but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down the building on premises 37 Seneca street, Ward 6. A notice of the unsafe condition of the building was left at the last and usual place of abode of Nathan Chapman for the Abraham J. Lamb estate, but same was returned to this office by mail.

To take down the building on premises 35 Newland street, Ward 6. The owner, the E. Brown estate, care of A. M. Lloyd of 19 Garrison street, Chestnut Hill, has been served with a notice of the unsafe condition of the building but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down the building on premises 45 Dresser street, Ward 9. The owner, the Galvin estate, care of James F. Walsh & Son of 382 Broadway, South Boston, was served with a notice of the unsafe condition of the building but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

To take down the building on premises 202 H street, Ward 10. The owner, Annie Kelly of 202 H street, has been served with a notice of the unsafe condition of the building but neglects to remove the cause of complaint.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 534.

The resignation of Patrolman Lester D. Hill of Division 15 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Thursday, May 15, 1924, at 7.45 o'clock a. m. Seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 535.

A trial board consisting of Captains Driscoll, Hickey and McConnell, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Quentin L. Dever of Division 15, charging him with neglect of duty, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Quentin L. Dever was, on May 3, 1924, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on May 3, 1924, to the said Quentin L. Dever.

On the sixth day of May, 1924, the said Quentin L. Dever, by his attorney, requested in writing a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Tuesday, May 13, 1924, at eleven o'clock a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner, as the time and place for said hearing and duly notified the said Quentin L. Dever.

The said Quentin L. Dever was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner finds the said Quentin L. Dever guilty as charged and further finds that the said Quentin L. Dever shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 536.

In accordance with the rules and regulations governing the Police Department, Captain John F. Ahearn attached to the office of the Inspector of Claims is hereby designated as Inspector of Claims, to take effect as of May 13, 1924, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 537.

Whereas, By the provisions of chapter 195 of the Acts of 1924, the City of Boston is authorized to retire from active service Patrolman Michael J. Curran of Division 6 who was shot and totally incapacitated while in the performance of duty on January 8, 1922, and may pay him an annual pension equal to his present annual compensation; said act having been accepted by the City Council and Mayor of this city on April 21 and May 2, 1924, respectively, the Police Commissioner

Ordered, That the said Patrolman Michael J. Curran, who had performed faithful service in the Police Department previous to his total disability, be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of eighteen hundred (1,800) dollars per annum, said sum being equal to his annual compensation as a patrolman in this department; to take effect at 5.45 o'clock p. m., Friday, May 16, 1924.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 538.

The resignation of Patrolman Frank F. Doloff of Division 20 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Wednesday, May 21, 1924, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORT.

The following is the report of Dr. F. X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, on the activities of the department for the month of April:

BOSTON, May 15, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to submit a report of special activities of the Health Department for the month of April, 1924, in accordance with instructions contained in your circular letter of March 13, 1922:

The majority of the common communicable diseases reported during the month of April, 1924, showed a decrease in number when compared with the preceding month. Whooping cough is running low, only thirty-seven cases were reported during April of this year, whereas during April of last year 344 cases were reported. Scarlet fever showed a decrease of almost 200 cases when compared with the previous months of this year. Diphtheria cases continue to be reported in about the same number, although the number of deaths have increased slightly. This disease shows no increase over the same period of last year. One case of pellagra was reported in a Boston hospital. There was also one case of hookworm. Up to the first of May, 24,263 children in the public schools have been Schick tested in twenty-four working days.

There were no special activities in the Division of Child Hygiene for this month. The work of visiting babies and mothers is being carried on in the same intensive manner.

In this month the Food Division began and completed the inspection of applications for licenses for the sale of denatured alcohol and wood alcohol. There are about 250 places holding this class of licenses. Particular attention is paid to see that the fire hazards are limited, and also to see that receptacles used in the sale of the alcohol are properly labelled to comply with the law.

The dry stem orange reappeared again this year on the Boston market. It was first discovered by an inspector who found a peddler with a push cart load of fruit. Twenty-two dozen oranges were condemned. Efforts are being made, in co-operation with the federal authorities, to ascertain the source of shipment and to prevent any further offering for sale of this type of fruit here.

A Dorchester resident on the top floor of a three-flat house was found to be engaged in a full-fledged meat market business in his kitchen. He was convicted and fined $30 on a suspended sentence.

During April, as compared with March, 1924, increases were noted in the reported cases of lobar pneumonia and diphtheria. Decreases were shown in the reported cases of influenza, measles, scarlet fever, typhoid fever and whooping cough.

During the same comparative period, increases were shown in the reported deaths from lobar pneumonia and diphtheria, although slight. Decreases were shown in the deaths from measles and pulmonary tuberculosis. The total deaths from all causes showed an increase, while the deaths of infants also showed an increase.

During April, 1924, 1,190 burial and 65 removal permits were issued, as compared with 1,185 burial and 34 removal permits during April, 1923.

Total number of routine examinations made, 5,396, of which 4,576 were in duplicate and 820 in quadruplicate. In addition to the routine examinations, 124 milk bottles have been examined for bacteria, and 107 caps for milk bottles have also been examined for bacteria. The regular examination of water from swimming pools for pollution has been made.

There were no special activities in the Sanitary Division for the month of April. The usual routine of inspections and prosecutions was carried on.

An interesting meeting and discussion of juvenile delinquency was held on April 30. As a result, a representative committee was appointed to study and endeavor to solve the problem of existing delinquency in the West End.

A splendid clean-up campaign is being conducted in the West End with an excellent local working committee, in conjunction with the Women's Municipal League.

During the month two groups of students from the Harvard School of Public Health visited the unit and received a demonstration of its activities and service.

A meeting of the Medical Advisory Committee of the Health Unit was held at the unit, and plans are under way for the immediate functioning of the periodic health clinic and examinations for adults.

During the month of April, the following appointments were made: A deputy commissioner of the Laboratory Division was appointed, vice Dr. Castleman, deceased; a dental hygienist was appointed for three months, one sanitary inspector, and one caretaker of convenience stations.

Respectfully submitted,

F. X. MAHONEY,
Health Commissioner.

MAYOR SCORES BUYING POLICE DEPARTMENT SUPPLIES MADE IN GERMANY.

The Mayor sent the following communication May 20:

HON. E. MARK SULLIVAN, Corporation Counsel, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to forward herewith a pair of gloves purchased for use by the City of Boston Police Department, with a stamp "Made in Germany." Upon inquiry I find that it is customary for the Police Department to purchase uniforms for the men in the service from a firm by the name of Snellingsburg of Philadelphia. A general depression in industry now obtains in Massachusetts and while the manufacture of these goods here would not greatly lessen unemployment in Massachusetts, it would at least not contribute to it.

You are accordingly directed to draft an amendment to the Charter Bill at present pending before the Legislature so that in future materials for the Police Department, the maintenance of which is borne by the City of Boston, shall be purchased through the purchasing department of the City of Boston. The fact that the purchases of the Supply Department for 1923 represented $4,300,000 should be sufficient justification for the inclusion of such materials as may be required by the Police Department.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

The estate of Catherine Farley, Robert B. Farley, trustee, has agreed to accept the sum of $2,775 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to their estate on Gove street by the taking made for school purposes on Gove street and Paris court, East Boston, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of July 8, 1922.

Benjamin F. Wooley has agreed to accept the sum of $500 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to his estate on Paris court by the taking of said estate for school purposes under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of July 8, 1922.

FOREIGN TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE PAST YEAR WITH RANK OF TEN LEADING PORTS.

Exports, $4,485,122,696 or $3,742,893,611 (i. e., 45.5 per cent) less than in 1920; to European countries, 52.71 per cent; to North American, 25.19 per cent; Asian, etc., 14.39 per cent; South American, 6.09 per cent; African, 1.62 per cent.

Imports, $2,509,025,403 or $2,769,456,087 (i. e., 52.5 per cent) less than in 1920; from European countries, 30.49 per cent; from North American, 30.08 per cent; Asian, etc., 26.04 per cent; South American, 11.78 per cent; African, 1.61 per cent. Total foreign commerce in 1921, $6,994,148,099 (i. e., 48.2 per cent) less than in 1920. Excess of exports over imports, $1,976,097,293.

New York, ranking first among U. S. ports, handled 43.79 per cent of total commerce or 1.95 per cent less than in 1920; New Orleans (2d) 7.64 per cent; Galveston (3d) 6.74 per cent; Philadelphia (4th) 3.62 per cent; Detroit (5th) 3.45 per cent; San Francisco (6th) 3.24 per cent; Boston (7th) 3.22 per cent; Norfolk (8th) 3.13 per cent; Buffalo (9th) 3.06 per cent; Ogdensburg (10th) 3.00 per cent. Of value of all imports 62.26 per cent free of duty. Total duties collected $305,475,485 or $25,755,956 less than in 1920. Of total export value, 61.54 per cent applied to manufactured and partly manufactured materials, 22.47 per cent to crude materials for use in manufacturing and 15.81 per cent to foodstuffs (crude) and food animals.

Exports in American ships, 36.04 per cent of total in 1921; 43.65 per cent in 1920. Imports in American ships, 34.98 per cent of total in 1921; 42.02 per cent in 1920.

Net tonnage entered in 1921, total of 62,284,997, of which 50.07 per cent was American; cleared in 1921, 62,657,167 and 48.17 per cent American.

Boston's rank for many years as the second importing port changed to fourth place in 1917, Seattle taking second place and San Francisco third, probably due to war conditions. In 1918 Boston advanced to third place and was but slightly behind Seattle. In 1919 it regained its former rank of second and held it in 1920 and 1921.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, May 12, 1924.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

The city has no further use for a piece of land containing 380 square feet, abutting on Stony brook taking, in the rear of lot on the southerly side of Minton street, West Roxbury, now or formerly owned by E. T. and C. F. Norton.

There are no city structures in this land, and as far as the Public Works Department is concerned it may be sold.

Yours respectfully,

J. A. ROURKE,

Commissioner of Public Works.

53 State Street,

Boston, January 7, 1924.

Mr. John Beck, 30 State Street, Boston, Mass.: Dear Sir—The Clifton Manufacturing Company desire to offer the sum of $65, being 15 cents a foot for 375 feet, that being the city's assessment for lot on Minton street. This is the lot I have been speaking to you about and my people would appreciate it if you could recommend this offer.

Yours truly,

H. R. MORSE.

30 State Street,
Boston, April 28, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir—The Clifton Manufacturing Company of Brookside avenue, Jamaica Plain, wishes to buy about 375 square feet of land owned by the city, which is located in the rear of its land on Minton street.

This small lot was acquired when takings were made for Stony brook, and is not needed to protect the channel as it is outside of the area reserved for protection.

The land is of little value to the city, therefore I advise that the offer of 15 cents a square foot be accepted, which is the assessed value of the front land.

I enclose a communication from Herbert R. Morse relative to the matter and sketches showing location of land.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN BECK.

City of Boston, in City Council.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city to release and quitclaim by private sale for the sum of sixty-five (65 dollars) to the Clifton Manufacturing Company, its successors or assigns, by an instrument in writing satisfactory to the Law Department, all the right, title and interest which the City of Boston may have in the following parcel of land, containing 380 square feet of land, more or less, located on Minton street, in Jamaica Plain, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Stony brook, thirty and thirty-six one hundredths (30.36) feet from Minton street, thence running southwestwardly on said Stony brook, thirty and twenty-eight one hundredths (30.28) feet to land now or formerly of Kelly; thence turning and running southeasterly on land now or formerly of said Kelly, fourteen and seventy-four one hundredths (14.74) feet; thence turning and running northeasterly thirty (30) feet on land now or formerly of Norton; thence turning and running northwesterly on land now or formerly of said Norton ten and sixty one hundredths (10.60) feet, to the point of beginning; containing three hundred and eighty square feet more or less.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

PLAYGROUND, SOUTH BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith for the consideration of your honorable body a recommendation and order providing for the establishment of a public playground in that section of South Boston bounded by Bolton, D and West Third streets.

This recommendation, as set forth in the appended communication from the City Planning Board, provides for the elimination of certain structures some of which are in use as stables and which today constitute a menace to the health of the people living in this section.

The recommendation here made is in conformity with the custom adopted in 1916 of appropriating a sum of money annually for the elimination of sources of infection in the city and the establishment in place thereof of additional lungs for the city in the shape of parks.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City Planning Board,
Boston, April 6, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir—The City Planning Board has given careful consideration to your letter of March 14, 1923, asking for an investigation and report with regard to the advisability of creating a neighborhood playground in the territory lying between D and E streets, Bolton and West Third streets, South Boston (Block 66) and submits herewith its conclusions with reference thereto.

The area in question, exclusive of the church property located at the southeasterly end of the block, comprises 33,410 square feet, or approximately three-fourths of an acre, with an assessed valuation, land and buildings, of $43,500. In shape, it is long and narrow, or about 335 feet long by 100 feet wide.

The buildings, which are used for dwelling purposes and for stables, are of wooden construction, and some of them are in exceedingly bad repair. There is also a considerable amount of open space, totalling approximately 9,000 square feet, or more than 25 per cent of the entire area, which is largely utilized at the present time for the storage of vehicles.

According to the 1920 census, there are 200 persons living in the block. In blocks immediately adjoining, the density of population is much greater. In fact, it is in a highly congested section of the district, and at the present time is not served by existing playgrounds.

There is no question but what the establishment of a community play space in this locality would be a desirable improvement, particularly in view of the fact that, since the withdrawal of the Commonwealth playground four blocks away, no substitute area has been set apart for recreation purposes.

The desire of the larger boys for athletics is met by the unusual facilities at Columbus Park and at the Christopher J. Lee Playground which has been recently enlarged and developed.

So far as the locality immediately under consideration is concerned, two small community playgrounds already exist for the benefit of the younger children in the vicinity of each, i. e., between West Fifth street and Gold street, 20,244 square feet; and B street at West Third street, 12,014 square feet; but these are too remote from the Bolton street site to be available for the children of that neighborhood.

In addition to providing a much needed play space for the little children of the neighborhood, the acquisition of this area by the city would serve to bring into desirable use an otherwise unsightly and unattractive area. At the same time, but very few people would be dispossessed, since much of the property in the proposed taking is either occupied by stables or entirely free from buildings.

The City Planning Board feels that the establishment of a community play space in the area bounded by Bolton, D, West Third and E streets would be an entirely feasible and desirable act on the part of the City of Boston, and recommends therefore that the matter have your Honors favorable consideration.

Yours very truly,

THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,

FREDERIC H. FAY,

Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $65,250 be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for the establishment of a neighborhood playground at Bolton and West Third streets, South Boston district, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

MONEY FOR PLAYGROUND, MATTAPAN.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—After ten years of deliberation and investigation the citizens of the Mattapan section of Boston and the Boston Park Commission have determined upon land known as Collins Field as a site for playground in this section of the city.

A tender has been accepted of the assessed valuation, namely, $20,500 the land in question being assessed as pasture land and containing nearly a million square feet.

Under the statutes it is necessary that a sum 50 per cent in excess of the assessed valuation must be appropriated before taking can be made and I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 6, 1924.

Hon. James M. Curley:

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Park Commissioners to inform you that at their last meeting they stated they intend to pass a vote to request the Street Commissioners to make a taking of land in Mattapan, known as Collins Field, which is located on Almont street.

The land is assessed for $20,500, and as the appropriation for the purchase of a playground in Mattapan is but $25,000, it will be necessary to have an additional appropriation of $7,500 before a request can be made to have the land purchased.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

Ordered, That the sum of $7,500 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners for playground, Mattapan, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time upon request of the Mayor bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Approved by the City Council.

LEGISLATION CONCERNING CITY COUNCIL.

Coun. WATSON offered the following:

Whereas, Under the recent charter of the City of Boston, the City Council is elected at large, and at two elections within ten years, the voters have decisively rejected a proposed change to the district system.

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby protests against the enactment of any legislation to amend the city charter in the matter of the election of a City Council unless such legislation has a referendum so arranged as to give the voters an opportunity to vote to retain the present system if they so desire.

The question came on the adoption of the preamble and resolution.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I will take but a moment or two of the Council's time in speaking to this resolution. The charter which provided for the election of nine members at large, three to be elected each year, was accepted by a referendum. That selection was made as a choice between two charters, and the voters expressed their opinion by accepting the present charter, which provided for nine members at large. I appreciate the fact that in introducing this resolution myself, or if any other member of the Council introduced it, we are liable to be criticised for having a selfish motive in view. Be that as it may, I want to say that there is another motive that also enters into it, and that is the question that the acceptance of a change in the charter should be decided in the same manner in which the act itself was accepted. The Committee on Cities of the present Legislature has reported a bill, I am informed through the press, I think correctly, that two systems are to be referred to the voters of Boston, one of which shall be selected by them as the system they desire. One system will provide for a member from each of the wards, twenty-six in all, and the other will provide for five boroughs, with three members for each borough. I have nothing to say concerning the merits of either of the two plans proposed, except that the borough system will provide positively nine Republicans in this body as against six Democrats, and the district system will provide for a good round majority for the Democrats. That is nothing against either proposition, but there is a greater question involved. The people will be given an opportunity to select one of two plans of City Council for the City of Boston, but will have no opportunity to directly decide whether or not they desire to do away with the present method of electing the City Council. In view of the fact that the voters accepted the present charter by referendum, they should have the same opportunity of deciding whether or not it should continue. We all know that the question of continuing the present City Council has been twice referred to the voters and by decisive vote they have voted to retain the present Council. The advocates of a change are crying that it will raise the standard of membership here. As an ordinary, practical individual, one who has been in touch with the political situation for some years and who has been a pretty keen student, I think I can say without fear of contradiction, of city affairs, I feel that the so-called standard of the City Council will remain about as it is under any system. Those who claim that the standard should be raised have in mind big business men or men of affairs, men who are big taxpayers, coming in here; but those gentlemen will not make any sacrifice to become members of this body. I challenge the opponents of this body, those who criticise the standard of the membership, individually and collectively to point out an elective body in the country that has been more faithful to its constituency, taking in the entire city, than this body has been. Every improvement that deserved favorable action has received it at the hands of this Council since it has been in existence. We do not play favorites with any particular section of Boston. The most extreme end of the city, with or without a councilor, gets the attention of the entire nine members, and there is positively no logrolling. Every single measure we act on here stands on its own foundation and is passed or defeated on merit alone. I believe the Legislature is going to be fair in this matter. I know the chairman of the Committee on Cities, and he is a very fair gentleman. I believe if the matter is properly brought to their attention that they will see the wisdom of giving the people of Boston an opportunity to determine "yes" or "no" on the question of whether they desire to do away with the present system. I realize that no words of mine will hasten favorable action. I don't know whether I have even started anything. For the sake of argument I will admit that there is a selfish motive on our part, perhaps, in passing this resolution; but I will say, and without fear of contradiction, that neither of the two systems proposed will ever be any improvement on the present. Even if they were both better, the question of whether the people should do away with the present system should be presented to them for their action. I trust that the Legislature in its wisdom will give the people of Boston a true referendum on this question, having the question of whether or not the people shall do away with the present system placed on the ballot at the very earliest opportunity, for their determination. I move a suspension of the rule that the resolution may be passed at this time.

Coun. MORIARTY in the chair.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I am glad that Coun. Watson introduced that resolution, because I also am interested in that particular piece of legislation which is being enacted by the Legislature or has been reported upon favorably by the Committee on Cities. When they ask the citizens of Boston to raise the standard of the membership of this Council, I say to the Republican Legislature, first raise the standard of the type of men who are elected to the Legislature, because, when you come to think of it seriously, and when you stop to think that a lot of hicks from West Burlap and East Henniker are legislating for the intelligent electorate of Boston, it is a most outrageous and outlandish condition. I think the Republican party are going one step too far when they are attempting to dictate practically entirely the way in which the people of Boston shall conduct themselves. Today we have the spectacle of a Police Commissioner appointed from Beacon Hill for the citizens of the City of Boston, with jurisdiction over the entire police affairs of Boston, and with the Mayor of our city absolutely without any question the choice of the people as representing this city of ours, without any word to say as to how the Police Department shall be conducted. We have the Finance Commission appointed by a Republican Legislature, which has no place in Boston's affairs. We have the Licensing Board appointed by a Republican Legislature, which has no reason for existence today other than to provide jobs for a few lame Republican ducks. Then we have the Republican Legislature making the citizens of Boston every year think they are going to make the tax limit what the citizens of Boston want it to be, and then giving us what they want. Just go to the Legislature and see the type of men who sit there on the committees, and compare them with some of the men who are elected to legislative office in our city. Gentlemen, there is no comparison whatsoever. In my opinion, those who have been elected to the City Council are so far superior to those hayshakers, as I might say, from West Dennis or some other outlying section, who don't see in their lifetimes probably 200 people, that there is no possible comparison. And yet they attempt to legislate for us. It is an almost ridiculous condition. I don't care what they do, what system they want to put into effect, but when they attempt to make this Council a Republican Council, against the wishes of a Democratic city, I say that the answer will be given to them on the next election day, when they are seeking to put over their candidate for governor and when they are seeking to put over their candidate for United States senator. The democracy of Boston will rise in its might and crush them to earth, where they should have been relegated years and years ago. They do not represent the true sentiment of our people, and I feel that the time is not far distant when those now in control on Beacon Hill will be swept into political oblivion forever. I hope the resolution will pass.

The preambles and resolutions were adopted.

PAYMENT TO PARENTS OF PETER P. OGINSKIS.

Coun. WALSH offered an order—That under the provisions of chapter 283 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $2,500 be allowed and paid to Joseph A. Oginskis and Barbara B. Oginskis, parents of Peter P. Oginskis, a police officer of the City of Boston, who died in consequence of injuries received while in the performance of his duty.

The rule was suspended, on motion of Coun. WALSH, and the order was passed.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

Coun. WALSH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Pratt street, both sides, from Linden street to Ashford street, Ward 25, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Savin Hill avenue, at No. 10, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the westerly side of Blue Hill avenue, from Canterbury street to River street, Wards 21 and 24 in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Cushing avenue at No. 51, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

The orders were passed under a suspension of the rule.

SALE OF CITY YARD, JAMAICA PLAIN.

Coun. PURCELL offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council whether or not it is possible, without seriously crippling the department business, to abandon the city yard on Child and Centre streets, Jamaica Plain, and dispose of the property.

Coun. PURCELL—Mr. President, this city yard for which I have asked for the removal is on the corner of Child and Centre streets, directly opposite one of the prominent churches of that district. I don't think there is a yard in the whole city of Boston that is in the dilapidated condition that this yard is in. It is a disgrace to the city to see conditions as they are there today. It is on a main thoroughfare and the people of that district are very, very much opposed to it. Coming from that district, I would like some information regarding the removal of it. I think every man, woman and child in the district is in favor of the removal.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

RETIREMENT OF ELLEN LEAHY.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the Retirement Board for Laborers be hereby authorized and requested to retire, under the provisions of chapter 765 of the Acts of 1914, as amended by chapter 63 of the Special Acts of 1915, Ellen Leahy, employed in the labor service of the City of Boston in the Park Department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RETIREMENT OF MICHAEL J. CURRAN.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That under the provisions of chapter 195 of the Acts of 1924, the Police Commissioner be hereby authorized to retire Michael J. Curran, a member of the Police Department, who was shot and totally incapacitated while in the performance of his duty at an annual pension equal to his present annual compensation, said pension to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted a report recommending the payment of soldiers' relief to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of May, 1924.

Report accepted; order passed.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3.02 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members reassembled in the chamber and were called to order at 4.20 o'clock p. m. by the President.

TRANSFERS FOR POLICE STATION NO. 2.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1924.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The completion of Police Station No. 2 building will require additional funds in the sum of $5,000.

I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order providing transfer from unexpended balances to appropriation for Police Station No. 2 Building.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Courthouse, Forest Hills, Site, $2,500; Courthouse, Forest Hills, $2,500, to the appropriation for Police Station 2, Building, $5,000.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule, yeas 8, nays 0.

ACTION AGAINST BRIGHAM HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1924.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Corporation Counsel in connection with the action brought by the City of Boston against the trustees of the Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables is required to undergo certain expenditures, and I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That a sum not exceeding one thousand (1,000) dollars be authorized to be expended by the Corporation Counsel for the purpose of meeting all necessary charges and expenses in connection with the present petition pending before the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, filed by his Honor the Mayor, requesting the Attorney General to file an information in the Supreme Court of Massachusetts against the officials of the Robert B. Brigham Hospital for Incurables because of their misuse and misapplication of the funds left by the late Robert Breck Brigham, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

COST OF TELEPHONE PROCEEDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1924.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen—The proceedings instituted by the City of Boston before the Department of Public Utilities, the purpose of which is to prevent what appears to be an unwarranted increase in telephone charges, makes necessary an expenditure not in excess of $5,000.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That a sum not exceeding five thousand (5,000) dollars be authorized to be expended by the Corporation Counsel for the purpose of meeting charges and expenses for expert services, stenographic services and other necessary and proper expenditures in connection with the investigation of telephone rates and petition filed by his Honor the Mayor now pending before the Department of Public Utilities in connection with such investigation, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

EXCHANGE OF CITY LAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 5, 1924.
To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen,—Harriet H. Waterman is the present owner of land on Wallingford road, Brighton, contiguous to the land owned by the City of Boston on Wallingford road used by the Public Works Department for a city yard. She is now erecting an apartment building on her land and is desirous of exchanging a small triangular portion of her land for a small triangular plot of land owned by the city adjacent to her land.

This exchange will result in straightening the west side line of Wallingford road, will also permit of a larger entrance to the present yard owned by the city on this street, and will also prevent a claim against the city on account of the present use by the City of Boston of land belonging to the said Harriet H. Waterman and which has long been used by the Public Works Department in connection with its entrance into the present city yard on Wallingford road. In my opinion this exchange will result in a decided advantage to the city.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Very truly yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston, In City Council.
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city to convey unto Harriet H. Waterman the following described parcel of land situated on Wallingford road in that part of Boston called Brighton, and bounded and described as follows:

A certain triangular shaped parcel of land bounded westerly by other land of the City of Boston three hundred (300) feet; northerly by other land of the said City of Boston, twenty-one and 62-100 (21.62) feet; easterly by land of Harriet H. Waterman by three lines, seven and 38-100 (7.38) feet, thirty-nine and 84-100 (39.84) feet, and two hundred and fifty-six (256) feet, containing forty-two hundred and thirty-five (4,235) square feet, more or less, as shown on a plan entitled "subdivision of land, Wallingford road, Brighton, Boston, January, 1924, Pierce and Barnes Company, C. E.," in exchange for the following described parcel of land on said Wallingford road, bounded and described as follows:

A certain triangular shaped parcel of land bounded southerly by land of said Harriet H. Waterman, nineteen and 93-100 (19.93) feet; westerly by other land of said City of Boston, ninety-nine and 90-100 (99.90) feet; and easterly by a curved line, one hundred (100) feet, containing seven hundred and fifty (750) square feet, more or less, as shown on said plan, which the said Harriet H. Waterman shall convey unto the City of Boston simultaneously upon the conveyance by the city to the said Harriet H. Waterman of the parcel of land hereinbefore authorized to be conveyed to her. The deeds of the said conveyances by the City of Boston and the said Harriet H. Waterman are to be in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Reports on petitions (severally referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits be granted, viz.:

James T. Sullivan, Mechanics Hall, May 12.
Amelia Burnham, Jordan Hall, May 20.
Anna M. Gurney, Huntington Chambers, May 22.

Anna McGonagle, K. of C. Hall, May 8.
Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) for the retirement of Mrs. Ellen Leahy from position of matron in the Park Department—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; communication placed on file.

2. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $7,500 for playground, Mattapan—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

3. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $65,250 for establishment of neighborhood playground at Bolton and West Third streets, South Boston—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

JITNEYS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Committee on Jitneys, submitted a report on petition of Rawding Auto Bus Line (referred today) for license to operate buses from Atlantic avenue, foot of State street, and Northern avenue at Fish Pier—that a license be granted.

Report accepted; license granted on the usual conditions.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on message of Mayor, communications and order (referred December 23, 1923) for sale of land on Wade street—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

2. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred December 31, 1923) for sale of land on Berry street—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

3. Report on message of Mayor, communications and order (referred March 24) for sale of land on Commercial street, Police Station 8—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

4. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred April 28) for sale of land on Alford street—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

5. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred April 28) for sale of land on Seaver street, near Harold street—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

6. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred April 28) for sale of city property at 41-45 Arch street—recommending the passage of the order in the following new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction at an upset price of $150,000, the property numbered 41-45 Arch street, city proper, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Report accepted; order passed.

IMPROVEMENT OF WILLIAM EUSTIS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. WATSON called up unfinished business, No. 6, viz.:

6. Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the extension and improvement of William Eustis Playground, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On March 18, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

The question came on giving the order its second and final reading and passage.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I desire to vote "yes" on the order, although, of course, I do not approve of the methods adopted in acquiring various pieces of land. On the playground proposition, however, of course, I vote "yes." Therefore, I shall vote "yes."

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I am voting "yes" for the same reason that Coun. Healey has stated. I believe in the playground, but I did not believe in the method of procuring the land. However, I am going to vote for this as a playground proposition.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I am going to vote "yes" but I am not protecting myself by voting "yes." It is a playground, and it is the only playground for which an appropriation has been made this year where we have heard anything from the Finance Commission. There have been other playgrounds sent in here upon which they have made no report whatsoever; and I say openly here today that if this were a matter in which the Edison Company was interested the chairman of the Finance Commission would not have made any report on this playground. That is proven by the Edison now making an offer to buy the piece of land that this same agent, Mr. Andrews, desired to swap for the land in question. If the Edison man was not interested in the Cottage street piece of land, and if the chairman of the Finance Commission was not interested in the Edison, we would have heard no protest. I think it is about time that the Finance Commission got down to real business, instead of being in the employ of large corporations within our city.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 8, nays 0.

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Gilbody, Healey, Lane, Moriarty, Purcell, Walsh, Watson—8.
Nays—0.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. GILBODY called up unfinished business, Nos. 3 and 4, viz.:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 5, 1924, viz.:

3. Louis Goldberg, Joseph E. Ferreira, John A. Anderson, Alfred R. Mitchell, Thomas Cannizzaro and Morris Chalfin, to be Constables.

4. William J. O'Hearn and John B. Kearney, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Healey and Walsh. Whole number of ballots cast 8, yeas 7, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

Coun. WATSON called up unfinished business, Nos. 1 and 2, viz.:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 14, 1924, of the following-named Constables:

1. Saverio Di Donato.

2. True William Hunt.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Healey and Walsh.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I understand that this Di Donato has been held up. I understand that there are charges on which he has been sued in court. If that is so, and if that is the type of fellow he is, going out and working in the interests of these instalment houses, I don't think you fellows ought to vote to give him a commission here. Of course, I realize that perhaps it may mean political death, in some instances, to oppose these fellows, but if I have to go to political death because I am going to hold back on the likes of these fellows, I am going to political death. This fellow just called me out and pleaded with me to let him go by, and I have received letters from some of these men saying that they were not hangmen. Well, I may have called them the wrong name, and perhaps I have been a little lenient in calling them that name. I think some of them are worse than that. I think we ought to be very, very careful. I don't think we are running into the best of times, and with the number of people who are unemployed and who owe some of these instalment houses money, I have a good deal of sympathy with the poor unfortunate foreigner who comes into our midst and who does not know the law and does not realize what he is up against. Some of these men are going out with their badges and scaring a number of people in the residential sections. I think it is time that we made an example of some of them. I realize that taking two perhaps out of 100 is not much of an example, but I do want to say that I now reiterate every remark I made three or four weeks ago in regard to constables, and I feel that you members here ought to vote against these fellows. Perhaps we ought also to take some other action. I feel, with regard to every complaint that has been made in the Law Department against any man serving as a constable in the city, that we ought to have the Law Department report to us, and where they have found that that man has done things he should not have done with his commission, I don't think he should receive a constable's commission from the City of Boston. I realize that there are some men here who work for the city, where we have to serve writs. I have no objection to those men going through. But I am referring to those men who are outside working, who will take any kind of a job that is possible to be covered with the commission that they receive at your hands. The trouble is that there is no adequate investigation made of these fellows. Anybody in public life may go into the Mayor and ask that a certain name be sent in as a constable, and nobody knows whether the man came from Sing Sing, whether he has served a term in State Prison or some other place, or what his antecedents have been. For all that is known, such men may have served a term in prison and, if not, a lot of them ought to do so, and, if you allow them to hold a commission, some of them will eventually do so. It may be rather late at this date to simply take up the matter of these two constables, but I do think we should be cautious and where there is an opportunity to protect those responsible for us being here that we should protect them. In so far as this case is concerned, I am going to move that the matter be laid on the table, and that the Law Department send us a list of all the constables against whom there have been charges and concerning whom the charges have been found to be true.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I don't know either one of these two men. They may be all that Coun. Moriarty says they are. But a murderer is entitled to a chance. The most evil individual is entitled to defend himself. I think perhaps the better way to do with these two names is to lay them on the table and to serve notice on these two men to be present next Monday before the Council, giving them an opportunity to defend themselves against the charges, if there are charges, and that the Law Department be requested to send down such information as they have against the applicants. Of course, if there have been charges preferred against any men and proven, I don't think the Law Department would attempt to protect them as constables or otherwise. If they should, it would be entirely wrong. If they prove to be men who are unfit, who are not doing their duty properly, of course we can vote against them. I am entirely agreeable to having the matter lie on the table until the next meeting and having these two men appear before the Council and defend themselves against charges, if there are charges made against them.

It was voted that action upon the two names referred to be assigned to the next meeting; that the two appointees be requested to appear at that time, and that the Law Department be requested to send to the Council information concerning charges which have been made against them.

OUT-PATIENT BUILDING, BOSTON SANATORIUM.

President DONOGHUE called up unfinished business, No. 5, viz.:

5. Ordered, That an additional sum of $100,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium for the establishment of an out-patient building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On April 28, 1924, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 9.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WALSH moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 4.40 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. HEALEY, to meet on Monday, May 19, at two o'clock p. m.

Monday, May 19, 1924.

Severally laid over under the law.

VETO—PENSION FOR THOMAS F. DENNING.

The following were received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 19, 1924.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith report of the Commissioner of Public Works, same constituting answer to the resolution adopted by the City Council under date of April 28, 1924.

In view of the facts as set forth by the Commissioner of Public Works, who is conversant with the case, great as my sympathies might go out to the individual in question, it is impossible for me to approve the order adopted by your honorable body. The main purpose to be served through the adoption of this order would be to establish a pensionable status for one individual at the possible expense of the entire pension system and there is no way to justify such action.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,

Boston, May 7, 1924.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

Replying to your letter of May 2, regarding the resolve of the City Council favoring the enactment of legislation for the reinstatement of Thomas F. Denning, beg to advise that he was employed in this department from 1905 to 1908 and from 1912 to 1920 as a teamster and laborer in the Sanitary and Paving Services.

He left on account of sickness on September 30, 1920, and failing to return within six months, he resigned under the civil service rules on March 30, 1921.

He is now sixty-five years of age and served the department for eleven years and it appears to me that his reinstatement at this late date is for the purpose of applying for a pension later. If this is so he would be obliged to serve the city for fourteen years under the old and fifteen years under the new pension act.

The man is beyond the period where his services could be used to advantage and if this legislation is approved it will pave the way for several hundred similar requests from men who have left the city service and failed to apply for reinstatement within the time limit required under the civil service rules.

I would recommend that the Law Department oppose any such requests.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

AMENDMENT TO LIGHTING CONTRACT.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be informed, through his Honor the Mayor, that the City Council is of the opinion that the following amendment should be added to the proposed contracts with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing gas and for the equipment and lighting of gas lamps:

"In consideration of the execution of two contracts dated March 6, 1924, for the supply of gas for street lighting purposes and for the maintenance of street lamps, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company hereby agrees that said contracts be terminated on April 1, 1929, by the City of Boston, in pursuance of a vote of the City Council approved by the Mayor after a public hearing held as provided by section 6, of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, provided written notice of such vote to terminate is given by the Mayor of Boston to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company any time between March 1, 1928, and July 1, 1928; otherwise said contracts shall continue in full force and effect for the full term provided therein.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 2.38 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WALSH, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 4.48 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. PURCELL, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits be granted, viz.:

Hazel Boone, Copley-Plaza Hotel, May 23.
Lillian F. Brown, Fine Arts Theatre, June 6.
Miss Gertrude Murphy, Bloomfield Hall, June 12.
M. Theresa Connell, Jordan Hall, May 19.
Grace M. Marden, Dudley Street Opera House, June 3.
J. J. Richards, Copley-Plaza Hotel, June 9.
Marion Hennessey, Gorman's Theater, May 22.

Emma G. Tunncliffe, Boston Opera House, May 27.
Irene E. Redes, Huntington Chambers Hall, June 12.

Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Reports on communications from the Street Commissioners (referred April 28 and May 5, respectively) as to notice of hearings for permits for storage and sale of gasoline—that the same be placed on file.

Reports accepted; communications placed on file.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred May 12) for appropriation of $1,000 for action against officials of Brigham Hospital—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 9.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted a report on message of Mayor and order (referred May 12) to exchange land on Wallingford road—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 9.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

CONTRACTS FOR STREET LIGHTING.

Coun. WATSON submitted the following—The Committee on Finance to which was referred the proposed contracts with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for furnishing gas and for the equipment and lighting of gas lamps for lighting streets having considered the subject respectfully recommends that said contracts be approved.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the approval of the contracts.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, there is no use in making a double-headed fight but I just want to say that the records of the hearing before the Committee on Finance show on page 9 that Mr. Barnum would have been willing to renew the five-year optional contract for supplying the gas. He said that, of course, he would have to get in touch with the Welsbach concern before he could tie them up. So the statement made in committee by two councilors that the gas company was unwilling to go through on that, is not absolutely sound. Of course, as I say, there is no use in going through here again the same fight that we had in committee, but I would ask if the same report, "ought to pass," is made by the committee on the order I put in?

Coun. WATSON—The Committee on Finance voted that that ought not to pass. Consequently, it has not come before us.

Coun. HEALEY—It is not before the Council?

Coun. WATSON—No. No other motion was made at that time.

The Council voted to approve the contracts with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, yeas 7, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Lane, Moriarty, Purcell, Walsh—7.

Nays—Coun. Healey, Watson—2.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President—

President DONOGHUE—For what purpose does the councilor rise?

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I move to recall my order from the Committee on Finance, the order looking to a five-year optional contract.

The motion to recall was declared carried. Coun. Brickley doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to recall was lost, yeas 4, nays 5:

Yeas—Coun. Healey, Lane, Walsh, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue, Gilbody, Moriarty, Purcell—5.

SALARY INCREASE.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That until otherwise ordered the annual salaries of the officers connected with the City Council be established as follows, beginning with the fourth day of April 1924:

Clerk of Committees.....	$4,500
Secretary to the City Council and Assistant Clerk of Committees.....	3,000
City Messenger.....	4,500
Assistant in the office of the City Messenger	2,400

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

ANNUAL BUDGET PASSED.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Appropriations, reported recommending the passage of the annual budget (City Document 49).

Report accepted, budget adopted, yeas 9, nays 0.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President DONOGHUE called up the following, under unfinished business:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 14, 1924, of the following-named Constables:

1. Saverio Di Donato.
2. True William Hunt.
Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, May 12, 1924, viz.:

3. Paul Craig and Charles A. Hamann, to be Weighers of Coal.
4. Thomas A. Holt, Harry G. Dow, Robert A. Todd, August G. Asker, Walter Henderson and Walter A. Stoddard, to be Weighers of Goods.

5. Herbert C. Davis, to be a Weigher of Boilers and Heavy Machinery.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Brickley and Lane. Whole number of ballots 8; yeas, 8, and the appointments were confirmed.

APPROPRIATION FOR OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT.

Under unfinished business, President DONOGHUE called up the following:

6. CONTRACTORS START WORK ON NEW ROXBURY HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING SITE.

MONUMENTAL TASK OF DIGGING AWAY LEDGE OF OVER 17,000 CUBIC YARDS OF ROCK BEGINS. WILL REQUIRE AT LEAST FOUR MONTHS TO PREPARE FOR FOUNDATION OF WHAT WILL BE THE FINEST STRUCTURE OF KIND IN COUNTRY.

THREE VIEWS OF ROCKY LEDGE AT WARREN, TOWNSEND AND HARRISHOF STREETS, TO BE HEWN AWAY FOR FOUNDATION OF NEW ROXBURY HIGH SCHOOL.

Work has been begun by contractors under the direction of Mayor Curley and the Schoolhouse Department on the site on which will be erected the new $3,000,000 Roxbury High School for Girls, at Warren, Townsend and Harrishof streets.

The contractor has begun to dig and cart away the huge ledge of the Williams homestead. This ledge is estimated to contain more than 17,000 cubic yards of rock and the job of excavating for the schoolhouse will extend over four months. At present it is intended to erect only half the building at a cost of $1,437,000. Harrishof street will have to be extended and contracts for sewer and water will have to be let at an expense of $20,000.

The building when completed will be the finest in the country and possibly in the world. There will be 54,000 square feet of floor space in the building and the lot covers 241,480 square feet or a little more than six acres. The building will be one of the greatest monuments to the present administration of Mayor Curley and under his direction the structure will also house a branch library, as well as a ward room and a voting precinct.

The building will have a seating capacity of 1,800 pupils.

WOULD WIDEN ADAMS STREET.

CITY PLANNING BOARD MAKES REPORT TO MAYOR SUGGESTING IMPROVING HIGHWAY LEADING TO SOUTH SHORE.

Mayor Curley received the following report from the City Planning Board on May 24:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—In reply to your request for investigation and report by this board, as to the advisability of widening on the easterly side to about seventy feet, Adams street, from Park street to Dorchester avenue, the City Planning Board submits herewith a report as to its findings.

Adams street in the Dorchester district, between Park street and Dorchester avenue at the present time is approximately 50 feet in width. From Park street southerly to King square the width increases to approximately 65 feet. Vehicular traffic bound for the south shore from Dorchester avenue follows Adams street in order to reach Neponset avenue.

To make this southerly artery more efficient by a uniform flow of traffic, Adams street, between Park street and Dorchester avenue ought to be widened. This proposed widening would fall most logically on the easterly side of Adams street so as to continue its present line south of Park street. This would mean cutting back approximately 20 to 25 feet on the easterly side, making the total

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. TO ROOM 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

JENNINGS DECLINES MAYOR'S OFFER OF SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS BERTH.

MICHAEL J. REIDY NAMED IN HIS STEAD.

Mayor Curley received the following letter May 28:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—After consideration of your kind selection of my name for the position as Superintendent of Public Buildings in the City of Boston, permit me to extend to you my sincere thanks and to assure you that I would deem it an honor to serve under your successful administration. The labor movement of this city at this time needs every tried and true leader, and I believe that my long affiliation would not justify the confidence they have in me if at this time with so many important issues affecting labor were I to retire from the movement. As an international officer of the Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs elected by a vote of the delegates all over the country for the last fourteen years and as the secretary business representative of the Boston Central Labor Union, I feel that I must decline your generous offer and trust that your Honor will receive this letter in the spirit that it is sent. With best wishes, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

P. H. JENNINGS.

The Mayor this day appointed Michael J. Reidy, 4 Harvest terrace, Dorchester, to the position of Superintendent of Public Buildings.

STREET WIDENINGS PROPOSED BY MAYOR TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC WINNING IN LEGISLATURE.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON PLANNING BOARD BILL FOR KNEELAND STREET AND TREMONT STREET CAUSES MEASURE TO BE MOVED RAPIDLY ON TO ENGROSSMENT.

The first step in the intermediate thoroughfare proposed by the City Planning Board has received the approval of the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance with the result that they have reported favorably upon the bill providing for the widening of Kneeland street, from Washington and Stuart streets, to Atlantic avenue, to a width of not less than eighty feet, and the widening of Tremont street, from Arlington square to its intersection with Stuart street to a width of not less than eighty feet, together with a resolve providing for a special commission to investigate the entire proposition.

The bills for the widening of Kneeland and Tremont streets have passed three readings in the House and the first two readings in the Senate this week.

Each member of the Legislature has been furnished a copy of statement signed by representatives of different organizations in the city setting forth the reasons for immediate action in the matter of the Kneeland and Tremont street widenings, looking toward comprehensive plan for the relief of street traffic conditions in the City of Boston.

A copy of this statement, the original of which is on file in the office of the City Planning Board, is attached herewith.

May 12, 1924.

The widening of Kneeland street to a width of not less than eighty feet is greatly needed and its value will be immediate and will not conceivably be lessened by any further thoroughfare improvements made in the future, whatever their nature may be.

At present Stuart street stops abruptly at Washington street and therefore does not induce traffic to use it to anywhere near its full capacity.

Traffic from the west seeking to get down town or to the South Station still naturally prefers to use Boylston and Tremont streets or Boylston and Essex streets. If Kneeland street is widened, from Washington street to Atlantic avenue, it will offer a direct continuation of Stuart street to the South Station, a route that will be far freer of congestion than narrow Essex street and which therefore will tend to draw all South Station, as well as South Boston traffic to Stuart street rather than Boylston street, and so provide an appreciable relief to the present serious congestion at Boylston and Tremont streets and beyond.

It will also divert similar traffic entering the city on Tremont and Washington streets which now is more likely to continue to Essex or Summer streets.

This is one of the very greatly needed street widenings and will be an important factor in the future street plan of the city. At the present time new buildings are projected and permits applied for or granted which will interfere with the proper lines of such widening and which will increase the cost of such widening, if it is deferred. It is important, therefore, that it should be authorized without delay.

In addition to the widening of Kneeland street, the widening of Tremont street, from Arlington square to Stuart street, to a width of not less than eighty feet should also be authorized at this time. Tremont street, from Arlington square westward, is now eighty feet or more in width, but only about sixty feet between Arlington square and Stuart street. It is clearly desirable that this important thoroughfare should be made fully effective by making it of uniform width throughout. A new building operation on the corner of Hollis street and Tremont street costing in the neighborhood of $7,000,000 is now underway, clearly making it impossible to widen Tremont street on that side.

The entrance incline to the subway at Pleasant street also makes it necessary to widen Tremont street, when it is widened on the westerly side of the street. A new building for the Elks is being planned on their property on the west side of Tremont street just beyond Hollis street, which it is contemplated will cost between two and three million dollars. This building operation is planned to go forward this summer.

Unless Tremont street widening is determined upon at this time, this one building will increase the cost of the entire widening by fully 100 per cent, and may very well make impossible or at least impracticable the proper widening of this thoroughfare.

In addition, other real estate operations on this side of Tremont street in the vicinity of Stuart street are developing and will undoubtedly still further increase the cost of this widening if it is delayed.

It is essential, therefore, in the interests of economy and the eventual development of a consistent street plan that this widening be authorized at this time. Approval of the above two street widening projects is respectfully urged by the undersigned.

AUTO PARKING BANNED.

At a meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners on May 22 it was voted "That the Street Commissioners be requested through his Honor the Mayor to prohibit parking at the junction of Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue." The Mayor has approved the vote.

WOULD WIDEN ADAMS STREET.

street width 70 feet between property lines, with a roadway 54 feet in width and 8-foot sidewalks on either side. Inasmuch as this street is used mainly for traffic and the foot travel on sidewalks is light, 8-foot sidewalks should be sufficient to serve this locality. Ordinarily the City Planning Board is not in favor of streets 70 feet wide, especially in business sections where the sidewalks from necessity are of such width as to permit only five lines of traffic instead of six, as is the case at present on Stuart street.

The estimated expense for the taking of land and building, based on the present assessed valuations, plus 25 per cent, together with the construction cost for a street 70 feet wide, would come to approximately $113,600. In addition to this sum any street widening between Park street and Dorchester avenue would necessitate the rearrangement and rebuilding of the bridge now carrying the railroad tracks used by the Shawmut Branch of the Old Colony Railroad Company on the overhead structure between Dickens and Lincoln streets. The estimated cost for such a bridge rebuilt to the average width of 70 feet for the street is $75,000.

The City Planning Board is of the opinion, therefore, that in order to provide Adams street with a more uniform width, from King square to Dorchester avenue, an additional widening should be made at this time on the easterly side between Park street and Dorchester avenue in advance of any new building operations. This improvement would facilitate the increasing flow of motor traffic, especially trucks, to the south shore inasmuch as the route—Dorchester avenue, Adams street and Neponset avenue—is the most easterly of the southerly routes leading from the heart of the city to the south shore towns.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

A UNIT SYSTEM OF VALUATIONS.

CHAIRMAN EDWARD T. KELLY OF THE BOSTON BOARD OF ASSESSORS OUTLINES BASIS IN "REAL ESTATE BULLETIN" ARTICLE.

[Published by Courtesy of the "Real Estate Bulletin."]

In the present period of high real estate values, one pauses to think of what the real solid basis of value really is. Sales, leases, rents, improvements, future prospects, all are considered by those having to deal with valuing.

Fair market value is a term, used in the statutes, and defined by the courts. The taxpayer is interested in the meaning of these terms, and the assessors must recognize them in fixing values.

Market value has been defined to be the value at which a property would sell singly and alone for cash at a bona fide sale, after full public notice.

Also, it is at least the highest price which a normal purchaser, not under peculiar compulsion, will pay at the time and place in question, in order to get the thing.

Value is determined by need and desire and has some relation to supply and demand.

Trained exponents of land values use a unit foot 80-100 or 150 feet deep in arriving at values. The unit adopted must be expressed for the depth generally found.

As the front of a lot is more valuable than the rear, it sometimes becomes necessary to determine where the front ends and the rear begins.

Many tables have been prepared, namely: The Hoffman-Neill, Lindsay-Bernard, Somers, Pleydell, where front foot values are used; and the so-called Cambridge system, where square foot values are the basis.

The underlying principle of all of the tables is that a lot 50 feet deep was worth two-thirds of the value of an adjacent lot of the same frontage 100 feet deep.

A simple rule and one easily remembered that can be readily applied is the so-called 4-3-2-1 rule. In substance this means that the first 25 feet of a lot is worth 40 per cent of the whole. The second 25 feet is worth 30 per cent of the whole (making the first half worth 70 per cent of the whole). The third 25 feet is worth 20 per cent of the whole (making the first 75 feet worth 90 per cent of the whole), and the last 25 feet is worth 10 per cent of the whole, or 100 per cent for the whole 100 feet deep.

The objection has frequently been raised that because the more valuable lots in Boston were so irregular in shape and so cut up with streets, passageways, etc., that no basis of land values could be established that could be compared.

This is true, but it would not prevent the establishment of common factors that could be applied under normal conditions and then depart from the rule as the particular case required. The man of experience would have a common basis to start with and then would apply his expert knowledge by adding to the normal, something for corners, passageways, plot-tage and the like.

While the general theory of unit land values receives little attention from Boston experts, there are some simple principles that are worth more than passing notice.

An intelligent application of them would equalize values in matters of taxation and give force to the expression "just proportion."

MAYOR CHIDES FULLER FOR PLAGIARISM OF CAMPAIGN IDEAS.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter: May 26:

HON. ALVIN T. FULLER, State House, Boston, Mass.:

MY DEAR MR. FULLER,—You have been such a pronounced public advocate of efficiency and economy in the administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth that I believe it my duty to direct your attention to an example of waste and extravagance upon your part in the present campaign for Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts.

A number of city employees have forwarded me communications addressed to them upon the stationery of the Commonwealth in behalf of your candidacy and assuming that your mailing department has made an error and is using the City of Boston Municipal Employees list instead of the State List of Employees for the mailing of cards in behalf of your candidacy, I take this occasion to direct your attention to what apparently is an error.

My Secretary, Standish Willcox, was the recipient of one of your communications and really felt offended that he should be singled out as a possible supporter of your candidacy for Governor. Mr. Willcox desires me to inform you that he has been an enrolled Democrat for thirty-three years and recalls having voted for Grover Cleveland and is really greatly disturbed that you should select him, as has been done in this case. I believe it but proper that you should extend him a written apology for forwarding cards to him.

Also, in the event that your adoption of the pledge card system, as introduced by me to the people of the Commonwealth some eight months ago, should prove beneficial to you, I trust I may at least receive a letter of thanks.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

BRIDGE TENDERS THANK MAYOR.

Mayor Curley on May 24 received the following letter from President Francis F. Morse, of the Bridge Tenders Union, A. F. of L., 12333:

At a meeting of the Bridge Tenders Union held Thursday, May 22, a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered your Honor for granting the members of our Union an increase of $100 a year and for making provision to allow time off on account of illness without loss of pay.

With best wishes for your future success,

GREATEST BOOK ON BOSTON DEVELOPMENT YET PRODUCED TO BECOME CITY DOCUMENT.

CITY PLANNING BOARD HAS GATHERED INTO ONE VOLUME FACTS AND DIGESTS OF REPORTS AND STUDIES OF ALL MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS INVESTIGATED IN THE PAST EIGHTY YEARS. VALUABLE ASSET TO CITY FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.

At Monday's meeting of the City Council, his Honor Mayor Curley transmitted a document of somewhat unusual character, which has been prepared by the City Planning Board. It is called a "Compendium of Reports and Studies Relating to the Commerce and Industries of Boston," but this title gives only a general idea of its scope and of the interest of its contents.

The work, as it happens, originated in the City Council. Some time ago that body passed an order, requesting the City Planning Board to compile "a list and synopsis of the various investigations and reports which have been made in the past twenty or thirty years in connection with the commercial, maritime and industrial development of Boston." After a preliminary study the Board presented a partial list but reported that the task was "stupendous" and pleaded lack of financial resources sufficient to carry it to completion.

Recently, with the approval of the Mayor, who has interested himself to an unusual degree in these commercial problems, the Board returned to the subject and engaged William A. Leahy to undertake the work, with the assistance and co-operation of its own office staff.

The compendium in its completed form amounts to much more than "a list and synopsis." The reports and studies condensed, numbering about 150, span the whole field of investigations during the last eighty years into this vast and many-angled subject. The modern period, of course, did not begin until some fifty years ago, when the Commonwealth outlined its first plans for the development of the waterfront and it is this later period that has received particular attention.

"It has seemed best," says the preface to the compendium, "while not ignoring the earlier period, to subordinate matters that have today only a historical interest. Even for the past three decades the material is so abundant that a selection had to be made. It is hoped, however, that no really essential documents have been overlooked."

This preface, consisting of thirty or more closely written pages, is a valuable feature of the volume. It not only explains the plan and purposes of the work but offers a general analysis of the material comprised in its 350 to 400 pages. Here, for example, are brought together and classified the principal remedies proposed for backward conditions in the city's commerce and industry, a list of some fifty distinct projects and programs, astonishing in its variety and suggestiveness. Many of them have been live issues for decades and were never more alive than today.

A certain "curious retardation" in the adoption of progressive measures is emphasized in the compendium and a possible explanation is offered. After describing the substantial progress that has been made, especially in the virtual transformation of the waterfront, the preface qualifies this record somewhat by calling attention to "the deliberate and even cautious manner in which the state and the city have approached their commercial problems" and illustrates this tendency by citing several characteristic instances of the postponement of necessary improvements.

It is curious that, in spite of the deserved reputation of our citizens for initiative, ideas in this practical field must undergo so long a probation. No one in particular can be blamed, because no one public body is responsible for the prosperity of our commerce and industry. As with most improvements for which a consensus of separate authorities is required, time seems to be needed to effect a compromise between the divergent opinions.

One is led to think that the very wide differences of opinion and the absence of any central authority to pass upon them explain many of these singular hesitations. We have numberless plans, formulated and argued, but they are all, so to speak, hanging in the air. Such a central authority would necessarily be public, and as far back as 1893 the merchants of Boston, several hundred strong, petitioned for some form of public supervision of the waterfront; but the distrust felt by the business community for political control has availed, with other causes, to prevent the establishment of such a system, except in a fragmentary way, though it is the accepted usage in Europe, and in many American seaports.

With a scattered responsibility the very multiplicity of the remedies proposed must have served to bewilder those in authority. We read in the annual report for 1914 of the directors of the port of Boston that they had collected "thirty-five elaborately worked out schemes for the development of the East Boston side of the harbor." It is not surprising that the native hue of resolution should have paled before this avalanche of counsel. With such an embarrassment of projects before them, each supported by more or less convincing diagrams, estimates and predictions, the Legislature naturally hesitated to commit itself definitely and to vote the millions of public money that each enthusiast required for his scheme. Yet all this ferment of ideas testifies to an active interest in the subject and to a manifest need.

In another paragraph this subject is developed further.

"The outstanding feature to which one returns amid all these discussions is the variety of plans proposed. They range from the imposing proposition of the directors of the port to take over all the railroad water terminals, with their connections, at a cost of $25,000,000 or more and operate them as a public utility to a simple suggestion for the movement of trolley freight cars to and from the Fish Pier over the viaduct. We read of belt lines, outer, inner and intermediate, of cross-town and under-harbor tunnels, of lighterage and car-float systems, of public ownership and private or a mixture of both, of terminals creating business and business creating terminals. These and other choices and alternatives supply the substance of a running debate in which now and then some successful result is achieved and automatically removed from the field of controversy.

"The larger purposes underlying this collective effort are clear and simple. They are, in a few words, to get freight and passengers moving through the port both ways. More specifically, the aims are to attract grain and other food products from Canada and the West; to recover for Boston the half million or more tons of New England manufactures that are sent every year to New York for shipment; to keep open at easy rates with good service the rail and water lines essential for the reciprocal flow of raw materials and finished goods; and to promote in Boston the industrial enterprises for which our tidewater frontage and other facilities offer exceptional advantages."

These paragraphs are followed by the list of proposed remedies, which occupies several pages; but these are not the only interesting features in the preface. The ups and downs of our commercial prosperity are reflected in the tone, now confident, now anxious and complaining, of the documents, as illustrated by typical quotations.

"The tone and tenor and even the number of the reports reflect these vicissitudes. While the agitation has been practically continuous, it has come to a maximum at certain critical periods. In 1897 steamers could not find berths in the harbor. The tonnage of foreign trade was greater than it has been in some recent years. Exports, as a rule, exceeded imports in value. It was predicted that Boston would take business from New York and that the latter port would suffer, if not actually decline. The problem of the authorities was, not to seek commerce, but to provide for the vessels making and clearing the port.

"But this period, which lasted until about 1908, was brought to an end by a series of unfavorable developments. The exports of livestock from this country fell off and Boston no longer sent out her loaded cattle steamers. The rate decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, especially those of 1905 and 1912, were uniformly adverse to the interests of this port. Two of the leading New England railroads met with reverses which affected the quality of their service. The whole situation gradually changed until in 1909 the value of exports was the lowest in nineteen years and all but one of the next five years recorded a decline over its predecessor. The problem now was not so much to accommodate vessels as to furnish the cargoes that would induce them to call."

This interplay of conditions, often external and remote in origin, and the remedial measures which represent the struggle of the city to maintain its footing, gives an interest that is almost dramatic to what seems on the surface a plain, straightforward record of prosaic commercial issues. The national government, the state, the city, the Chamber of Commerce, have all been participants in the contest. The state, for reasons that are clearly set forth, has furnished the bulk of the reports bearing directly on commerce and industry, but the city is creditably represented in the collateral documents, those that are related more indirectly to the general theme. Private individuals have also contributed valuable studies. "The reports, proceeding from so many different sources, vary in length, merit and character. Men of many professions and of most dissimilar outlook have contributed to them. Among the writers are found engineers, architects, merchants, manufacturers, executives, legislators, traffic experts, economists, labor leaders, publicists, professors."

In its concluding paragraphs the preface recites the objects of the compendium. "It is not the province of this compendium to originate plans or to express a preference among them. Its aim, once more, is to compile the existing material so as to make it more available and to give it such order and arrangement that a summary of the documents themselves will reveal the commercial problems of the city, the forces approaching them, the solutions thus far proposed and the efforts made to carry them into effect. On this basis of clarified understanding it may be that further effort will be more concentrated and correspondingly more effective."

A warm tribute is paid to "the men of vision who have labored in this practical field, not wholly without success, for the welfare of Boston. Their achievements speak for themselves and their published documents constitute a storehouse of valuable information and constructive ideas. If technical skill is required for the solution of problems, it is always at hand. In the study of electrification contained in the report of the Joint Board of 1911 or the discussion in the report of the Charles River Dam Commission of 1903, of the sanitary and hydraulic effects of that improvement, to take two examples almost at random, the public is served by the same expert knowledge that has given this community its unexcelled water supply, its reliable sewerage system, its pioneer traffic tunnels, its matchless parks and pleasure beaches and its well-kept harbor. While the older generations have not solved all our problems for us, they have bequeathed us inspiring models of the method and the spirit with which they solved their own."

Following the preface, the abstracts, which form the bulk of the volume, are arranged in chronological order under two main heads with several subdivisions. A brief chapter, entitled "Some Pioneers," leads up to the Abstracts of Reports and Studies relating to Commerce and Industry. These are followed by Abstracts of Publications on Related Subjects, which include General City Planning, Metropolitan Unity, Metropolitan Highways, Metropolitan Transportation, Industrial Education, Market Problems, Housing and Zoning.

There are several appendices, containing matter of especial value to students, a reference list of about eighty maps and plans, a selected list of important publications, a list of descriptive manuals, a chronological summary of the principal investigations, a statement on differential rates, and a list of notable improvements affecting commerce and industry.

In this part of the book there is scarcely a question among the legion that have been debated in this domain that does not receive treatment in one or more of the abridgments. On the consolidation of the New England railroads, for example, there are abstracts of the voluminous Storrow report, the original report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, containing a special study by Professor Ripley, another study by Professor Cunningham, and two monographs by John E. Oldham, so that every point of view is fully and impartially presented. This is true of other questions connected with waterfront development, railroad connections, tunnels, traffic congestion, the street system, metropolitan unity and many more similar problems.

Besides serving as a magazine of information, useful especially to public officials and students, the compendium restores to public notice several documents that are, in its own language, "classics of their kind." Among these are the remarkable plans for the future city, sketched by Robert Fleming Gourlay, a Scotchman, who lived here in 1843; the brilliant suggestions of Pierre Humbert, city surveyor, in 1893; the able report of the Rapid Transit Commission, headed by former Mayor Nathan Matthews, in 1892; the pamphlet on Greater Boston by Sylvester Baxter, published in 1901; the epoch-making report of the Commission on Industrial Education appointed by Governor Douglas in 1906; that of the Charles River Dam Commission headed by President Pritchett in 1903; the report of the Metropolitan Improvements Commission in 1909 and the Metropolitan Plan, by Arthur A. Shurtleff, incorporated in this report, but treated separately in the compendium.

The work of the first Board of Survey, of which ex-Mayor Hugh O'Brien was chairman; studies on the subject of docks by Robert S. Peabody and Desmond Fitzgerald and on railroad and waterfront problems by Professor Clapp and Professor Cherington; the intensive labors of the directors of the port, including such well-known figures as Admiral Bowles, Hugh Bancroft, Edward F. McSweeney and Joseph A. Conry, are analyzed in this compendium. Due credit is given to the thorough and courageous report of the Terminal Commission of 1916, the secretary of which was Edward J. Dunn of the Boston Post. The City Planning Board itself, under the chairmanship of Ralph Adams Cram and Frederic H. Fay, has published notable surveys of East Boston and the North End, as well as studies of the market problem, the metropolitan street system, the zoning plan, and a series of annual reports that are read by experts all over the United States.

The 1907 report of the Boston Society of Architects, the publications of the Boston 1915 movement largely guided by James P. Munroe, are among the scores of interesting documents summarized in the compendium. The points of view are various and the spice of occasional controversy is not wanting to season the mass of solid information.

Many of the works mentioned were pioneer and foundational in their several spheres and as such are widely known to serious students and have reflected distinction on this city and the Commonwealth. Not a few of them were the basis of important legislation. It is an incidental service of the compendium to have rescued them from comparative neglect and to have recognized their enduring value.

Due recognition is also given to the work of the various mayors of Boston in promoting commercial development. The names of mayors Lincoln, Matthews, O'Brien, Quincy, Fitzgerald, Peters and Curley occur in connection with legislation or municipal efforts designed to advance the mercantile interests of the city.

Mayor Curley accompanied his message to the City Council with an order providing for the publication of the compendium as a city document. In this form it would be accessible to the general public and it is expected that there will be a large demand for it among specialists in this city and elsewhere.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 25.

I. FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL SUNDAY.

Deputy chiefs will detail twelve men from their divisions to act as escort to the various organizations on Firemen's Memorial Sunday, June 8, 1924. The detail will report to the chief marshal, Deputy Chief Edward J. Shallow of this department, at 9 a. m., sharp, at Headquarters Building, Bristol street. The regulation uniform, with sack coat and white gloves will be worn on this occasion.

The detail will be made, as far as possible, from the trustees of the Boston Firemen's Charitable Association. Exchange of days off and shifts will be permitted to conform with this, and time will be allowed to report to the chief marshal.

Members who are on the night shift Saturday, June 7, 1924, and who are to participate in this service, will be allowed to leave quarters before 8 a. m. Sunday, and will be excused from roll call, if relieved by members of the on-coming shift prior to eight o'clock.

Members of the department who are on day off or who are on the off shift on Sunday, June 8, 1924, are requested to participate in the memorial exercises.

The committee on arrangements is anxious to know how many members of the department are to attend the services. Owing to the two-platoon system a large attendance is expected. In order that the committee may have some idea as to the attendance on Sunday, June 8, all members who propose to attend are requested to submit their names to their company commanders, who will forward them to the Fire Commissioner on Form 5, not later than Wednesday, June 4, 1924.

II. CHANGES IN FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following changes have been made in fire alarm boxes:

Box 3445, formerly located at Florida and Mallet streets, has been moved to Florida and Templeton streets.

Box 3491, formerly located at the Victory plant, Squantum, has been permanently removed from service.

III. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following new fire alarm boxes will shortly be established:

Box 63: Maverick and London streets, connected into circuit No. 48. Assignments will be the same as for Box 628, with the exception that Engine 47 will be dropped on first alarm and Engine 31 will be dropped on second alarm.

Box 3576: Colorado and Messenger streets, connected into circuit No. 31. Assignments will be the same as for Box 3548.

Box 3577: Kennebec and Canaan streets, connected into circuit No. 30. Assignments will be the same as for Box 3573.

Box 7143: Claflin and C streets, connected into circuit No. 32. Assignments will be the same as for Box 7121.

IV. BASEBALL TEAM.

The first meeting of candidates for the Fire Department baseball team will be called at Dorchester Town Field at 10 a. m. on Wednesday, May 28, 1924. All members of the department who are off duty and who play ball are requested to appear at the field at that time. There is enough material in the Boston Fire Department for a fast team, and the commissioner would like to see such a team organized. It is hoped therefore that there will be a good attendance at this meeting.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 539.

The resignation of Patrolman Martin C. Welch of Division 2 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Monday, May 26, 1924, at 7:45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 540.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Goff and Gallivan, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John Savage of Division 9, charging him with leaving his route and entering a building, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman John Savage perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 541.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Gallivan and Fitzgerald, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Robert Priestly of Division 13, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Robert Priestly perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 542.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Goff and Gallivan, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Joseph P. Patenaude of Division 9, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Joseph P. Patenaude perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 543.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Gallivan and Fitzgerald, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Wayland H. Blanding of Division 6, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Wayland H. Blanding perform one hundred and forty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

JAPANESE THANK MAYOR AND ALL BOSTON CITIZENS FOR EARTHQUAKE RELIEF AID.

Mayor Curley received the following communication May 27:

YOKOHAMA CITY OFFICE.

YOKOHAMA, April 25, 1924.

DEAR SIR.—On behalf of the people of this city, with the vote of thanks of the City Assembly of Yokohama, I have the honor to express to you my profound gratitude for your various aids given to our destitute sufferers of the unprecedented calamity which overwhelmed the entire city of Yokohama on the first of September, last year.

The most prompt and timely relief forwarded here by your people and government have been great encouragement to facilitate rehabilitation and reconstruction of this city, and at present all of our people are eagerly engaged in their former occupations or new enterprises to upbuild greater and more prosperous city. And the port of Yokohama which was badly crippled as well as the city by that great earthquake and fire is recovering fast, and its capacity and facilities will be enlarged and improved for foreign trade and shipping.

As the Mayor of this city, I will be very much obliged if you kindly convey my sincere thanks to all of our friends in your city who were so kind to help us in time of great need, and inform them that their sympathy and generosity shown to us will be remembered by our people forever, and they have surely cemented the cordial relations existing between your country and Japan.

I avail of this opportunity to assure, your honor, my highest consideration.

K. WATANABE,
Mayor of Yokohama.

MAYOR CONGRATULATES RED SOX ON BASEBALL ACHIEVEMENT.

Mayor Curley on May 27 addressed the following telegram to Robert Quinn, President of the Boston American Baseball Club:

ROBERT QUINN, President, Boston American Baseball Club, Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Pa.:

I desire to congratulate you and every member of the Red Sox team upon your leadership of the American League race after the finest exhibition of winning baseball our city has known in many years. There is no better place for the World Series pennant than at Fenway Park where I feel assured we shall enjoy a splendid ceremony in October. May every possible success attend you and the team.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

street by the widening of said street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of December 14, 1921; it being agreed that any assessments upon said property for said widening shall be assumed by the City of Boston.

MAYOR CURLEY FLAYS SENATOR LODGE.

Using as his theme the present criticism of Henry Cabot Lodge by Republicans, Mayor Curley, in a speech at the banquet of the Democratic members of the Legislature Monday night bitterly arraigned the Senator for opposing the Wilson League of Nations and now proposing his own scheme for a world court, which he described as a thin cloak of shoddy to cover the beautiful idealism of the late President.

He also attacked Senator Lodge as being selfish and "as one individual who could not permit himself to shine in the reflected glory of another."

In the absence of Senator David I. Walsh, announced as the principal speaker at the banquet of Democratic legislators at the City Club, the Mayor predicted glorious victory for the party in the November election.

Senator Walsh sent a telegram that the possibility of action on the proposed increase in compensation for postal employees made it impossible for him to leave Washington.

The Mayor was given an enthusiastic reception by the legislators on his arrival and at the conclusion of his speech.

MAYOR HONOR GUEST AT TWO RECEPTIONS.

Mayor and Mrs. Curley were guests Monday at two receptions held in their honor in Roxbury, one by the Ward 14 Democratic Women's Club at the Girls' Normal School and the other at the High School of Practical Arts, Greenville street, Roxbury.

The need of registration of all men and women of the Democratic party if they wish to control the city, was emphasized by the Mayor to the women of Ward 14.

At the Practical Arts High School he reviewed his present administration in office.

HEARING RELATIVE TO ATTENDANCE OFFICERS, THEIR APPOINTMENT, QUALIFICATIONS AND SEX.

On motion, a hearing was appointed for Monday, May 12, 1924, at 4:30 o'clock p.m. for consideration of various questions affecting attendance officers, their duties, qualifications, acquaintance with foreign languages, and sex; including various petitions previously received relating thereto.

Mr. Sullivan, on a question of personal privilege, presented the following:

I rise to a point of personal privilege. The Boston Post in its editorial of April 24, 1924, commented upon the appointment of a woman attendance officer by the Boston School Committee. The editorial which took exception to my opposition to the appointment reads in part as follows:

"A JOB FOR A WOMAN"

"When newspaper readers noticed in the head lines that Boston had elected its first woman attendance officer, we do not believe that many of them felt that it was an 'outrage' to the men who were candidates for the post, as Edward M. Sullivan charged."

This editorial might well be dismissed as "rank tommyrot" were it not for the fact that it is a deliberate, garbled misrepresentation from beginning to end. Reference to the Boston Post of April 23, 1924, clearly sets this forth:

"The appointment of a woman at this time is, in my opinion, an outrage to the thirty veterans who appear at the head of the list, and to the thirteen non-veteran men, all candidates for appointment," said Mr. Sullivan in the course of a statement to the Committee, in which he denounced the action of the Committee as a 'subterfuge to circumvent the Veterans' Preference Act.'"

The editorial above referred to scrupulously avoids all reference to the Veteran, and to the Veterans' Preference Law. Nowhere is there a single reference to the Veteran. Nowhere appears the slightest suggestion that there is a Veterans' Preference Law. The Boston Post with studied indifference avoids and ignores the Veteran. He does not even merit passing, honorable mention. The editorial is an open insult to every American Veteran. It refuses to recognize the Veteran and the Law that gives him preference. It praises the Law's violation and ridicules its proper application as "absurd." Perhaps the Boston Post has an impressive personal prejudice for such insulting indifference. The article of April 23, 1924, above referred to begins:

"Over the vehement protest of Edward M. Sullivan of Dorchester, who declares it marks the end of Veterans' Preference, the Boston School Committee last night elected as its first woman attendance officer in this City, etc."

"The end of Veterans' Preference!" The editorial in the Boston Post of yesterday, May 4, 1924 sustains, and lends substance to the above. The Boston Post of Sunday urged that linguistic ability (facility in foreign languages), be recognized by this Committee as a special qualification in the appointment of attendance officers. It so happens that there is now a person on the list for appointment as attendance officer whose candidacy has been vigorously urged because of the same special qualification of linguistic ability, and this person is a non-veteran.

Sunday's inspired editorial is as full of nonsense as its sister editorial of April 24, 1924.

May I suggest that the Boston

Post confine itself to legitimate editorial comment?

As a duly elected public official, I refuse to be coerced by the "persuasion" of social job-hunters who interpret the responsibility of public office and the law in terms of convenience and self-interest. They are not above the law. Nor is the Boston Post. And I here serve notice that its libelous assaults and inspired attacks shall cease.

Placed on file.

ADJOURNMENT

The Board adjourned.

PUBLIC CONTROL OF BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY.

By Chapter 159, Special Acts of 1918, a State board of five trustees was created to assume control of the Elevated Railway Co. for the term of 10 years, the need being imperative to improve its unfortunate condition and impaired service in the interest of a very large traveling public. Regular dividends were continued and the raising of $3,000,000 of new capital was provided for by the issue and sale of preferred stock. It was also provided that if the income should be insufficient to meet the cost of service and the reserve fund proved inadequate, any deficit should be paid by the State and assessed upon the cities and towns in which the railway was operated. The fare was raised from 5 cents to 7, then to 8 and again to 10. The total deficit for year ending June 30, 1919, was $4,980,152, which was covered by extra taxation, as ordered, Boston paying $2,905,931 or 71.9 per cent of total levy. According to the said act of 1918, the cities and towns were to be reimbursed for assessments paid by them as soon as the financial condition of the Elevated Co. permitted.

By Chapter 369, General Acts of 1919, the purchase by the State from the Elevated Co. of the Cambridge Subway was ordered as an emergency law, the capital thus made available being needed by the trustees. The property was conveyed to the State May 1, 1920, on payment of $7,868,000 and 4½ per cent of this cost is payable by the B. E. Co. annually for rental.

The report of the Trustees of B. E. Railway Co. for year 1920 showed a notable financial improvement as compared with 1919, the cost of service exceeding receipts by $347,167 or only one-seventh of the deficit in 1919.

The Trustees' report for 1921 showed total receipts for that year of $33,277,026, exceeding the total cost of service, depreciation, debt requirements and dividends by $1,171,445. This surplus permitted certain reimbursements in 1922, Boston receiving $372,035 or 12.8 per cent of the assessment paid in 1919. Under the act of 1918, the general 10-cent fare cannot be reduced until all reimbursements are completed. On June 10, 1922, the consolidation of the West End Street Railway Co. with the Boston Elevated Co. went into effect, as provided by Acts of 1911, Chap. 740, the lease to the Elevated not expiring until the said date.

POPULATION BY GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRICTS, UNITED STATES CENSUS.

East Boston (i. e., Wds. 1 and 2, including the island) 63,051 or 2,629 less than in 1915; Charlestown (Wds. 3 and 4) 34,272 or 5,329 less; Boston Proper (Wds. 5, 6, 7 and 8 and northern corner of Wds. 12 and 13) 170,637 or 25,663 decrease; South Boston (Wds. 9, 10 and northern part of Wd. 11 to Howell St.) 64,144 or 5,601 decrease; Roxbury (most of Wds. 12, 13, 14, 15 and all of Wd. 16) 135,024 or 7,341 increase; Dorchester (most of Wd. 11, Wds. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and part of 24) 157,932 or 19,813 increase; West Roxbury (including Jamaica Plain and Roslindale, i. e., Wds. 22 and 23) 63,190 or 7,119 increase; Brighton (Wds. 25 and 26) 41,724 or 6,942 increase; Hyde Park (most of Wd. 24) 18,086 or 628 increase. According to these unprecedented census returns, the five districts constituting the most densely inhabited part of Boston (i. e., from the northern boundary to Franklin Park, including Roxbury and South Boston) showed a net decrease from 1915 to 1920 amounting in all to 31,881, while the other four districts showed an increase of only 34,502. In the preceding five years, 1910-1915, the same five districts increased by 16,373 and the other four by 58,481, a total increase (omitting the 15,936 gained by annexation of Hyde Park in 1912) of 58,918, or more than 22 times the increase from 1915 to 1920 as shown by last U. S. Census.

PROPOSALS FOR ICE.

The Supply Department of the City of Boston invites proposals for furnishing ice to the drinking fountains of the City of Boston for the ensuing year. A copy of the proposal can be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, Room 801, City Hall Annex. The bidder must leave his proposal at the above mentioned office, with a certified check for $300, payable to and to become the property of the City of Boston if the proposal is not carried out. A duplicate bid without check, must be left at the office of the City Auditor prior to the time named for opening bids. The bids will be publicly opened and read at this office on Friday, June 6, 1924, at 12 m. The successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the amount of the contract with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts, as surety for the faithful performance of the contract. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals, or any part of a proposal, and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city. All contracts made subject to appropriations to meet payments thereunder.

EAST BOSTON'S NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING TO BE FINEST IN STATE.

STRUCTURE TO BE LOCATED AT WHITE AND BROOKS
STREETS TO BE BEGUN SOON. SITE IS NOW ALL PREPARED, EAGLE HILL HAVING BEEN CUT DOWN FROM PLAYGROUND.

NEW EAST BOSTON HIGH SCHOOL, ON WHICH WORK IS SOON TO BE BEGUN, WILL BE ONE OF THE FINEST IN THE STATE.

The new high school building for East Boston is to be built on the property located at the corner of White and Brooks streets, a former park, on a high elevation overlooking the harbor. The lot has a frontage of 570 feet on White street and is 390 feet on Brooks street.

The school provides accommodations for about fourteen hundred pupils, with a large assembly hall and gymnasium. The building faces the south, with a central entrance located on White street, with side entrances and stair halls at each end.

The ground floor contains woodworking and machine shops, room for machine drawing, blueprinting, lockers and toilets for boys at the west end of the building, a lunch room for boys and girls, domestic science, sewing, millinery and class rooms for girls at the east end of the building.

On axis with the central entrance is the assembly hall or auditorium, accommodating about one thousand, with modern stage and dressing rooms. The assembly hall is so planned that it may be used by the community without interfering with the classes. At the rear of the assembly hall is the gymnasium, 53 feet wide and 133 feet long, entered from two corridors and directly accessible for the community by an outside entrance, with locker rooms and showers for boys and girls in the basement.

The gymnasium is to have a running track and spectators' balconies. Because the auditorium floor is pitched, the stage floor is on a line with the gymnasium floor. The architects have taken advantage of this condition, and have provided a large opening equipped with folding doors on the rear wall of the stage between the auditorium and gymnasium that the stage may be enlarged for pageants and drills.

On the second floor is the office, master's room and health office, centrally located, the library directly opposite stairs with reference room adjoining, bookkeeping and typewriting rooms, study rooms, commercial geography with display rooms, and the necessary complement of class rooms. Lockers and toilets are provided at ends of corridor and convenient to stairs, for boys and girls on each floor, boys at the west end and girls at the east end of the building. Each floor has rooms for men and women teachers with toilet adjoining.

The third floor provides chemistry, physical and biological laboratories, an elementary science room, a lecture room located in the center of the building. All laboratories have adjoining work rooms and apparatus and store rooms. A free-hand and mechanical drawing room and thirteen class rooms, together with the boys' and girls' lockers and toilets and teachers' rooms as on the floors below, complete this floor.

The basement provides a boiler room with oil burners, storage rooms and a STREET WIDENINGS TO BEGIN SOON.

Mayor Curley despite the serious handicap in the legislative provisions for the widening of Tremont and Kneeland streets, which oblige the city to contribute from taxes or other sources of revenue 10 per cent of the total cost, is determined that the money will be found and the street operations will begin soon.

The street bills call for $2,400,000, all but $240,000 to be raised outside the debt limit. How will the $240,000 be provided, in view of the fact that all money from taxes has been appropriated and that City Auditor Carven made what he deems most liberal estimates of other sources of revenue?

That official refuses to revise his estimates of revenue, but he is confident that within a short time he can put his hand on the amount needed and thus provide against any delay in the street plans. It is understood that work cannot be delayed, except at great additional cost, in view of the plans in hand for the erection of two large buildings, a fourteen-story building on Kneeland street and the Elks' Building on Tremont street.

Though it has been customary for the Legislature to require cities and towns to make a 10 per cent contribution from taxes, other sources of revenue or from their borrowing capacity for public improvements to be financed with state authority, not until the hospital bill was passed was such a restriction placed upon Boston.

The Cambridge-Court street improvement, involving $3,500,000, contained no such provision, nor did the bill authorizing the new Police Headquarters Building at $1,000,000.

The authorized loan which the city sought for the City Hospital buildings was for $3,000,000, and the Legislature granted $2,000,000 and obliged the city to contribute $1,000,000. The $1,000,000 will be provided by loan within the limit, but it will not prove a burden inasmuch as the buildings are to be constructed in units and the money will not be raised at one time.

APPEALS TO SENATOR WALSH TO SAVE WORK FOR NAVY YARD AT CHARLESTOWN.

His Honor the Mayor June 5 dictated telegrams to Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge and Hon. David I. Walsh, United States Senate, Washington, D. C., as follows:

CALLS FINANCE COMMISSION'S ATTENTION TO BOSTON PORT NEEDS.

The Mayor has addressed the following letter to the Boston Finance Commission:

BOSTON, May 28, 1924.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman, Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR,—The necessity for restoring the commercial standing of Boston in order that permanency and activity in industry may be secured is an imperative and vital issue at the present time.

The City Planning Board has prepared a "Compendium of Reports and Studies Relating to the Commerce and Industries of Boston," which compiles and abstracts more than 150 separate and distinct reports which have been made in the last seventy-five years. In this compendium there has been brought together and classified the principal remedies proposed for backward conditions in the city's commerce and industry, a list of some fifty different projects and programs, many of which have been live issues for decades and are more than ever alive at the present time.

The seriousness of the present situation has been apparently recognized by the Boston Chamber of Commerce who have recently appointed a "Committee on Street Traffic, Industrial Freight and Metropolitan Planning," with the idea of formulating a program which shall be free from the retardation which has been evident in the past in the adoption of progressive measures.

The Affiliated Technical Societies of Boston has also recently appointed a committee to work for the advancement of the Port of Boston, co-operating with of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

other existing agencies. The Division of Metropolitan Planning of the Metropolitan District Commission has had referred to it by the present Legislature a number of resolves providing for studies of transportation conditions in the metropolitan district.

It occurs to me that it might be very properly considered to be within the province of the Finance Commission, with the co-operation and assistance of other existing bodies, to work out a program for the development of the resources and the promotion of the general commercial and industrial situation throughout the city.

The city of Houston, although forty miles inland, has built a forty mile ship channel to the open sea and as a result points to an increase in tonnage of 355 per cent in 1922 as compared with 1919. The city of New Orleans, located 110 miles from the mouth of the Mississippi river, lays claim to being the second port in the country. It has recently built an inner harbor navigation canal five and one-half miles in length as the first step in a short route from the river to the Gulf of Mexico, shortening the distance by about one-half. In each case the city has overcome a handicap which at no time has confronted our own municipality. If radical measures are needed in other directions the City of Boston should approach them on the same courageous basis which have actuated other municipalities to their ultimate advantage.

I hope it will be possible to arrive at some solution upon which we can all unite in order that Boston may take its rightful place among the great commercial cities of the world.

Yours very truly,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR DEFENDS AWARDING OF PAVING CONTRACTS AGAINST FINANCE COMMISSION CHARGES.

SHOWS THAT REJECTION OF LOW BIDS BY FIRMS DEEMED UNQUALIFIED TO SERVE CITY'S BEST INTEREST HAS BEEN JUSTIFIED IN ALL CASES AT GREAT PROFIT.

Mayor Curley made the following reply to the report of the Finance Commission received June 4:

June 4, 1924.

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR, Your letter of June 4 referring to other voluminous reports of the Finance Commission with reference to bituminous pavements and making a further attack upon Warren Brothers Company and Warrenite bitulithic pavement is received. All previous reports referred to which were addressed to me have been answered, and require no further discussion, as my views on the subject matter are so different from those so frequently expressed by your commission.

The rejection of low bids by the Public Works Department during my administration in every case has been to the distinct advantage of the city and the losses claimed in your previous reports have been on paper rather than in the actual cost of a good pavement.

There is no single paving job done by the Warren Company in this city for which any city official need apologize, either as to the character of the work or the cost of same, which unfortunately is not the case with a number of Topeka and other pavements laid under the advice and upon the recommendation of your consulting engineer.

The bids received on April 22 for the paving of Blue Hill avenue and Columbia road were rejected because the tax rate had not been fixed by the Legislature, nor had the budget been approved by the City Council. Owing to the activities of your commission to have the tax rate requested by me disapproved there was no assurance that sufficient funds would be available to include this work, and the bids were therefore rejected. The Commissioner of Public Works advises me that the low bidder, Hudson Paving Company, did not make any examination of the profiles and cross-sections of the proposed work, and probably bid much lower than reasonable because of lack of information.

After the budget has been approved by the City Council, bids were again asked for Blue Hill avenue, omitting Columbia road because it was deemed best to expend the funds required for Columbia road upon other streets in the city. Bids were opened on May 26 and although the Hudson Paving Company were mailed copies of bidding blanks and specifications they did not see fit to submit a bid and could not therefore be considered as bidders. The contract was awarded to Warren Brothers Company for Warrenite bitulithic pavement, that company being the lowest bidder, and the type of pavement contracted for has given better service to the city than the types which your commission has from time to time recommended to be used, many of which are now in unsatisfactory condition and a source of continued expense and annoyance to the city.

It is true that several companies who laid Topeka pavements in the preceding administration have gone out of existence and it is also true that in awarding these contracts to incompetent contractors the city is now saddled with poor pavements at continuous and increased maintenance cost.

With reference to the lower price bid for Warrenite bitulithic pavement at the Park Department bidding on May 15, the Commissioner of Public Works advises me that the character of the existing pavement on Blue Hill avenue is such that the cost of preparation of the site will be sufficiently greater than on the park roadway to substantially account for the difference in the bids.

The prices paid by this administration for bituminous paving compares favorably with the prices paid by other municipalities in this vicinity for work of the same character as was pointed out in a previous communication to your commission. Furthermore, the prices paid by this administration are much lower than were secured by your chief engineer when he was Superintendent of Streets in 1909, taking into consideration the well known increase in cost of construction and materials since that time.

I beg to say in conclusion that the report which you have this day submitted, and which is a re-hash of what has been many times submitted in the past with reference to bitulithic paving, has aroused grave doubts in my mind as to whether I could justify answering similar communications in future.

To be frank, I am at a loss to understand whether the Finance Commission is spoofing me or whether its engineering head is acting in the capacity of advertising agent for the Warren Brothers Company. To require me to continually sound the praises of a road construction material of proven superiority to any other, with the exception of granite block, can serve no other purpose than that which either your engineer is serving or for the mirth which my answers may produce in the quarters of the Finance Commission.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION'S LETTER.

The letter of the Finance Commission was as follows:

BOSTON, June 4, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor:

SIR,—The Finance Commission from time to time has issued reports regarding provisions in the form of contract and specifications used by the Park and Public Works Departments that have limited competition for street pavements, with consequent increase in cost. Such reports are contained in Vol. XIII, pages 42-49; Vol. XVI, pages 268-273; and Vol. XVIII, pages 139-140, and 192-217, of the Finance Commission's reports.

In addition to the reports above enumerated, the Finance Commission has also called your Honor's attention at various times to the action of the heads of the Public Works and Park Departments in arbitrarily rejecting the bids of responsible lowest bidders for bituminous pavements, with the object of awarding contracts, either directly or indirectly, to a favored contractor without regard to the cost to the city or the quality of the pavements secured. These reports show the approximate loss to the city of this policy. (See Vol. XIX, pages 89-101, and 117-119.) The action of the city officials so far in regard to bids for bituminous pavements to be laid during the present season indicates that the improvident and unjustified policy of the past two seasons is being continued.

At the beginning of your Honor's present administration there were five local contractors having plants for the preparation of bituminous pavements, and there was in some cases actual competition. On account of the various conditions, but principally on account of the action of the heads of the Public Works and Park Departments in arbitrarily rejecting the lowest bids of responsible contractors and awarding to favored contractors, competition for bituminous pavements has been practically eliminated in the past two years.

On April 22, 1924, bids were opened by the Public Works Department for approximately 63,000 square yards of asphalt or Warrenite-bitulithic pavement on Columbia road and Blue Hill avenue. Five contractors submitted bids, four being local companies and the fifth the Hudson Paving Company of New York, which was doubtless induced by the high prices to enter the competition.

The bid of the Hudson Paving Company, a responsible and skilled company, was $30,762.30 lower than the bid of the Warren Brothers Company of Boston, the next lowest bidder. Instead of taking advantage of this low bid, with an opportunity of securing a pavement at a saving of approximately $31,000 below the price of the local contractor, the Commissioner of Public Works rejected all bids.

Recently the Park Department has advertised for bids for approximately 25,545 square yards of asphalt or Warrenite-bitulithic pavement on various parkways. Bids were opened on Thursday, May 15. Three bidders submitted bids as follows: Warren Brothers Company, $63,128.25; J. C. Coleman & Sons Company, $68,612.75; A. G. Tomasello & Son, $68,975.50.

An inspection of these bids shows that only one of the bidders has a plant for the preparation of bituminous pavements, viz., Warren Brothers Company. The work of furnishing and laying the pavement comprises more than 70 per cent of the entire work under the contract and, whichever of the bidders was the lowest, the actual laying of the pavement would doubtless be done by Warren Brothers Company as in the past. There was thus in fact only one independent bidder. A significant feature of this last bid of Warren Brothers Company as compared with its bid for Columbia road and Blue Hill avenue, previously noted, is that this company's aggregate bid for reshaping and laying pavement is $2 per square yard, whereas in its Blue Hill avenue and Columbia road bid the price was $2.37 per square yard. The greater part of this reduction in price of 37 cents per square yard, or approximately 15½ per cent, is undoubtedly due to the fear of competition, instilled by the bid of the Hudson Paving Company for the work on Columbia road and Blue Hill avenue. Thus fear of competition has in this single instance resulted in a saving to the city of $9,500.

On Monday, May 26, bids were opened for paving with sheet asphalt or Warrenite-bitulithic Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester, from Canterbury street to River street. This was approximately two-thirds of the same contract for which bids were received on April 22 and rejected, and where the Hudson Paving Company was the lowest bidder. Bids were received as follows:

	Warrenite-Bitulithic	Sheet Asphalt.
Warren Brothers Co.	$129,236 00
A. G. Tomasello & Son.	132,944 50	$132,944 50
S. J. Tomasello	135,470 00	136,296 00
John McCourt Co.	136,553 15	136,553 15

As with the bids of the Park Department, previously referred to, only one of the bidders has a plant for laying bituminous pavements, viz., Warren Brothers Company. In this contract the laying of the pavement, together with the necessary grading, constituted approximately 72 per cent of the entire contract. Whoever received the contract, Warren Brothers Company would do 72 per cent of the work as heretofore in the past two years. It therefore appears that there was only one independent bidder in the competition.

By applying the prices bid by the Hudson Paving Company in the competition of April 22 to the quantities of the latest bids, it is apparent that if this contract is awarded to Warren Brothers Company it will cost the city approximately $14,000 more than if the same area had been awarded to the Hudson Paving Company under the previous competition. A most serious incident in this whole matter is the eliminating of a responsible outside bidder.

The policy followed by the Commissioner of Public Works and the Park Commissioners during the past two years has completely eliminated competition for bituminous pavements. The prices paid have been exorbitant, as shown by the figures of actual cost in the Finance Commission's report, dated March 14, 1924. The city has in some cases secured a markedly inferior pavement. The confidence of contractors in the good faith of the city has been destroyed, so that real competition has practically disappeared and cost to the city has increased.

The remedy for the conditions herein disclosed has already been many times pointed out by this Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

J. C. Coleman & Sons Company have been granted an extension of time until October 1 for the completion of contract for Columbus Park improvements.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

A. D. Daddario has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for the building of sewerage works in School street, Brighton, between Waverly street and Fletcher street, from May 20, 1924, to May 26, 1924 (6 days).

WORK FOR NAVY YARD.

the repairs on the "Utah" and "Florida," as proposed would insure permanent work for employees of the Navy Yard for at least eighteen months. The passage of the Naval Appropriation Bill with these items included is important to this section of Massachusetts in view of present unsettled industrial conditions.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF HOOD MENACE TO CITIZENSHIP.

ACCEPTS DEFY OF KU KLUX KLAN AS ISSUED, SINGLING HIM OUT FOR ATTACK DURING MEETING AT ROCHESTER, N. H.—MAYOR TELLS KNIGHTS OF THE COTTON CLOTH TRADITIONS OF MASSACHUSETTS HAVE NOTHING IN COMMON WITH THEIR ORDER.

A news dispatch from Rochester, N. H., the lair of the Ku Klux Klan, states that the Knights of the Night Shirt, in darkness assembled, had nominated Governor Smith of New York and Mayor Curley of Boston to the "Who's Through in America" Club.

Mayor Curley said after reading the dispatch:

"The action of the night-blooming gentry is a challenge that I accept for it puts the campaign for the governorship of Massachusetts upon an American basis and will be waged out in the open under the sun in the daylight by self-respecting Americans and not in the cellars of the city nor in the shadows and darkness of the woods and secret places by the enemies of America and Americanism.

"The united and harmonious Democratic Party of Massachusetts will renominate the Hon. David I. Walsh for United States Senator and Hon. James M. Curley for Governor of the Commonwealth, without opposition, and the party will march to the polls and register a victory of 100,000 majority. While it was believed that the campaign in Massachusetts would be fought on the palpable inefficiency, unfitness, infidelity to principle and promise and maladministration of their political trust by the Republican Party and its nominees, the Ku Klux Klan and its aiders and abettors are drawing a herring across the trail of Republican crime and corruption and seeking to make race and religion the tests of a man's fitness for public office.

"I accept the challenge of these misguided, malignant, midnight enemies of the American Constitution, foes of the honor and good name of this Commonwealth, with full confidence in the character, courage, manhood and Americanism of the people of Massachusetts, who are still faithful to the memory of the Fathers who founded the United States and the principles they proclaimed and practiced and proud that they have sustained and defended their country in every crisis from all enemies at home and abroad.

"I have full faith in the honor and patriotism of my fellow citizens of Massachusetts where I was born and bred; they will accept or reject candidates on their merits, on their loyalty to the Constitution and laws of the state, on their record and performance; and will never permit this Cradle of American Liberty to be transformed into a cesspool of bigotry and lawlessness, where the American flag is used to shelter the nocturnal enemies of law, order, justice and Americanism.

"The people of Massachusetts have never been faithless to the constitutional rights of all men regardless of race, creed and color; their fathers fought and died on a hundred fields to preserve government of the people, by the people, for the people; they will never permit the government of this Commonwealth of Warren, Otis, Adams, Hancock, Webster, Garrison and Hoar to be captured, ruled and degraded by any sect or society, clique or Klan; and they can be depended upon to beat from the Stars and Stripes the nocturnal vermin hiding in its folds.

"Whenever the Klan pokes its head out of its holes and cellars it will find me and the party I represent waiting out in the middle of the road in the broad sunlight of the American day, ready to drive it back into the obscurity and ignorance from which it emerged, and they will find back of me the manhood and Americanism of Massachusetts, which has never compromised with treason or accepted fellowship with ignorance and bigotry.

"The government that saw its birth in this old Commonwealth, which was baptized in the blood of the men of all races and creeds who died in the Revolution from Lexington to Yorktown, which was cradled by Adams and Hancock, led to battle and guided to victory and stability by Washington, counseled and directed by Jefferson, defended by Jackson, saved and preserved by Lincoln and enthroned in the hearts of a free people by American valor and loyalty, will not surrender its principles and honor to an aggregation of midnight marauders, intolerant bigots and ignorant dupes seeking the destruction of the fairest and freest land on top of God's footstool.

"That is my answer to the Ku Klux Klan and those who live and serve Massachusetts in honor and loyalty will stand with me. That they may not be permitted to poison and rot this splendid land, degrade our flag and destroy our government, we must destroy them root and branch."

LAND-TAKING IN CHARLESTOWN.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the widening and construction of the southeasterly corner of Tremont and Edgeworth streets, Charlestown district, as a highway.

The highway named Tremont street is hereby widened at the southeasterly corner of Edgeworth street, and ordered constructed.

The part of said highway as widened herein, and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Northeast by the southwesterly line of Tremont street as it existed previous to this widening, thirty-four and 88-100 feet; south by the southerly line of Tremont street as hereby widened, thirty-seven and 47-100 feet; and northwest by the southeasterly line of Edgeworth street as it existed previous to this widening, twelve and 50-100 feet; containing two hundred and eighteen square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Voted, That this Board determines that the undermentioned estate sustains damages by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the widening and construction of the southeasterly corner of Tremont and Edgeworth streets, Charlestown district, as a highway, under the order of the board of even date herewith, in the amount hereinafter set against it, and awards said amount therefor.

MAYOR CURLEY ASKS FOR ACTION ON "DIFFERENTIALS" BEFORE CONGRESS ADJOURNS.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram to Senators Lodge and Walsh June 5:

Dispatches advise that an adjournment of Congress is imminent and the time for securing the rectification of certain grievances of the Port of Boston is very short.

The matter of "Differential Rates" to and from Boston and the Middle West has been before the Interstate Commerce Commissioner for nearly two years and since the question is purely industrial and commercial and only political in a remote sense, I wire to ask that some action be taken to give the commerce and industry of New England relief from this transportation incubus before adjournment. I am addressing a similar letter to the senior (junior) senator.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR IS THANKED BY NEW YORK SCHOOL VISITORS.

Mayor Curley received the following letter signed by pupils of the Speyer Experimental Junior High School, of 94 Lawrence street, New York City, who visited Boston on Saturday, May 31.

Please accept our heartiest thanks for your most cordial welcome on our visit to your office on Saturday last. Your treat was the outstanding feature of a wonderful trip. Your city ought to indeed feel proud of you and we hope that the future will bring continued happiness and success.

If you should visit our city please call at our school and meet the boys whom you so royally welcomed.

Very truly yours,

Miss Lillian Forsyth Coffey.

CALLS FOR BROADMINDED LEADERSHIP IN WORLD RELATIONSHIP IF FOREIGN TRADE IS TO GROW.

MAYOR CURLEY WELCOMES DELEGATES TO CONVENTION WITH RINGING ADDRESS AT COPLEY-PLAZA HOTEL. POLICIES OF DOMESTIC WASTE AND FOLLY MUST BE CHANGED, HE TELLS AUDIENCE.

Mayor Curley speaking before the Foreign Trade Convention at the Copley Plaza Hotel June 4 said in part:

The fundamental bases of all commerce, whether it be domestic or foreign, are peace, courtesy and understanding between peoples and governments; without these everything else is valueless. Peace is the normal condition in which industry and commerce alone can function and thrive; war, dissension and distrust are the abnormal conditions that disrupt the relations of men and nations.

The questions of materials, commodities, distribution, ships, transportation, markets, credits and all the other incidents of commerce, cannot be considered and answered unless they are posited upon the basic conditions of commerce — the peace between nations that keeps free and unhampered the highways of trade, the civilized courtesy that respects and compels respect, and the understanding that teaches a wise knowledge of the characteristics and psychology of other peoples, their peculiarities, tastes, religious faiths, and inspires an intelligent tolerance and acceptance of national and human differences.

Commerce elementally is an exchange of materials and commodities; but if the machinery of commerce is to work smoothly and successfully it must be lubricated by a recognition of the human factor in all its various phases and manifestations and an application of the fact that under the skin all men are pretty much alike, their kinship is fundamental, and the things that differentiate men and nations — language, habits, customs, religion, color, laws, are merely incidental and the accident of climate, country, environment and so forth.

Intelligent commerce sees in this infinite variety of human nature and conditions not a barrier to trade and exchange, but an aid to them, more a reason for it. Nature abhors uniformity; no two things in creation are alike; and the greatest incentive to industry, the mother of commerce, which comes next in importance to human necessity, is human diversity.

Here in America, rich in resources of all kinds, varied in climate and production, extensive in its territorial reach and with the soil and product of arctic, temperate and tropic regions, numerous in population of many racial origins, with advantages few others possess, endowed with great mineral wealth and surpassing fertility of soil, a highly developed industrial system and a wonderful capacity for commerce, if we measure capacity by resources, skill and production, and yet with the potential commercial mastery of the world in our grasp we seem to lack the ability to seize and utilize the opportunities that are ours and we grow feeble and futile when we go forth upon the seas.

What is the matter with America? What evil circumstance is paralyzing our energies and nullifying the generosity of God and nature? These questions can be answered only when we are ready to hear the truth and face its nakedness, when the men of substance, sense and real Americanism are willing to aid in the rehabilitation of our country and the restoration of its ideals of leadership and purpose; when Americans are prepared to supplant provincial vanity and intolerance by national sanity, pride and self-respect, and return to the principles and practices of the fathers and founders of this great Republic. Every evil this country is suffering from today is the outgrowth of petty leadership, provincial policies and politics, and the constant tendency in national legislation to reject the lessons of experience, to hearken to the voices of unwisdom and do the things that misrepresent the Republic and its people in the eyes of the world.

We produce in seven months enough to serve our own markets and unless we can secure foreign markets to consume the products of the other five months we must have closed mills, shops, factories and mines, idle men without work or wages and the most dangerous element that can face a self-governing democracy — unemployment, suffering, discontent and all the dangers of social unrest.

Can we secure foreign markets in which to sell our surpluses? Can we convince the world to trade with us in preference to others because of our friendliness, generosity and humanity? It is doubtful. We have a tariff system that bars our foreign customer from our ports and discourages commerce with us. We have an immigration law that says to the world "Keep out. You are our inferiors. You are dangerous and criminal and not fit to mingle with the supermen we raise in America and call native sons, Ku-Klux Klan and 100 per cent Americans"; and we in every way seek to discourage commerce, trade, and international intercourse. We set up all the features of war, non-intercourse, isolation, repulsion, scorn and insult — and without firing a gun we get all the evils of war and destruction.

South of us extends a continent peopled by one of the oldest, historic races of Europe, professing the oldest form of Christianity and inhabiting a continent that might be a great American market. What do we do? We pronounce in press and pulpit our scorn of these people, insult their race and spit on their religion, and we wonder why they do not love us and trade with us.

If we permit the least desirable elements in America to dictate policies and legislation and if we are too cowardly to reproach and stop those who misrepresent America and Americans to the outer world, we must pay the penalty in industrial depression and commercial atrophy; and see the strange spectacle of a rich, skilful, intelligent people idle and hungry in the midst of plenty. Isn't it time for our people to dethrone the worthless and mischievous from leadership and replace them by the sanity and intelligence of America. If we insist on finding our leadership in the canebrakes and backwoods we must pay the price in national decay.

We produce of the materials and commodities of the world: 54 per cent iron, 65 per cent steel, 50 per cent copper, 65 per cent oil, 70 per cent cotton, 52 per cent lumber, 43 per cent coal, 41 per cent typewriters, 92 per cent automobiles, 90 per cent corn, and use 65 per cent of the telephones of the world, and in like proportions all along the line of raw and industrial production. What are we going to do with them? We cannot eat them. If we export them nobody wants them. Even inferior foreigners will not trade with those who insult them and refuse their fellowship and we cannot use our guns to compel traders to buy our goods. We must change our policies and leaders, and exchange our policy of domestic waste and folly for one of common sense and international courtesy; we must have foreign markets to consume our surplus or shrivel up into comparative helplessness.

BUYS GARAGE PUMP EQUIPMENT.

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved the request of the Public Works Department to buy pump equipment for the Albany Street Garage. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 20, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the attached proposal of the Wayne Tank and Pump Company for furnishing and installing, for the sum of $1,975, the following equipment at the garage being erected by this department on Albany street: Two gasoline air-operated pumps; one gasoline storage tank; three underground lubricating oil storage tanks; three lubricating oil pumps; one air compressor.

Section 14 of the specifications in the contract of John B. Dolan for erecting the garage gives the city the right to select this equipment. The department has availed itself of this right and has made the necessary deduction from the Dolan contract, which deduction has previously received the approval of your Honor.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

* Awarded contract.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 16 the Mayor approved a contract with Hardy and Streeter for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke was as follows:

Boston, May 15, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Hardy and Streeter, 12 Pearl street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 19 the Mayor approved a contract with Charles Latorella for artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, May 19, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Charles Latorella, 15 Orange street, Roslindale, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 16 the Mayor approved the payment of $10,200 for extra work under contract of J. Edward Ogden Company.

A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 14, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

In connection with the work to be done under the contract with the J. Edward Odgen Company for two sets of Ferry bridge gallows frame and accompanying machinery for the South Ferry, your Honor approved an extra work order upon January 12, 1924, in the sum of $11,000, to cover the furnishing and installing of mooring hooks and necessary appurtenances and doing the necessary strengthening to hold the mooring hooks in place on the ferryboats "Ralph J. Palumbo," "Lieutenant Flaherty" and "John H. Sullivan."

Since the approval of the above work order a letter submitting a lump sum figure for doing this work has been received which is somewhat lower than the estimate as shown on the work order, and for that reason your approval is now respectfully requested to the cancellation of this work order and to the acceptance of the lump sum figure of $10,200 as submitted by the contractor in the attached letter.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 28 the Mayor approved a contract with the American Car Sprinkler Company for one street car sprinkler. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 26, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

I respectfully request permission to award a contract to the American Car Sprinkler Company, Worcester, Mass., without inviting proposals therefor by public advertisement, for one street car sprinkler to operate eight hours a day, flushing from June 1 to October 31, 1924, both dates inclusive, at a price of $32 per day. The estimated total cost of this work during the season is $4,388.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Library Bureau for special library equipment. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn of the Schoolhouse Commission was as follows:

BOSTON, May 16, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners has received requests, approved by the Superintendent of Public Schools, for special library equipment, etc., for the Teachers College of the City of Boston and the Girls' Latin School, the money for which equipment has been appropriated under Items 3, 4 and 5 of the segregated item list passed by the School Committee on March 24, 1924. The Board respectfully requests the approval of your Honor, under the provisions of chapter 486, section 30, of the Acts of 1909, to awarding a contract, without advertising, to the Library Bureau, 89 Federal street, for furnishing and installing this equipment, in the sum of three thousand one hundred and eighty-three and 45-100 (3,183.45) dollars.

As this is the only concern in this section of the country specializing in this kind of work, and it has satisfactorily performed work of a similar character for the Department in the past, the Board believes that no advantage would result to the city from advertising, and has therefore voted, subject to the approval of your Honor, to award the contract as stated.

Trusting this will be satisfactory, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS P. GLYNN,
Chairman.

Upon May 24 the Mayor approved the purchase of a seven-passenger Bay State sedan car, at a cost of $1,805.17 delivered, in addition to allowance for old Buick sedan car.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick Company for one touring car. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 16, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Boston Buick Company for furnishing to the Assessing Department: One 1924 six-cylinder Buick touring car, delivered in Boston, with full factory equipment, at $1,425; less allowance on 1922 Buick touring car with winter top at $400. Total amount of contract, $1,025. As this is the car that best meets the requirements of the Assessing Department, I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

F. P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

John McDonald Construction Company have been ordered to do the following additional work on contract for pergola at rose garden, Franklin Park: Furnish labor and materials for laying fifty-five (55) lineal feet of eight-inch (8-inch) drain pipe and for building one (1) catch-basin.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

An addition, amounting to $375, on contract with M. F. Gaddis for bitulithic pavement and sewerage works in Shawmut avenue, city proper and Roxbury, on account of removing trees. Original contract, $205,317.45; total addition, $375; contract as standing, $205,692.45.

An addition, amounting to $150, on contract with M. F. Gaddis for laying bitulithic pavement in Washington street, West Roxbury, on account of grading approach at Liszt street. Original contract, $49,880.75; total additions, $240; contract as standing, $50,120.75.

An addition, amounting to $9,000, on contract with B. E. Grant Company for laying bitulithic wood block and recut granite block pavement in West street, Bedford street, Shawmut avenue and Charles street, city proper, on account of regulating edgestone; recutting and laying granite blocks with grout joints on a 6-inch Portland cement concrete base and constructing artificial stone sidewalks in Leverett street, from Charles street across Brighton street. Prices to be paid the same as those bid for similar work in the contract. Original contract, $52,388.36; total additions, $11,430; contract as standing, $63,818.36.

A deduction, amounting to $3,000, on contract with J. B. Dolan for erecting and completing garage at yard of the Public Works Department, Albany street, on account of omitting the furnishing of finished hardware, according to Section 12 of the specifications; omitting the furnishing of electrical lighting fixtures according to Section 31, Article 1, of the specifications; and omitting the furnishing of gasoline storage equipment according to Section 14 of the specifications. Original contract, $152,490; total additions, $22,780.48; total deductions, $3,000; contract as standing, $172,270.48.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

J. Slotnik Company has been allowed to make an addition to his contract for erecting and completing the new Dorchester High School for boys, in the sum of $3,308.80, for necessary acoustical treatment of the assembly hall.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Michael Serretto has been allowed to amend his contract for the erecting and completing, including plumbing, heating, ventilation and electric work, of Police Station 2 Building at the corner of Milk and Sears streets, by striking out under the sub-head "Certificates for Payments" on page 14 of said contract, at the beginning of the second paragraph thereof, the following: "Each certificate shall be for not exceeding 85 per cent of the proportional value of the work since the date to which the preceding certificate was computed, and in the case of the first certificate since the work was begun," and substituting in place thereof the following: "Each certificate shall be for not exceeding 100 per cent of the proportional value of the work since the date to which the preceding certificate was computed, and in the case of the first certificate, since the work was begun." And by striking out on page 25 thereof, where the marginal notation reads "Completion" the following: "The work is to be commenced on or about February 1, 1923, and is to be completed on or before June 1, 1924," and substituting therefor the following: "The work is to be commenced on or about February 1, 1923 and is to be completed on or before October 1, 1924."

MAYOR CURLEY CONTRIBUTES HUGH SUM TO COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN (IN MARKS.)

Mayor Curley sent the following letter June 5:

HON. JOHN BARRETT, University Club,
Chicago, Ill.:

MY DEAR MR. BARRETT,—I am in receipt, through the kindness of a friend, of a copy of your survey as to the condition of the Republican Party nationally and the necessity for funds to stay the progress of the communistic movement which threatens the success of the Republican Party in the Northwest. I have a fear that the unrest and the discontent at the failure of the Republican Party to justify its continued control nationally is manifest even in our more settled and conservative New England section.

I never before fully realized how necessary money was in the campaign; frankly, I am somewhat fearful as to whether the National Republican treasurer will receive all that may be collected because of the number of collectors at present engaged in sending out requests for funds.

I am this day in receipt of a vast sum of money, the total being nearly ten billion dollars. However, it is in marks. Nevertheless, with a realization of the pressing financial needs of the party which you hope to save and impelled by generous impulses, I am taking the liberty of forwarding you two billion marks. I have a profound realization that even if this were by some magic process transformed into American dollars it would still be insufficient with which to purchase the necessary votes to prevent the Hon. A. Smith from being elected President of the United States.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR AIDS GERMAN FAMILY ASKING FOR HELP.

Mayor Curley received the following letter June 5:

HONORED SIR,—You will pardon me, if, under dire distress I ask you for a small contribution.

I, the undersigned, a German, and only provider for my mother and four brothers and sisters, unemployed for one year, turn to humane people in America for aid. As a token of my gratitude I send you a quantity of the now worthless money of our country, in the hope that you may grant my prayer.

I remain gratefully and respectfully,

OTTO KOHN,
121 Allee Street, Hamborn, Germany.

In reply Mayor Curley sent $5 and said in part "that the money arrived at a most opportune time as the Republican Party were in dire need of money and he had forwarded them two billions marks and begged to enclose $5 in payment of the amusement derived from the receipt of the marks."

MAY LABOR REPORT.

The records of business at the Massachusetts Public Employment Office, 23 Pearl street, for the month of May shows no improvement. There are decreases of from 6 per cent to 10 per cent when compared with last month's figures and decreases of from 23 per cent to 34 per cent when compared with the figures of May, 1923.

During the month the number of people called for by employers was 1,426, a decrease of 107, or 7 per cent from April and a decrease of 598, or 30 per cent when compared with May of last year. The number of positions reported filled for May was 1,258, a decrease of 87 or 6 per cent from last month and a decrease of 383 or 23 per cent when compared with last May.

The attendance of applicants for employment during the month was 21,155, a decrease of 453 or 2 per cent from April, but an increase of 1,011 or 5 per cent over May a year ago. The attendance of service men looking for work was 1,806 (1,224 soldiers, 582 sailors). Of these 182 (139 soldiers, 43 sailors) were referred to employers and 174 (131 soldiers, 43 sailors) secured positions.

There was a noticeable falling off in the demand for boys for errands, office and factory work with a good supply of applicants calling daily. Business in the women's departments continued quiet.

The number of people called for by employers was 1,426 as compared with 2,024 in 1923; 1,828 in 1922; 1,599 in 1921; 3,215 in 1920, and 2,543 in 1919.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,258 as compared with 1,641 in 1923; 1,362 in 1922; 1,169 in 1921; 1,825 in 1920, and 1,611 in 1919.

PUBLIC LIBRARY EXHIBITIONS.

VICTOR HERBERT.

A memorial exhibition of the works of the late Victor Herbert has been arranged and is on view in the Boston Public Library. It consists mainly of the vocal scores of his musical comedies, but some of his more serious compositions are included. Additional interest is supplied by portraits, clippings, pictures of stage settings, etc. The force of inheritance is suggested by the portrait of his grandfather, Samuel Lover, an important literary figure of his time. The exhibition is open to the public.

EUROPEAN TRAVEL POSTERS.

For three weeks, beginning June 3, the Boston Public Library will display in its lecture hall, under the auspices of the Transatlantic Steamship Conference, a large collection of European travel posters.

The walls of the great room are brilliant with the vivid colors of more than one hundred fifty of these posters, which picture in fascinating fashion the beauties of Europe's resorts. From Sweden to Sicily the gamut runs—Great Britain, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Italy are there. On one side soars an Alpine peak; here the noble aisles of York Minster open a suggestive vista, there the Riviera glows, or feudal chateau of "La Belle France" lifts its turrets to the sunset sky. The old world's history, its legends, poetry, romance and art call to the traveler through these richly-hued posters, many of which are themselves works of art. The slogan, "See America First," must needs be loudly sounded to overcome their appeal.

MAYOR SENDS CONDOLENCES TO CAPTAIN BOWLEY'S WIDOW.

Mayor Curley addressed a letter of sympathy and condolence to Mrs. Clinton E. Bowley, widow of the late Police Captain Bowley, of Roslindale. Mayor Curley and the late Captain Bowley were very good friends.

MRS. CLINTON E. BOWLEY, 123 Selwyn Street, Roslindale, Mass.:

DEAR MRS. BOWLEY,—The death of your devoted husband brings to me a sense of deep personal loss in the passing of a dear friend of the highest honor, character and integrity, and who served the City of Boston, which he so much loved, in a manner that won the respect of our citizens and especially those who came within the embrace of his friendship.

Captain Bowley gave loyal and splendid service in the Police Department, and I know of no finer tribute paid your husband than the fact that he materially shortened his life by his devotion to duty.

Everyone at City Hall loved the man for his splendid qualities of heart and mind, and may I assure you my prayers and sympathy are with you during these sad hours of your life's greatest sorrow.

Faithfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN HYDE PARK.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, the lands, rights and easements hereinafter described to be constructed are as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings, or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston, formerly Hyde Park, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Ralston road, bounded:

Southwest by another part of Ralston road, eight feet; northwest by the same, two hundred and ten feet; northeast by the same, eight feet; and southeast by the same, two hundred and ten feet: containing sixteen hundred and eighty square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 200 linear feet of 12-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Ralston road, from Rutledge road to Ruskin road.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lot of abutting land at the northerly corner of Ralston road and Rutledge road, and the lots of abutting land on the southeasterly side of Ralston road, between points opposite Rutledge road and Ruskin road, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein, to the amounts hereinafter respectively set against them; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 559, Sewerage Works, Ralston Road, Hyde Park, April 25, 1924, Wm. J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

ASKS CONGRESSMAN TAGUE TO AID NAVY YARD WORKERS.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram to Hon. Peter F. Tague, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.:

A delegation of workmen from the Boston Navy Yard, Charlestown, called and stated that it is imperative that naval bill providing for building cruisers and reconditioning old battleships shall pass Congress before adjournment, or eight hundred men will be discharged from service at Boston Navy Yard prior to September 15, 1924.

If modernizing of U. S. S. "Florida" or any other battleship can be undertaken at Charlestown, the greater part if not all of the force now employed there can be retained. The building of one of the cruisers provided for in the naval bill at Charlestown would stabilize work for several years. Boston Navy Yard during the past year has attained the highest position from the standpoint of cost of work and the overhead rate attained by any navy yard in the United States, and Boston is entitled to first consideration in maintaining its present working force.

PORT OF BOSTON.

Best of natural harbors, sheltered, spacious for anchorage, main ship channel 35 feet in depth at low tide, near open sea, total area of harbor about 47 square miles; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water. A 45-foot channel from entrance of harbor to President Roads and 40-foot from there to wharves will be dredged in the near future.

The three principal freight terminals are those of the Boston and Maine R. R. in Charlestown, Cambridge and E. Somerville; the Boston and Albany R. R. in East Boston; the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. in South Boston, interchange of freight between terminals effected by Union Freight R. R. with tracks on waterfront streets. New Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston, 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fireproof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space, total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. Commonwealth Pier No. 6, South Boston (Fish Pier), buildings on same erected by lessee, Boston Fish Market Corporation, cost to State, $1,487,361. New Commonwealth Pier, No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and about $345,000 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing over $3,000,000 and taken by U. S. Government at total cost of same to State. Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres. Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 143, of which 8 are owned by the City. There are 24 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston and 19 coastwise lines (5 to Pacific ports). In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt., E. Boston, will be filled in and used for extensive commercial development under State control. At the close of 1922 about 120 acres had been filled.

In April, 1918, the Government established its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, quickly followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet or about 38 acres. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total Federal expenditure for improvement of Boston Harbor from 1790 to June 30, 1918, $12,525,981; total expended and provided for by State, $18,364,947 since 1859.

BOSTON'S MUNICIPAL YEAR.

The municipal year begins on the first Monday in February, which fell on February 5, in 1923.

TELEPHONE STATISTICS.

Boston served by one company, viz., New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, organized in 1883 and formed by the consolidation of numerous companies, with plant now valued at $119,121,301, extending through the states of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont; total miles of wire, 2,129,347 or 1,400,882 miles in underground cable, 393,757 in aerial cable, 305,727 of aerial wire, 24,744 of phantom circuit and 4,237 in submarine cable; centrals or exchanges, 477; total stations, 866,271, of which 2,794 were private line stations and 1,979 service stations; total employees, 18,731.

In the Central District of Boston there were on January 1, 1922, 97,259 stations (i. e., 2,047 more than in 1921), as follows: Back Bay Exchange, 25,040; Beach, 19,060; Congress, 15,434; Haymarket, 12,724; Main, 18,589; Richmond, 6,412; Suburban exchanges in Boston: Brighton, 7,530; Charlestown, 3,460; Columbia (Roxbury) 2,380; Dorchester, 15,215; East Boston, 4,794; Hyde Park, 2,520; Jamaica Plain, 6,160; Parkway (West Roxbury) 5,149; Roxbury, 15,298; South Boston, 5,583; total stations, 68,089; City total, 165,348.

In the Metropolitan Division, including Boston, there were 213,576 main stations; 66,498 private branch exchanges; 26,670 extension and 6,224 public stations, making total of 312,968. State regulation of telephone business is in charge of Department of Public Utilities.

Of all telephones in the world, 64 per cent are in the United States; 9.5 per cent in Germany; 5.2 per cent in Great Britain; 3.3 in Canada; 2.2 in France. Number of telephones (estimated) per 100 population:—Los Angeles, 21.3; Chicago, 20.5; Boston, 20.0; Cincinnati, 17.1; Cleveland, 16.0; New York, 15.6; Pittsburgh, 15.2; St. Louis, 14.8; Copenhagen, 13.9; Philadelphia, 13.6; Detroit, 13.6; Baltimore, 11.6; Berlin, 10.5; Montreal, 9.2; London, 4.3; Paris, 3.2; Petrograd, 3.0; Rome, 2.1; Tokio, 2.0.

Patent for invention of telephone obtained on March 17, 1876, by the late Professor Alexander Graham Bell, who first demonstrated its success in Boston on the 10th of same month. The Bell System (i. e., American Telephone & Telegraph Company), originating in Boston, had 8,333,979 telephone stations, January 1, 1921, and there were 4,267,956 connected stations, all constituting 90 per cent of total in United States, and 25,377,404 miles of wire (60.5 per cent underground) with about 33,162,000 messages daily (average).

Total number of telephones in use in United States in January, 1921, 13,411,380 or one to every eight persons (approximately).

REDIVISION OF BOSTON INTO WARDS.

Chapter 630, Acts of 1914, required the redivision of Boston, by the City Council, into not less than 24 nor more than 36 wards, so arranged as to contain as nearly as could be ascertained an equal number of voters in each ward. On December 28, 1914, the City Council enacted as an Ordinance, by vote of 6 to 3, the plan submitted by its Committee on Redivision of Wards. This plan describes the new boundaries of the 26 wards. (See Municipal Register for 1921, pages 196-207.) The changes effected by the redivision of wards were mainly these, viz., Wards 1 and 2, East Boston, are divided by Prescott and Princeton streets instead of as before; Charlestown has two wards (3 and 4) instead of three; Ward 5 covers the old Wards 6, 7 and 8; Ward 6 in place of old Ward 9; Ward 7 in place of old 10; Ward 8 in place of old 11; Wards 9 and 10 cover the old South Boston Wards 13, 14 and 15 mostly; Ward 11 takes in the northern half of old Ward 16 and western end of old Ward 15; Ward 12 is similar to old Ward 17 and Ward 13 to old 18; Ward 14 includes old Ward 19 and adjacent part of old Ward 22 (as far as Perkins and Centre streets); Wards 15 and 16 cover old Ward 21 and the northern part of 22 (as far as Boylston street); Wards 17, 18 and 19 cover that part of old Ward 16 south of Dudley street and all of old Ward 20; Wards 20 and 21 cover the eastern half and western half respectively of old Ward 24 (as far as Blue Hill avenue and Walk Hill street); Ward 22 includes the southern half of old 22 below Boylston street and the northern end of old Ward 23 to Whipple avenue, Walk Hill, South and Allendale streets; Ward 23 is unchanged except as to its northern boundary just stated, and Ward 24 takes in Mount Hope section, east of railroad, Mattapan and Hyde Park. Wards 25 and 26 cover the southern half and northern half respectively of old Ward 25, Brighton.

LATEST PUBLIC DEBT STATISTICS.

Gross funded debt, February 1, 1923, $126,576,800.99; sinking funds, $41,898,891.76; other redemption means, $1,147,322.06; net debt, $83,530,587.17 or $3,617,576.61 more than in 1922; of said total $49,471,830.76 (59.23 per cent) was City Debt, $32,424,969.18 (38.82 per cent) Rapid Transit debt (representing 4½ per cent investment); $1,351,787.23 (1.62 per cent) County debt and $282,000 (0.33 per cent) Water debt.

Net debt per capita $99.69 (approx.); net debt exclusive of Rapid Transit investment debt, $51,105,618 or $60.90 per capita. Loans authorized but not issued (within debt limit), $1,254,000; same outside of debt limit, $496,000.

In the fiscal year 1922-23, the net City debt was increased by $2,478,014 and the net Rapid Transit debt by $1,235,900; the net County debt was reduced by $80,337 and the net Water debt by $16,000.

Total debt contracted, $8,122,500; total debt paid, $6,246,650; total increase of gross debt, $1,875,850; of net debt, $3,617,577.

Total debt incurred in the ten years 1913 to 1922 inclusive, $54,508,850, of which $17,982,000 or 32.99 per cent was Rapid Transit debt, while $22,601,100, or 41.46 per cent was for streets, sewers and bridges.

Total amount of debt incurred by the City in the 100 years since its incorporation (in 1822), $272,257,638, of which more than half (i. e., 52.74 per cent) was added in the last 25 years, 18.79 per cent in last 10 years. From 1822 to 1870 the amount borrowed was $31,916,010 or a yearly average of $664,917. From 1870 to 1920 the total borrowed was $230,253,427 or a yearly average of $4,605,068. The maximum for a 10-year period was from 1896 to 1905, when the yearly average was $7,188,493. Yearly average for last 10 years, $5,450,885; for last 5 years, $4,373,600.

No other large city has been subjected to such a drastic reduction of debt-incurring power. [Statistics Dept's revision.]

BOSTON'S LARGEST BATH HOUSE, LOCATED ON COLUMBUS PARK, STRANDWAY, SOUTH BOSTON, NOW READY FOR ITS FIRST SEASON.

STREET PAVED AND LAWN GRASSED TO PLEASE AESTHETIC SENSE AND 4,000 BATHERS MAY FIND COMFORT AND ACCOMMODATION AT ONCE WHEN HOT SPELLS COME. PARK DEPARTMENT ANTICIPATES BUSY SEASON.

BOSTON'S LARGEST AND NEWEST HOME FOR BATHERS, AT COLUMBUS PARK, READY FOR SEASON'S RUSH. WILL ACCOMMODATE 4,000 BATHERS AT ONE TIME. [Photo by Harry Kelly.]

Boston's most distinctive public bath house is now ready for its first season. It is also the largest in the country. It is located at Columbus Park, South Boston, and is a feature of the extensive Strandway improvements which were started in Mayor Curley's first administration. The entire front plot has been made into a beautiful lawn and the wide street way paved.

The bath house, which is thoroughly fireproof, was constructed by the Alco Contracting Company, at a cost of $215,000. The architect was Harrison H. Atwood.

The South Boston building is in three sections, including an administration building in the center, a section for men and boys at the left and a section for women and girls at the right. The length is 370 feet and width 90 feet. The new building will accommodate 4,000 bathers at once, and it has such facilities that the largest crowds can be handled without confusion.

Columbus Park was reclaimed from the Old Harbor. It is a tract of forty-seven acres.

There is a centralization of the plans, so that all bathers must go through the middle building for their bathing material, for their keys and for the giving up of keys. The L street structure was often in confusion during days of rush. The Columbus Park building contains two large receiving and distributing counters, at each of which lines may form and be quickly cared for.

The administration believes that Columbus Park will prove to be Boston's most popular center for sports, and to that end the bath house has been provided with facilities for the care of football, baseball and other athletic teams.

MAYOR RENEWS FIGHT WITH EDISON COMPANY FOR LOWER RATES — TENTATIVE AGREEMENT BROKEN.

The tentative settlement made by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company with the City of Boston in the matter of reduced rates for household electric lighting has been abandoned, according to Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan in a letter to Chairman Conrad W.

Crooker of the Liberal Party of Massachusetts.

This information was forwarded to Chairman Crooker upon his request for data regarding the status of the Edison cases now pending before the Public Utilities Commission.

The compromise, as announced by Mayor Curley on May 14, provided for an immediate reduction in the price of household lighting of from 9½ cents to 9 cents per kilowatt hour. Further reductions to 8 cents an hour December 1, 1926, were guaranteed by the agreement. The city itself was to be benefited by the waiving of claims aggregating $600,000.

The reduced rates only affected the retail lighting of households in the Class A service. Because of the Edison Company's refusal to grant reductions for all customers in the Class A service, which also includes small office lighting, Mayor Curley has refused to accept the tentative agreement and has instructed Arthur D. Hill, counsel for the city, to continue the fight against the increased rates.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,

May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR LIKELY TO WIN FOR BOSTON IN "DIFFERENTIALS" CASE.

Mayor Curley in answer to his telegram, received, on June 7, a reply from Senator Lodge indicating the possibility of an amendment to the Long and Short Haul Bill which is now before Congress, whereby the differential in export freight rates may be removed and the handicap which has arrested the growth, prosperity and commerce of the Port of Boston done away with.

The differential whereby a preference in freight rates has been given to the ports of Philadelphia and Baltimore has resulted in the decay of industry in Massachusetts and a decrease in population. Boston at one time had a maritime pre-eminence based upon her natural resources for the work, her geographical position, her superior contiguity to European and South American markets, her deep waterways, her harbor within easy reach of the open sea, her safe and ample anchorage, her generous docks and pier accommodations equipped with modern facilities for handling cargoes with expedition and economy and served by three railroad systems, her unsurpassed docking facilities, her supply of labor schooled in the service of the shipping business and her merchants eager for business.

All these advantages remain with Boston and if the differentials are removed Boston will once again attain her proper place in the ports of America. It is encouraging to note that Congress has begun to appreciate the handicap that Boston has labored under for the past twenty years by reason of the differentials.

The natural and geographical advantages of Boston, enhanced by the knowledge, enterprise and shrewdness of her merchants and manufacturers, gave the city, and as to the extermination of gypsy moths and the charges made for such service. Application may be made to this department for information regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mt. Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

Boston her proud eminence in the commerce she enjoyed until the port differentials, sanctioned by the Interstate Commerce Commission, gradually destroyed her prestige and minimized her maritime importance. Boston is today a startling example of an unjust and unfair rate structure.

Its commerce is a shadow of its former greatness, its shipping driven to other ports and its New England hinterland in industrial decay and the hope of remedial adjustment gone unless Congress at once makes proper provision for the elimination of the unjust and unfair port differentials in freight rates against Boston and in favor of Philadelphia, Baltimore and other South Atlantic ports.

The City of Boston has striven a long time to have these differentials removed. The Mayor, through the Law Department, has joined with the Maritime Association of the Chamber of Commerce in the present petition pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission to have these differentials removed. The City of Boston in February, 1923, strenuously urged to the commission that steps be taken at once to have this obstacle to Boston's progress and industry removed and since that time has continued in this demand. The Mayor is hopeful that the suggested amendment if adopted by Congress will solve the problem and Boston again be given her commercial pre-eminence that she so justly is entitled to.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Commissioner of Public Works for authority to lay granite blocks with mastic joints in Exchange street, from 173 feet north of State street to Dock square, with division forces without advertisement, the estimated cost being $2,000.

MAYOR MAKES EARNEST EFFORT TO PREVENT TIE-UP OF CITY'S CONSTRUCTION WORK.

ISSUES STATEMENT AFTER CONFERENCE WITH LABOR LEADERS OVER QUESTION OF UNION EMPLOYEES ON JOBS OF WARREN BROTHERS. MAYOR POINTS TO FACT THAT IT IS OUT OF HIS JURISDICTION, BEING A STATE-WIDE MOVE.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement June 11, relative to the Building Trades strike on city work:

Contractors performing work for the City of Boston, under the statutes of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, are required to pay the prevailing rate of wages to teamsters and mechanics but there is no provision relative to common laborers. The contention has not at this time been made by the officials of organized labor that this provision of the statutes was being violated.

The only question at issue has been the refusal of the Mayor and the department heads to act as organizers for labor unions and to compel contractors doing work for the city to insist that their mechanics and teamsters join labor unions or be blacklisted as city contractors. The city has, whenever requested, done everything that it had the legal right to do, even going so far as to request many times that mechanics and teamsters not affiliated with labor unions be required to join labor unions. Under the law neither the Mayor nor any official of the city has the right to remove or order the contractor to remove any employee because of his refusal to join a labor union.

A conference was held at the office of the Mayor upon Monday, June 9, 1924, at which were present, Mr. E. A. Johnson, Secretary of the Building Trades Branch, A. F. of L.; Mr. Walsh, President of the Building Trades Branch, A. F. of L.; Councilor Moriarty, Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department and Schoolhouse Commissioner Thomas P. Glynn. At that meeting I requested that representatives of the Building Trades Council submit in writing a statement of any grievance and that I would make every endeavor to adjust the same.

Mr. Johnson, speaking for the Building Trades Council, stated that the only grievance existing was with the Warren Brothers Company which were employing engineers that were not members of the labor unions but whom he later stated had formerly been members of labor unions and further stated that if the engineers employed by the Warren Brothers Company were unionized everything would be satisfactory.

I informed Mr. Johnson that I would be very pleased to request such action by the Warren Brothers Company but that there was no way in which I could compel them to unionize their men. I called the vice president of the Warren Brothers Company upon the telephone and he agreed to confer with the delegation representing organized labor with a view to adjusting the differences existing. The result of the conference is set forth in the communication received this day from the Warren Brothers Company and which reads as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We were waited upon yesterday by a committee from the United Building Trades Council, who were desirous of having us employ exclusively union engineers and cement finishers on all of our work within the jurisdiction of their council, which we understand to be within a radius of fifty miles of the City of Boston, and including New Bedford, Fall River and other points where we have already entered into contracts for the season's work. This committee states that if we failed to agree with their suggestions that a strike would be called upon contracts between the City of Boston and other parties in which we are not in any way concerned.

It is entirely impractical for us to accede to the request of the committee, except in the City of Boston. We advised them that we were willing in the City of Boston to pay the prevailing union rates for engineers and cement finishers and to request such men at present employed by us not already members of the union to make application for admission to the union, and if we should need more of such men in the City of Boston we would employ union men provided they were competent and acceptable. We are not willing to discharge competent men already in our employ.

The committee did not feel that they could co-operate with us in the City of Boston unless we would recognize the union throughout their jurisdiction, and the matter was left for further consideration by both sides. We have heard no further from the committee.

Very truly yours,

WARREN BROTHERS COMPANY,
RALPH L. WARREN,
Vice President.

The letter of the Warren Brothers Company indicates clearly that the existing differences between the Building Trades Council and contractors doing business with the City of Boston is a political move since the present development is outside my jurisdiction in that the labor representatives did not feel that they could co-operate with Warren Brothers Company in the City of Boston, unless the Warren Brothers Company would recognize the union throughout their jurisdiction, which included a radius of about fifty miles from the City of Boston. It is therefore not a legal issue controlled by the Mayor but an issue that is to a large extent state-wide and the failure of the representatives of the Building Trades Council to submit any communication in writing to any city official dealing with this issue strengthens this belief.

The friendly relations and the hearty co-operation through which the two-year agreement granting an increased wage and improved conditions for all persons in the building trades industry resulted, coupled with the helpful attitude which the present administration has ever extended towards organized labor at least justified, providing an honest difference existed, further conference before adopting an arbitrary course.

SEEK ADVICE OF BOSTON CITIZENS ON QUESTION OF CITY'S 300TH ANNIVERSARY.

MAYOR CURLEY'S COMMITTEE MAKES GENERAL APPEAL FOR EXPRESSION OF OPINION AS TO OBSERVANCE BEING PLANNED FOR 1930.

In order to secure a general advance expression of opinion relative to the observance in 1930 of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston, copies of a letter and a questionnaire have been mailed this week to several hundred men and women of the city by the "Preliminary Survey Committee on Plans for the Boston Tercentenary" recently appointed by the Mayor.

The purpose of the questionnaires is to enable all concerned to have "an opportunity to submit ideas or suggestions that will help in formulating such plans as may be adopted later." The committee proposes that no official plan shall be formulated until a considerable number of expressions of opinion have been received from the citizens and organized groups. A careful study of the replies to its questionnaire will guide the committee in preparing its report and the recommendations as to what form the official observance of the tercentenary should ultimately assume.

Any citizen of the city who has not received a letter and who may wish to express an opinion on the subject is welcome to receive a copy of the questionnaire by mailing a request with addressed envelope to the committee at Room 52, City Hall, Boston. Applications and inquiries should be made by mail only as the committee does not consider that it is yet necessary to maintain open headquarters, as may be done later if there appears to be sufficient reason.

The letter being mailed today explains that the committee has been appointed by Mayor Curley upon recommendations by the Citizens' Public Celebrations Association to prepare a preliminary report concerning plans for the observance in 1930 of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston and then continues:

"The observance of this tercentenary is a matter in which every citizen and every organization in the City of Boston should take an active interest. In order that the present committee may have the advice and assistance of as representative a group as possible, a questionnaire is being sent out with the request that the inquiries noted thereon be answered as fully as possible and that additional suggestions be submitted.

"The main object of this questionnaire is to indicate certain definite channels along which information may be received," says the letter, but adds that this need not restrict the scope of replies.

The questionnaire contains the following questions:

1. Should Boston celebrate in 1930 the 300th anniversary of its settlement?
2. If there is to be a celebration, at what time of the year and for how long a period should it be held?
3. Suggest a slogan!
4. Can you suggest a central feature for such a celebration?
5. What features should be emphasized in the celebration of such an anniversary in Boston such as: Home life, music, art, education, historical, religious, recreation, athletics, pageantry, cultural commercial or business, civic welfare?

6. Should such a celebration be financed from public or private funds, by city, state, subscription, or jointly?

7. Should the celebration plans result in some permanent achievement or will a temporary celebration be sufficient?

8. Is the committee at liberty to make use of your name in connection with your reply to this questionnaire?

9. Should the celebration, if held, be confined to Boston, to the metropolitan district, to Massachusetts, to New England, or should it be made a national event?

Additional comments are invited, as well as the names of individuals or organizations to whom the questionnaire might be sent with useful results.

The official City of Boston committee in charge of the matter consists of Frank Chouteau Brown, chairman; John B. Archibald, Edward L. Curran, Elisabeth M. Herlihy, Frank Leveroni, James H. Phelan, Walter K. Watkins, Eva Whiting White, Secretary E. B. Mero. Advisors, J. Philip O'Connell, City Director of Public Celebrations, and Wilfred F. Kelley, historical advisor. The committee also has the active assistance of Frank H. Chase, reference librarian of the Boston Public Library, and of William Carroll Hill who was secretary of the Pilgrim Tercentenary Commission.

CHAUNCEY STREET WIDENING.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the widening and construction of Chauncey street, Boston proper, as a highway, on the southeasterly side, between Summer street and Bedford street, described as follows:

The highway named Chauncey street is hereby widened on the southeasterly side, between Summer street and Bedford street, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Charles Chauncey Company, bounded:

Northwest by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, one hundred eighteen and 21-100 feet; northeast by common passageway, nine and 47-100 feet; southeast by other land of said company, one hundred seventeen and 97-100 feet; and southwest by another part of Chauncey street (highway), eight and 80-100 feet; containing eleven hundred and twenty-four square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of a common passageway, bounded:

Northwest by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, five and 78-100 feet; northeast by land supposed to belong to Sarah C. Sears, trustee, et al., ten and 29-100 feet; southeast by another part of said common passageway, five and 70-100 feet; and southwest by land supposed to belong to Charles Chauncey Company, nine and 47-100 feet; containing fifty-six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Sarah C. Sears, trustee, one third and Sarah C. Sears two thirds, bounded:

Northwest by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, twenty-eight and 31-100 feet; northeast by another part of Chauncey street (highway), ten and 23-100 feet; southeast by other land of said Sears, twenty-eight and 31-100 feet; and southwest by common passageway, ten and 29-100 feet; containing two hundred and ninety square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Said highway as hereby widened is bounded:

Southwest by the northeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, eight and 80-100 feet; northwest by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, by three measurements, one hundred eighteen and 21-100 feet, five and 78-100 feet and twenty-eight and 31-100 feet; northeast by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as it existed previous to this widening, ten and 23-100 feet; and southeast by the southeasterly line of Chauncey street as hereby widened, one hundred fifty-one and 98-100 feet; containing one thousand four hundred and seventy square feet, more or less.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on the northwesterly side of Chauncey street, from Bedford street to Summer street, and the lots of abutting land on the southeasterly side of Chauncey street, from Bedford street to Summer street, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots within said limits to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Chauncey Street, Boston Proper, Assessment Plan, April 23, 1915, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

ESTABLISHING BUILDING LINES.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners that building lines be established on both sides of Beacon street, Boston proper, between Arundel and Miner streets on the east and the boundary line between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline on the west, as follows:

On the northwesterly side, between Arundel street and the boundary line between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline, substantially parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet from the northwesterly exterior side line of said Beacon street, and substantially parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet from the curved lines of that part of Beacon street, on the said northwesterly side thereof, known as Audubon circle.

On the southeasterly side, between Miner street and Audubon road, substantially parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet from the southeasterly exterior side line of said Beacon street, and substantially parallel with and distant twenty (20) feet from the curved lines of that part of Beacon street, on the said southeasterly side thereof, known as Audubon circle, to a point fifty-five (55) feet distant, from the aforesaid southeasterly line of said street projected, thence running westerly and parallel with the aforesaid southeasterly line of said street projected to the aforesaid curved line of Audubon circle.

On the southeasterly side, between Audubon road and the boundary line between the City of Boston and the town of Brookline, substantially parallel with and distant twelve (12) feet from the southeasterly exterior side line of said Beacon street.

Said building lines are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Beacon Street, Boston proper, December 1, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer Street Laying-out Department," and on file in the office of the Street Laying-out Department.

And this Board further orders that existing steps, windows, porticos and the other usual projections appurtenant to the front wall of existing buildings, and parts of existing buildings, so far as they lie between the building lines herein established and said Beacon street, may remain as they are at the time of the passage of this order, intending hereby to sanction all existing projections over said line including any necessary foundations and walls supporting said projections.

And this Board further orders, as to future projections, that steps, porticos, balconies, eaves and other usual projections, except bay windows, appurtenant to the front walls of buildings with the necessary foundations to support the same, may project over said lines, and that bay windows or swell fronts with the necessary foundations to support the same may project over the said building lines for a distance not exceeding three (3) feet.

LAND-TAKING FOR DORCHESTER COURTHOUSE.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement as follows:

The taking of the estate at the north-easterly corner of Washington street and Melville avenue, numbered 512 Washington street, with the building thereon, containing approximately 20,208 square feet; the estate numbered 2 Melville avenue, with the building thereon, containing approximately 8,750 square feet and the estate numbered 508 and 510 Washington street, with the building thereon, containing approximately 17,053 square feet, Dorchester district, for courthouse purposes.

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners has passed the aforesaid order of notice and has caused a copy of said order to be published May 10 and 17, 1924, in the City Record, and has given the public hearing, notice of which was given in said order; and

Whereas, The Public Buildings Department of said City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor, has selected, designated and requested the Board of Street Commissioners of said city to take for said city for courthouse purposes the lands hereinafter described, in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester; it is

Voted, That the Board of Street Commissioners of said City of Boston, acting under the provisions of chapter 486 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1909, and chapter 79 of the General Laws, and all other authority thereto enabling, hereby takes in fee for said city, for courthouse purposes, the following described parcels of land, including the trees, buildings and other structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Delia V. Curran, bounded:

West by Washington street, one hundred fifty-five and 12-100 feet; north by land hereinafter described as taken from Edward M. Curran, heirs, by two measurements, eighty-six and 26-100 feet and forty-five feet; northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Delia V. Curran, one hundred and twenty-five feet; and southeast by Melville avenue, one hundred seventy-one feet; containing twenty thousand one hundred and ninety square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Delia V. Curran, bounded:

Southeast by Melville avenue, seventy feet; southwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from Delia V. Curran, one hundred twenty-five feet; northwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Edward M. Curran, heirs, seventy feet; and northeast by land supposed to belong to Delia V. Curran, one hundred twenty-five feet; containing eighty-seven hundred and fifty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Edward M. Curran heirs, bounded:

West by Washington street, ninety-three and 38-100 feet; north by land supposed to belong to Ida R. Woodward, one hundred seventy-three and 81-100 feet; northeast by land supposed to belong to Delia V. Curran, eighty-seven and 85-100 feet; and south by land hereinbefore described as taken from Delia V. Curran, by two measurements, forty-five feet and eighty-six and 26-100 feet, containing eighteen thousand one hundred and forty-five square feet, more or less.

Said parcels are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Washington Street, Melville Avenue, Dorchester, May 2, 1924, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department.

Voted, That this Board determines that the undermentioned estates sustain damages by the taking made for courthouse purposes on Washington street and Melville avenue, Dorchester district, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, in the amounts hereinafter respectively set against them, and awards said amounts therefor.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

McCulloch Manufacturing Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for furnishing labor to assemble 10-inch and 12-inch gate valves. Items ordered: Assemble one 12-inch gate valve. Estimated cost of extra work, $32.

Anthony Baruffaldi Company has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for furnishing and laying 30-inch steel pipe and laying 30 and 24 inch cast-iron pipe in Massachusetts avenue. Items ordered: Raise and relay 86 feet of existing 24-inch water pipe outside limits of contract to a proper grade to connect with new work. Estimated cost of extra work, $950.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

John B. Dolan has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for the erection and completion of the new fire station for Engine Company No. 40 until July 15, 1924. The contract is dated October 6, 1923, and was to have been completed February 16, 1924.

This is the second extension under this contract and is necessary because of the delay in getting started and the inclement weather that has been encountered during the progress of the work.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

J. C. Coleman & Sons Company have been granted an extension of time until July 1, 1924, for the completion of contract for grading, drainage and concrete bleachers at World War Memorial Park, East Boston.

J. C. Coleman & Sons Company have been granted an extension of time until August 1, 1924, for the completion of contract for filling and grading at Orient Heights Playground, East Boston.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Joseph A. Singarella has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for repairs to city stable, Highland street, Roxbury, dated March 31, 1924, from May 30 to July 1, 1924, thirty-two days. This extension of time is occasioned by delay in receiving the five large ventilators which are being made to special order of 18-gauge Toncan metal instead of the usual 20-gauge galvanized steel.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the Hugh Nawn Construction Company for installing underground construction in connection with the new Fire Alarm Signal Station in the Fenway. Bids for the work, opened May 27, were as follows:

Engineering Service and Construction Company, $2.88 per conduit foot; $225 per manhole; total, $3,002.04. Hugh Nawn Construction Company, $2.80 per conduit foot; $250 per manhole; total, $3,012.40. S. J. Tomasello, $3.40 per conduit foot; $175 per manhole; total, $3,272.20. John T. Shea, Jr., $3.25 per conduit foot; $250 per manhole, total, $3,376. Charles M. Callahan, $3.50 per conduit foot; $210 per manhole; total, $3,458.

A communication from Theodore A. Glynn, Fire Commissioner was as follows:

"These figures are based on an estimate of 808 feet 8-duct conduits and three manholes. There is a very slight difference in the bid of the Engineering Service and Construction Company and the bid of the Hugh Nawn Construction Company. As the Hugh Nawn Construction Company is a reliable and well established concern, I recommend that the contract be awarded to that company for doing this work. But little is known of the lowest bidder and I would recommend that the lowest bid be rejected.

"With your Honor's approval, therefore, I will award the contract for doing this underground construction to the Hugh Nawn Construction Company.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner."

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with Isaac Simon for cleaning and pressing uniforms. A communication from Theodore A. Glynn of the Fire Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 3, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On May 17 and 24 the Fire Department advertised in the City Record for proposals for cleaning and pressing approximately 1,400 uniform overcoats and reefers and for repairing approximately 1,200 uniform overcoats and reefers. On y one bid was received, namely, that of Isaac Simon, 16 Blue Hill avenue, who submitted a figure of 95 cents per garment for cleaning and pressing and $1.75 per garment for making the necessary repairs. The total contract is estimated to be $3,430.

Mr. Simon has done this work for the department in the past and it has been entirely satisfactory.

With your Honor's approval, therefore, I will award the contract for cleaning, pressing and repairing the uniform overcoats and reefers of the Boston Fire Department to Isaac Simon.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Approximately Six Hundred Fifty Tons Ice.—Boston Ice Company, $7.50 per ton; four fountains crossed off; Winter Hill Ice Company, $7.50 per ton; bid on two districts only.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon June 7 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph Beal & Co. for furnishing and installing metal working machinery in the Winship School. Bids for the work, opened June 3, were as follows:

Joseph Beal & Co., $4,425.75; Lynd-Farquhar Company, $4,652; Henry Pren-tiss & Co., Inc., $6,179.50.*

* Substitute bid.

Upon June 7 the Mayor approved a contract with R. J. Connolly for building a manual training stock room at the Henry L. Pierce School. Bids for the work, opened June 3, were as follows:

R. J. Connolly, $1,241; M. S. Kelliher Company, $1,351; Walter Curley & Son, $1,483; John P. Curley, $1,981; Arch-Deacon & Sullivan, $1,990.

* No bid in Auditor's office.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the New England Coal and Coke Company for furnishing coke to Long and Deer Islands. Bids for the supply, opened June 2, were as follows:

One Hundred Seventy-five Tons, Deer Island.—New England Coal and Coke Company, $8.85* per ton, alongside.

Two Hundred Tons, Long Island.—New England Coal and Coke Company, $9.50* per ton, in the bin.

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with bidders as indicated below, for furnishing road rollers to the Public Works Department, Paving Service. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

The rollers the Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., are going to furnish the city comply with the specifications contained in the proposals, which call for four-cylinder motor. While the rollers that the Buffalo Springfield Roller Company propose to furnish are quoted at a lower price, they are only a two-cylinder motor and therefore do not comply with the specifications. The rollers the Austin Western Road Machinery Company propose to furnish, while a four-cylinder motor, and may comply with the specifications, have not been used by any municipality or contractor in New England, and therefore it was impossible for either the Commissioner of Public Works or myself to see this roller in operation. The difference in price between the Austin Western Road Machinery Company roller and the Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., roller is less than $40, and as the Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., roller has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Public Works, I feel that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding these contracts as recommended.

Two Twelve-ton Gasoline Road Rollers with Scarifier.—Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., $6,120 each*; Austin Western Road Machinery Company, $5,960 each; Buffalo Springfeld Roller Company, fifteen-ton, $5,740—twelve-ton, $5,480.

One Fifteen-ton Road Roller with Scarifier.—Buffalo Springfield Roller Company, $6,850*.

Discount Ten Days.—Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., 2 per cent.

Best Delivery Date.—Acme Road Machinery Company, Inc., fifteen days; Austin Western Road Machinery Company, about sixty days; Buffalo Springfield Roller Company, see specifications, within ten days.

* Awarded contract.

Upon June 7 the Mayor approved a contract with H. Decker Lee Company for furnishing steel shelving to the Boston City Hospital. Bids for the work, opened June 3, were as follows:

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon June 5 the Mayor approved a contract with Isadore Zieman for construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 3, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Isadore Zieman, 25 Abbot street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; second, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon June 10 the Mayor approved a contract with A. Violante for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 9, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to A. Violante, 575 River street, Mattapan, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon June 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Pulz, Inc., for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 11, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Pulz, Inc., 173 Milk street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon June 11 the Mayor approved a contract with John T. Shea, Jr., for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 9, 1924.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John T. Shea, Jr., 142 Maple street, West Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with John Guarino & Co. for laying and relaying water pipes in Old Colony parkway, between Tolman and Conley streets, Dorchester.

A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Informal bids for doing this work were requested from practically all contractors doing work for the Water Division and were opened June 2, 1924.

The work to be done under this contract, if publicly advertised, would probably not be started for four weeks, and for that reason John Guarino & Co's bid has been accepted in order that operations can start immediately.

The following bids were received June 2: John Guarino & Co., $1,219; A. Grande, $1,222; Vozzella & Caponi, $1,334; J. T. Shea, Jr., $1,377.50; DeCristofaro & Brothers Company, $1,452.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 31 the Mayor approved a contract with the Petroleum Heat and Power Company for oil-burning apparatus. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn of the Schoolhouse Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 24, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—There was but one bid submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on May 20, in response to advertisement of the Board inserted in the City Record of May 10, 1924, for installing and completing oil-burning apparatus in various schools. This was from the Petroleum Heat and Power Company, in the sum of $14,500. The Petroleum Heat and Power Company has done considerable work for the department in the past, and its work has been satisfactory. The Board has therefore voted, subject to the approval of your Honor, to award the contract to Petroleum Heat and Power Company, 100 Boylston street, in the amount named.

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS P. GLYNN,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved a contract with the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc., for fire apparatus for the Fire Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 23, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc., for furnishing the following to the Fire Department:

Four type 75-750 gallons pump and hose cars at $12,247 each; one type 14-6 combination motor service ladder truck at $9,581; one type 17-6 four-wheel aerial truck tractor at $8,700. Total amount of contract, $67,269.

Pumpers to be equipped with Sewell wheels and cellular tires and tractor to be equipped the same as the pumpers. Service ladder truck will have chemical tank, artillery wheels with cord pneumatic tires. Tractor will be attached to Ladder Truck No. 4 by the above concern without charge.

As the City of Boston has standardized, after a thorough investigation, on this type of fire apparatus, and as the American LaFrance Fire Engine Company, Inc., are the manufacturers, no advantage would be obtained by publicly advertising for same.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick Company for furnishing cars to the Fire Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 4, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to the Boston Buick Company for furnishing the following to the Fire Department:

Three 1924 Buick roadsters with full factory equipment, delivered in Boston, at $1,400 each, $4,200; one 1924 Buick touring car with full factory equipment, delivered in Boston, at $1,425; total, $5,625; less allowance on three 1918 Buick roadsters at $75 each, $225; less allowance on one 1916 Buick roadster at $40; total, $265. Net amount of contract, $5,360.

As this type of car best suits the requirements of the Fire Department, I trust that the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,
FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 26 the Mayor approved a contract with the Troy Laundry Machine Company for furnishing machinery to the Hospital Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 23, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Troy Laundry Machinery Company, located at 514 Atlantic avenue, Boston, for furnishing to the Hospital Department:

One Troy overdriven extractor at $1,895; one new Henrici J-2 washing machine at $2,650. Net amount of contract, $4,545.

The Hospital Department has standardized on this type of laundry machinery, and the machines that are to be replaced have been in the service of the Hospital Department between twenty-five and thirty years, and have always given complete satisfaction.

As the Troy Laundry Machinery Company are the manufacturers and agents for this equipment, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for same.

The Hospital Department are in urgent need of this machinery, and I trust that the permission asked for will be granted.

Yours respectfully,
FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 26 the Mayor approved a contract with the Springfield Motor Sweeper Company for furnishing the Public Works Department with two motor-driven sweepers. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 23, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Springfield Motor Sweeper Company, Springfield, Ohio, for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Street Cleaning and Oiling Service, two (2) Springfield motor-driven street sweepers, equipped with four aluminum brooms and one aluminum rear broom, at a price of $7,500 each, f. o. b. Boston.

This department purchased similar machines for the Public Works Department in 1923, and they have been in continuous service since their purchase, and have always given complete satisfaction. It is desired to standardize purchases as far as possible, and I think the best interests of the city will be served by approving this award. As this concern is the manufacturer of this sweeping machine, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for same.

Trusting that the permission will be granted, I am,

Respectfully yours,
FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 31 the Mayor approved a contract with John F. Byers Machine Company for one bear cat crane for the Public Works Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 29, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the John F. Byers Machine Company of Ravenna, Ohio, for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Water Service, one Model 1 Byers bear cat crane with 25-foot steel latticed boom, for a price of $4,965, less 2 per cent for payment in ten days, delivered to the Water Department yard, 710 Albany street. The Water Department have selected this make crane as being best suited for the work required of it, and I feel that the best interests of the city will be served by granting the permission.

As this concern is the manufacturer of this crane, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for same.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon June 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing machines to the Sewer Service. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 5, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing the following machines to the Sewer Service, Public Works Department:

No. 680 Albany Street: One Reo Model F, equipped with Metro cab and 1½ yards dump body with wood hydraulic hoist with sideboards, painted and lettered, delivered, $2,250; one Reo Model F, equipped with Metro cab and covered express body, painted and lettered, delivered, $2,105.

Child Street Yard: Two Reo Model F chassis, equipped with Metro cabs, 1½ yard dump body with wood hydraulic sideboards, painted and lettered, delivered, at $2,250 each, $4,500.

Total amount of contract, $8,855.

As the above types are the ones best suited for the needs of the Sewer Service, I trust the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon June 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing the Printing Department one Reo speed wagon. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, June 5, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to the Linscott Motor Company, without publicly advertising, for furnishing to the Printing Department:

One Reo speed wagon, parcel delivery, painted gray and lettered in gold leaf, shaded, "City of Boston, Printing Department," with sliding doors back of driver's seat at $1,695; allowance on old Ford truck, $150; total amount of contract, $1,545.

As this is the type of delivery wagon which the Printing Department feels will best meet the needs of the department, I trust that the permission required will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR SAVES EMPLOYMENT FOR NAVY YARD WORKERS.

Mayor Curley was especially gratified to receive a telegram from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge on June 7 favorably advising in the matter of the Mayor's earnest request, that the Naval Bill providing for building cruisers and reconditioning old battleships should pass, and the discharge of 800 men from the service of the Boston Navy Yard prior to September 15 might be prevented.

The Mayor particularly called to the attention of Senator Lodge the fact that the modernizing of the United States Steamer "Florida" or any other battleship at Charlestown, would mean practically that the entire force of men now employed at the Boston Navy Yard would be retained.

Senator Lodge in the telegram to the Mayor declared "the bill for the navy, to which you refer, has passed with my strong support, as I happen to be a member of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs. You may rest assured I shall do everything possible to have a portion of this work sent to the Boston Navy Yard."

MAYOR CURLEY INVITES STUDENT DEMOCRATS TO HIS INAUGURATION.

Mayor Curley declared Saturday night that he will be inaugurated Governor of Massachusetts next January on Boston Common. He invited the members of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Democratic Club to attend.

The Mayor made the announcement in reply to three long cheers given him as he was leaving the mahogany room at the American House where the club met to devise plans for taking an active part in the coming contest.

Never were Democratic chances of winning a contest better than they are this year, according to the Mayor. He said that President Coolidge's veto of the postal bill killed his chance of election. He said that the men who were deprived of their expected increase in wages will call upon every householder in the land between now and election and will boost the Democratic nominees and denounce the Republican candidates.

The Mayor outlined his plan of campaign in winning a contest as: First, get the votes; second, announce your issues; third, attack.

He said that never in the history of America has there been an occupant of the White House who was so vulnerable as President Coolidge, with the possible exception of Andrew Johnson.

The Mayor urged the members to get behind the campaign to register 225,000 additional Democrats before the election. He said that the active participation of college men in politics is a great service to the American people.

ASSESSMENT SUSPENDED.

The Mayor has approved the following order received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

May 26, 1924.

Whereas, By an order dated May 25, 1922, the Board of Street Commissioners in accordance with the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, ordered suspension of the collection of the following described assessment for sewerage works Annapolis street, Dorchester, levied under date of March 27, 1919.

Lot.	Amount.
1. Mary L. Myrick.....	$330 00

Whereas, The Board of Street Commissioners deem it just and proper that the collection of said assessment should be further postponed;

Ordered, That the collection of the aforesaid assessment be, and the same hereby is suspended for one year from date hereof.

FIRE DEPARTMENT REPORT.

The following report was received from the Fire Commissioner relative to the activities of the Fire Department for the month ending May 31:

BOSTON, June 6, 1924.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I submit below a report of the activities of the Boston Fire Department for the month ending May 31, 1924.

During the month the pumps at High Pressure Station No. 1 were started in response to nine alarms and were in operation for one hour and ten minutes. The pumps at High Pressure Station No. 2 were started in response to fourteen alarms and were in operation for two hours and forty-six minutes. New fire alarm boxes were established at the following locations:

Box 246, Wil liams and Plainfield streets.
Box 248, St. Rose and Jamaica streets.
Box 2484, Jamaica street, opposite No. 45.

Box 63, Maverick and London streets.
Box 3576, Colorado and Messenger streets.

Box 3577, Kennebec and Canaan streets.

Box 7143, Claflin and C streets.

Thirty-seven members on probation successfully passed the drill school course and a new class was inaugurated. We have had as members during the past month a representative of the Taunton Fire Department and the assistant chief of the Daytona, Fla., Fire Department.

An intensive inspection by the entire inspection force of the department, covering cellars and yards of stores and tenement houses containing three or more suites, was conducted with a view to remove all of the rubbish and fire hazard.

In the Bureau of Supplies and Repairs 316 calls were responded to by the emergency crew, and 326 repairs were made on apparatus by shop mechanics. Three hundred and twenty-three jobs were completed by inside mechanics, other than motor apparatus repairers, during the month.

In the Wire Division 1,985 permits were issued for interior electrical construction and $7,621.89 was collected for same. Eighty-two grants for underground conduits were passed and plans approved for same.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

MAYOR CURLEY PAYS TRIBUTE TO BOSTON UNIVERSITY.

Mayor Curley, picturing the qualities of independent leadership possessed by New Englanders, boasted to the representatives of the American Bond and Mortgage Company at the Copley-Plaza that this section of the country has given the United States "one of our most prominent citizens as President," adding that few typify the Puritan so well as Calvin Coolidge.

"I might amplify that if I were of another political party," said the Mayor, "but being of a different party I can not honestly go further."

Mr. Curley, claiming the educational supremacy of New England, declared that Boston's greatest boast, rather than the fame of Harvard and Technology so near her, is Boston University with its record total of 11,000 students, and the Suffolk Law School with its phenomenal membership.

Among other things Mr. Curley pointed out that the city expects to possess, without indebtedness, in ten years, about $70,000,000 worth of school property, and also that the Health Department expects to restrict the deaths from tuberculosis this year far below 600, in contrast with the total of 1,160 a decade ago.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 549.

Section 27 of Rule 27 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, relating to "patrolmen," is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following new section which shall be known as Section 27:

27. When an officer discovers that a murder, burglary, highway robbery, automobile theft or other serious offence has been committed and the person committing the offence has escaped, he shall immediately telephone from the nearest signal box full particulars of the crime, with a description if possible, of the perpetrator. The officer in charge of the station shall at once inform headquarters and shall then notify his men when they signal for orders and at roll calls, the details of the crime reported, with the description, if any, of the perpetrator of the same. Numbers of stolen automobiles given at this or any other time shall be written by patrolmen on the memorandum pads of their pocket manuals. Immediate apprehension of persons committing crime and speedy recovery of stolen automobiles are expected as a demonstration of efficiency on the part of the Police Department.

The officer in command at headquarters shall forthwith inform all divisions of the crimes reported to him with details of the crimes reported and descriptions, if any, of the perpetrators of the same, and the officers in charge of divisions shall communicate such information received, to their men as they signal for orders and at roll calls.

Particular attention shall be given to watching streets and railroads leading from the city proper, and, if necessary, officers shall be specially detailed to cover any points which a criminal might be likely to pass in trying to escape.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Joseph Rago has been allowed to amend his contract for erecting and completing (all trades) addition to Thomas Gardner Elementary School, Broadway and Athol streets, Allston, by adding after the word "begun" in the fifth last line on page 12, Section 1, under the sub-head "Certificates for Payments," the following: "Provided, however, that the Schoolhouse Commission may at any time before the completion of this contract or any addition thereto, authorize the entire payment for the value of all work done, not already paid for, and may order the payment of the whole or any part of the 10 per cent unpaid for work already done, where a certificate has been given by the architect."

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows: Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

Chosen in 1905—John Quincy Adams, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier—total, 3.

Chosen, in 1910—Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, George Bancroft, John Lothrop Motley, Phillips Brooks—total, 5.

Chosen in 1915—Louis Agassiz, Francis Parkman, Rufus Choate, Charlotte Cushman—total, 4.

Chosen in 1920—William Thomas Green Morton, Alice Freeman Palmer. Five additional names every fifth year are to be selected and inscribed until the year 2,000, when the 150 tablets in the colonnade will be complete.

If those who were natives or residents elsewhere in the State are added to the list, the following 7 names increase the total to 34 for Massachusetts or more than half the whole number, viz.: William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan Edwards, Mark Hopkins, Elias Howe, Eli Whitney, Maria Mitchell, Mary Lyon.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, viz.: Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1900 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for a 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations.

LIQUOR LICENSES AND NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

The national prohibition amendment (i. e., the 18th) to the Constitution, having been ratified by 45 States and becoming effective on January 16, 1920, the legalized trade in intoxicating liquors ceased then. It was supposed to stop about 6 months sooner because of the Federal war regulation providing for prohibition on July 1, 1919, to be effective until the army could be demobilized. But as there was no Massachusetts law forbidding the issuing of licenses after July 1, the Boston Licensing Board issued 702 such for the remainder of the license year with the proviso that the license was no protection against violation of Federal law. After July 1, under Federal law, the only liquor which licensees claimed the right to sell was beer and ale containing not over 2.75 per cent of alcohol. Sales of these lighter beverages continued to October 28, 1919, when Congress enacted a law (Volstead Act) forbidding the sale of any liquor as a beverage containing more than 0.50 per cent alcohol. The validity of this act being widely questioned, the United States Supreme Court upheld it on Jan. 5, 1920, and again on June 7, 1920. The result of this decision was that former applicants for liquor licenses did not apply for them in 1920. The Supreme Court of Mass. later in the year decided that the liquor laws of the State remain in force where not inconsistent with the Volstead Act. The Boston Board therefore issued 146 licenses to druggists and 17 4th-class, permitting sales for non-beverage purposes only. In 1921 there were issued 192 licenses to druggists, 15 4th-class and one 5th-class. On May 17, 1922, Chap. 427, Acts of 1922 (consisting of 27 sections) was approved, providing for the carrying into effect in Mass. of the 18th Federal (i. e., prohibition) amendment. This law is subject to a referendum at State election on November 7, 1922.

By Chapter 392, Acts of 1922, the retailing of non-intoxicating beverages is subjected to license, with fee of not more than one dollar for each year ending April 30.

PUBLIC STREETS IN BOSTON.

Total length of the 2,447 paved (accepted) streets, February 1, 1922, 606.33 miles; total area, 11,459,009 square yards, or 8.47 per cent of the City's total land area. This is exclusive of the private streets (not accepted), numbering about 2,890. 366.10 miles, or 60.38 per cent, are paved with macadam (including 128.03 miles bituminous macadam); 105.66 miles with granite block; 45.50 miles with asphalt; 29.32 miles with gravel; 36.63 miles with asphalt concrete (17.55 m. being bitulithic and 13.71 m. Topeka); 11.69 miles with wood block; 5.42 miles with brick. Old macadam pavement is gradually being replaced with more satisfactory and durable kinds, such as bitulithic, concrete, granite block, etc., $5,138,678 having been expended during the past four years in reconstructing and improving 313 miles of streets and parts of streets. Granolithic sidewalks laid in 1921, 97,049 square yards or about 21 miles, averaging 8 feet wide, 50 per cent of cost assessed on estates benefited.

New highway construction completed in period 1918-1921 includes 13 streets in Boston Proper; 34 in Dorchester; 37 in West Roxbury; 14 in Roxbury; 24 in Brighton; 6 in East Boston; 3 in Hyde Park; 4 in South Boston, and 1 in Charlestown, roadway pavement bitulithic, or asphalt surface on concrete, and bituminous macadam. Gross debt outstanding February 1, 1922, for all street construction, including damages, $22,267,141 or $925,700 more than in 1921, this increase due to new loan for Stuart St. construction.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON."

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester.

North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 square miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per square mile; Southern Division, 214.8 square miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per square mile; in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per square mile. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 per cent of District's area and 45.09 per cent of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Corrected population for 1920 (Boston's total increased by 54,808) 1,713,744. Of the total population of the State "Greater Boston" has 44.48 per cent; of total valuation, 51.11 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.53 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1922, $2,919,179,075, which exceeds the 1921 valuation by $114,300,660, a gain of 4.07 per cent. Of said total 57.47 per cent was in Boston and 42.53 per cent outside.

The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington, and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 488, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners; Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz., the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 25 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chapter 350, the work of same being transferred to Department of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1922, $77,599,512; sinking funds, $31,419,635; net debt, $46,179,877 or $1,649,011 less than in 1921. This net debt is divided thus: Water supply, $24,514,519; sewers, $11,265,640; parks, boulevards, etc., $7,318,353; Charles River Basin, $3,081,365.

Of 1922 tax rates, the highest of the cities was Quincy's ($36.20) and the highest among the towns, that of Saugus ($38.00); the lowest among the cities was Boston's ($24.70) and among the towns, that of Weston ($18.90). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $32.48 or $1.00 more than in 1921 and $3.38 more than in 1920. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $27.72 or $1.16 more than in 1921, and $3.11 more than in 1920.

There were in the District in 1920, 4,471 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,421,528,434; capital invested, $846,928,136; value of stock and materials used, $814,021,722; total wages paid $266,902,177; average number of wage earners, 207,066. Rank, 1 to 12 in value of products; (1) Boston, $674,344,180; (2) Cambridge, $156,430,827; (3) Lynn, $143,039,476; (4) Somerville, $81,605,860; (5) Watertown, $56,663,659; (6) Everett, $53,106,185; (7) Quincy, $41,241,061; (8) Chelsea, $36,412,602; (9) Malden, $32,326,117; (10) Waltham, $23,895,120; (11) Weymouth, $21,822,189; (12) Newton, $16,295,778. Boston's total product value was 47.44 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

On February 1, 1923, total number of volumes 1,284,094, or 958,931 in Central Library and 325,163 in 17 branches and 14 reading-rooms, a net increase of 25,883 volumes since the previous year. Statistical Department, about 24,000 volumes; Patent Department, 16,293 volumes. Special Collections (rare) about 65,000 volumes. The Fine Arts Department has a collection of 66,671 photographs of works of art and 9,736 lantern slides. It circulates yearly over 22,000 volumes and 2,000 portfolios of pictures. Reading-rooms (i. e., minor branches), 14, besides those in the 18 libraries, and each of them is also a delivery station. Periodicals and newspapers in various reading-rooms, 3,059. Number of books circulated in 1922, 2,768,984, of which 44 per cent were for children. Number of borrowers' cards in use, 114,340.

Cost of maintenance for 1922, $723,197 or $11,695 less than in 1921. Expenditure for Central Library extension, $328,140; for new West Roxbury Branch building, $64,902, and site, $6,500. Valuation of library property, $7,000,000 approximately. Central Library building on Copley square costing $2,756,384, opened on March 11, 1895.

STATE OFFICIALS AND EMPLOYEES.

EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

NURSERY INSPECTOR, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, DIVISION OF PLANT
PEST CONTROL, JUNE 18, 1924.

The salary of this position is $5 per day. The duties of this position are to inspect growing nursery stock, and importations of stock from other states and abroad. The inspector should have training in economic entomology and should be able to identify and name the common insect pests; be able to recommend control measures; should be familiar with spraying and fumigation; identify the common trees and shrubs; identify the diseases that are likely to be found on fruit and shade trees and recommend measures for controlling them, and be able to identify and recommend control measures for garden as well as greenhouse pests.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions on the duties of the position, 3; personality and fitness as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in practical questions, and at least 65 per cent in training and experience, the oral interview and in general average, in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

POLICE SERVICE (MALE) CITIES AND TOWNS OUTSIDE OF BOSTON AND METROPOLITAN DISTRICT, JUNE 21,
1924. BOSTON AND METROPOLITAN
DISTRICT, JUNE 28, 1924.

Applicants for the police service of Boston and Metropolitan Park are required to be not less than twenty five nor over thirty five years of age at the time of filing their applications and must be not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height in bare feet, and weigh not less than 135 pounds without clothing.

Applicants for Metropolitan Park police service must be able to swim and will be given practical tests in swimming.

Applicants for service in the cities and towns outside of Boston are required to be not less than 5 feet 7 inches in height, not less than 135 pounds without clothing, and not less than twenty one nor over forty years of age at the time of filling applications, except in those cities which have provided for the retirement of police officers by pension under statute, in which cases applicants shall be not less than 21 nor over 35 years of age.

The subjects of examination with their weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 5; report, 1; practical questions 4; total, 10. Applicants must obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in practical questions in order to become eligible. Successful applicants will also be required to pass a physical examination and strength tests. Educational qualifications, 1; physical qualifications, 1; total, 2.

The practical questions will be based upon information contained in a manual, known as the "Blue Book." This manual may be obtained from the Secretary of State, Room 118, State House, at ten cents a copy. It is necessary that applicants obtain a copy of this manual and study it carefully.

A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application.

Persons who possess the requisite qualifications as to age, height, and weight may have their names placed on any three eligible lists in addition to the original list for which they apply. Preference in certification will be given to applicants who, at the time of certification, have been domiciled for six months in the city or town from which requisition is received.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED NEW CHARTER.

Coun. GILBODY in the chair.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Excellency the Governor be requested to veto any legislation passed by the Legislature which deprives the citizens of Boston of the rights of self-government and home rule.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I ask a suspension of the rule so that the order may go on its passage at this time. I have introduced the order at this time for the reason that I feel that his Excellency the Governor before he is a party man is first a Bostonian. I feel that the Legislature on Beacon Hill is passing the most pernicious legislation that has ever been foisted on the people of our city during the closing days of this legislative session. We pick up the papers every day and find that they are reaching more and more, deeper and deeper, into the affairs of our city, legislators who happen to come from rural communities, in small outlying sections of the state. For instance, I find that two of the illustrious senators who took issue with a few of my remarks a few weeks ago are, one, the chairman of the Committee on Cities, Senator Haigis, who comes from Greenfield, with a population of about 15,000, and Senator Moran, who comes from Mansfield, with a population of 5,000. I might refer to them, coming from Mansfield and Greenfield, as a couple of "field" mice. They don't know what it is all about, and yet they are attempting to legislate for a city of over 750,000 inhabitants. I get the term "hayshaker" from Haigis, from the "green fields." In fact, I would like to suggest to his Honor the Mayor that he set aside a part of Franklin Park where the sheep graze, putting a lot of arrows on the way out so that these men can find their way, where they can go out and munch their noonday meal on the benches, enjoying home conditions. So far as their attempting to legislate for Boston is concerned, it is high time that we retaliated. I feel that if we refused to pay any state assessments or pay any county appropriations for others than those who live in our city or in Suffolk County, we would soon get action and relief from these people in the Legislature who are attempting to legislate for us. We are intelligent enough, have an intelligence far beyond theirs, in my opinion, to legislate for our people. Now, not content with changing the charter, they do so without even giving the citizens of Boston the right to say whether or not we should retain our present system of government. They do not even allow the submission of a question on the ballot which will allow us to decide whether we shall retain the present system or shall have another; but, ignoring the present system entirely, they propose to simply allow us to decide whether we shall have a borough system or a system under which the Council shall be elected one from each ward to represent the citizens here. I say that they should at least have given the citizens of Boston the right to say whether or not the present form of government, the present method of electing councilors, should be continued. That, it seems to me, is only a fair proposition. Then they even reach in here and say at what hours we shall open our polls, that we shall open at six o'clock in the morning and close at four o'clock in the afternoon. What business is it of theirs what time we close the polls here in Boston? They have been trying on Beacon Hill for years to get the people out to vote, and now these progressive leaders, in spite of that attempt, are trying to foist this system on the people of our city. If they are going to limit the opening of the poles to ten hours, they might have the hours from ten in the forenoon until eight in the evening, so that those of us who have to work for a living might have an opportunity to vote after we got home from work. But they want to inconvenience democratic Boston, and I feel that they have gone altogether too far. The only solution of the problem, in my opinion, is to have his Honor the Mayor refuse to pay any assessments, refuse to pay any state tax, refuse to pay anything that they ask for, until some recognition is given to Boston, not paying a single nickel that we do not have to pay until such time as they legislate fairly on Beacon Hill for our city. I hope the order will pass.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, it is unfortunate that I have not got a clipping of the article I got this morning from a very eminent lady in the Commonwealth, a resident of Boston, Alice Stone Blackwell, who I think has presented to the Governor in her letter as strong an argument as we could make to have him veto the proposed charter act. She said, very properly, as every intelligent and fair-minded man and woman would say, that before they attempt to change the charter with reference to election of councilors, they should permit the City of Boston to draw the ward lines. I don't know as I can say much more concerning the matter. I think the proposed legislation is a very, very vicious piece of legislation. I think the state representatives of the Republican organization feel in their heart that it is pernicious and dangerous, but it has got beyond them. I am satisfied that Beacon Hill intends to harass and undermine the Democratic Party in Boston as far as it can do so, in every particular. I haven't anything to say further concerning that, except that they are handling something they know nothing about. They are looking at the matter from one point of view only, and that is to please an element in Boston which desires to send members to this body who will control the body. I will have served in this body for twelve years at the end of my term, and I want to say that I have been just as free as any man in public life could be. I have not been controlled or intimidated by any cliques or influences. I have voted on the matters which have come before us on their merits, from start to finish, on all measures. The fact even that Ward 8 has not given me many votes on election day has not influenced me to vote against proper improvements in that ward. I have not at any time been influenced against such improvements, when I thought they were desirable, by the fact that the voters of the ward have not been strongly for me, but have acted solely with regard to the merits of the propositions that have come before us. I have not permitted my feelings to run away with me, as has been the case with members of the Legislature on this particular matter. I am satisfied that before many years have passed, if this act goes into effect, the Republican Party in Boston and the few Democrats who have been working hand in hand with them will regret the passage of either of these proposed methods of electing councilors for the City of Boston. I have some harsh things in mind that I might say, but I realize it would be like throwing water on a duck's back. They have made up their minds on the hill, and they are going through with the plan, and we are simply wasting our time when we set up a protest. They have said that the people of Boston shall not have an opportunity by referendum to decide whether or not they wish a change from the present system. They are submitting two plans upon which the people can vote. If they accept the borough system the Republican Party will have control of the legislative branch of the City of Boston. But that plan will never be accepted. There will be a body of twenty-six councilors in this chamber, elected by the people, one from each individual ward, and there will be a Democratic majority. Under the borough system, of course, if that were accepted, there would be a Republican majority, but what we will see will be a body of twenty-six members, one from each ward, and it will be a Democratic body. Certainly the standard of the City Council will not be improved one iota. If the standard of the Council is not high, or is not as high as the press or some others would like to have it, the fault lies in just one place, and that is with the voters. The voters of Boston are entitled to just the kind of government they vote for,—good, bad or indifferent. If it is desirable to have big business men in the City Council, and they are not there, it is the fault of those men themselves and of the voters. If such men want the position, why don't they become candidates for office and come here, giving, if elected, their service as we are giving ours? Each member here sacrifices just as much as a business man would by sitting in this body. It is no sinecure; it is a hard position to fill. We are at everybody's beck and call, and refusing none. A man who comes to me or any other member for assistance does not have to secure the help of any outside politician in order to get our assistance. I know that is so with me, and I am sure it is the same with other members. As I have said, my terms of service in this body will total twelve years. I have seen one or two big business men here, and they have fallen down terribly. I saw one man, sat here with him for one term, James J. Storrow, a gentleman high in the financial world and a man of presumed unblemished character in the business and political world. He sat here for three years, gave his services, and rendered no different service, as far as I can see, from what other members rendered, and at the end of his three years' term he decided that he could not make further sacrifices and be a candidate again. So, as I say, if the caliber and standard of the men here is not what some of the highbrows and others would like, the fault is not with those here but with the electorate. They are the ones who should bear the blame if we are not doing the right thing—and I claim that we are. There is not a man in Boston, who is fair-minded, who can point to a more efficient legislative body than has sat in this chamber since Boston became a city than has sat here under the present charter, and I offer no apologies for myself or for my colleagues. In conclusion, I desire to refer respectfully to Senator Moran, from Attleboro, I believe—

Coun. DONOGHUE—From Mansfield.

Coun. WATSON—From Mansfield—who says he would rather be a hay shaker than a dough chaser. My final word regarding him is that perhaps he and others can be classed in a dual capacity, both as hay shakers and dough chasers.

Coun. PURCELL—Mr. President, I am very, very heartily in accord with what our President and Coun. Watson have said in this matter regarding the proposed change of the City Council. But I cannot for the life of me see where we are going to get any redress from the Governor's office, through the Mayor of the City of Boston. We all know—it is a matter of public record—that the man behind this bill is a man who has the key to the Mayor's office at any time he wants to go in there, and that gentleman, Mr. Innes, will tell the Governor to sign that bill, and he will be like the little dog in the phonograph picture, whom we see listening to his master's voice." I think it is all poppycock for us to stand here and do these things and say this or that. That bill will be signed by the Governor because Mr. Innes wants it, and Mr. Innes wants control of the city government if he can get it. The only way in which he can get it is to try to put a borough system through. It does not make any difference to me personally whether this City Council lives for one minute or one year. It would not worry me for one moment if five minutes after my election the City Council had been wiped out. I simply wanted to be elected to this body for one specific reason—to show a certain man in this town that I could be elected. I think it is all foolishness for us to act the way we are acting. The City Council is going to be changed, but instead of a borough system it will be a ward system, because the people of the city will never stand for Charlic Innes and a few more of them running the City of Boston.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I want to say just one more word in connection with this order, and it is this, that personally I think the question is a bigger one than the question of what the form of government in this Council is going to be, whether nine members, twenty-six members or forty-seven members. That does not make any particular difference. The outstanding feature of this proposed legislation, as I see it, is that representatives from rural communities are attempting to legislate for Boston, and I resent their interference in Boston's affairs. I believe in home rule for Boston, not interference by any outsiders, no matter whence they may come. We ought to be allowed, being chartered as a city, to conduct our own affairs without interference by any small, picayune legislators from any of these outlying sections of the state. The question has been brought vividly to our attention this year because of the fact that these people have been reaching in to redivide Boston. They want to gerrymander Boston; they don't want to re-divide it fairly. They want to gerrymander Boston as they have gerrymandered Massachusetts. What is the situation today? With the Commonwealth of Massachusetts practically an even proposition between Democrats and Republicans, the Republicans outnumber the Democrats in the Legislature three to one. And why? Because the Republicans have gerrymandered the state so that no Democrat can be elected in communities where, if there was a fair dividing line, they would have a chance to be elected. They want to do the same thing here in Boston. They want to redivide Boston into wards, not having a continuity of surrounding sections that should run together, but dividing so that Republicans can be elected in Boston, where the Democrats outnumber them ten to one. That is their scheme. They want to make Boston a Republican rather than a Democratic city; or, if they fail in that, they want to get Republican representation here that they are not entitled to. I feel that the question has gone beyond the point of whether this Council is going to exist or not. It probably makes no difference to us sitting here whether or not they change the method of electing members of this Council; but the big, outlying, outstanding question, is the fact that Republican legislators from rural communities are interfering with home rule in our city. I protest against it, and I think the time has come when others are going to be sufficiently interested in the affairs of Boston so that the feeling of all of us as Bostonians will be aroused against this sort of thing. The Governor of our Commonwealth is, first, a Bostonian before he is a Republican. This question is a bigger one than that of the parties. The question is, whether the Governor of our Commonwealth, a resident of Boston for years, is going to allow the Legislature to come in and interfere with home rule in Boston. I think, as a Bostonian, he is not going to see any such legislation as is proposed enacted without his protest. For that reason I introduce this order.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I feel very strongly that the Legislature is going altogether too far in trying to force on the citizens of Boston a choice between two different charters without giving them an opportunity to say whether they desire to retain the charter they have been operating under for the past five years. I beg to differ, however, with the councilor who has just spoken with regard to the right of the Legislature to impose these conditions upon the City of Boston. The councilor has evidently forgotten that every city in the Commonwealth only has its charter granted by the Legislature in order to separate the different parts of the state for governmental purposes. Years ago, when this country was founded, the state was the unit, and everything came under the state. As our population increased in the different centers, it was absolutely necessary to have some subdivisions, and by going to the Legislature, the Great and General Court, certain charters or rights were given to the communities to be self-governing, but always with the proviso that if they did not exercise their functions properly they could be withdrawn. However, in this case I think it is an outrage that they should try, after our acting under the present charter for fifteen years, to tell us that we must take one of two other forms of charter, without giving the citizens a chance to say whether they wish to retain the present form of charter. Before going further on this matter I would like to call the attention of the councilor who has just spoken to the fact that he has made an error with reference to hours of opening and closing the polls. The Legislature proposes to put through a measure saying that the polls shall be opened at six o'clock and shall be opened ten hours, but does not say that they shall not remain open until six or eight in the evening. That is up to the cities and towns themselves. One of the councilors here has said that back of this bill is a Mr. Innes. I wish to say that I don't believe that is a fact. Since Coun. Donoghue has been speaking, I have been called to the telephone by a prominent Democrat in the House who tells me that he has offered an amendment on the floor of the House this afternoon striking out the borough scheme and substituting in its place the retention of the present council, and John I. Fitzgerald, the Democratic leader, has been to him and told him that if he does that it will spoil the whole thing. This legislator who has called me has asked me to get in touch with members of the Council, and ask them, if they care anything about the present charter, to communicate with any friends they have in the Legislature either among the Democrats or Boston Republicans, and get them to speak in favor of the amendment which he has put on the calendar. I think that shows that there is somebody besides Mr. Innes who is back of this bill.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I would suggest, through the Chair, that Coun. Lane can probably do much more good than we can, because I think the trouble will be with the Republicans. If the leader of the Democratic Party in the House is opposed to the present charter, and doesn't wish that amendment to go in, how are we going to stand here and say that the Republicans are putting it over on Democratic Boston, if the Democrats themselves are opposed to the present charter?

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I was not going to say anything, but I do wish to say at this time that it would be better, in my estimation, for all the people to allow the Legislature to go as far as it likes. I realize that by its action individual members of this Council may lose something, but I feel that there has got to be something done for the people of Boston to make them realize what the situation is, and I feel that perhaps it might be a good thing if the Legislature would wipe the Council out. It might make the people of Boston realize that an organization known as the Republican State Committee controls things. The only place where they are not strong in the state is in the City of Boston. Of course, their headquarters are in Boston, but practically every man of influence who is a member of that state committee is not a resident of Boston. He may be in business in Boston, but not a resident. If what the councilor who has just taken his seat says is true, the so-called leader of the Democratic Party at the State House is against us. I want to say that he is not my leader, and if he assumes to be the leader of the Democratic Party on Beacon Hill I feel that he is assuming something that he has absolutely no right to assume. He certainly has no right to speak for me as a Democrat because he is elected from a district, and in so far as his actions are concerned he is answerable to that district, and that district only. This is no new story. Some years ago the same Legislature gave to the citizens of Boston the right to choose between two charters, one bad and the other worse. They did not give the citizens of Boston any real choice, because certain groups had met and decided that they were going to turn over the government of the city to a certain group, and there was a certain leader to be elected to the majority of this city, the charter being absolutely satisfactory to him. Unfortunately some cog slipped, and instead of landing in the Mayor's chair that gentleman one or two years later landed in one of the chairs of the City Council. I happened during my term to serve one year with that member, and he was absent more in that year than any member of the entire Council, the only year that I served with him. And still they speak of big business men. I refer to the same James Jackson Storrow, and I believe my words can be proven by going back to the records of 1918, showing that he was absent from more meetings of the City Council during that year than he was present. Of course, it was during the war, and, of course, it was during the time when these men gave up their time for one dollar per year. But current events have proven that the fellow who gave his service for one dollar a year was a wonderful man to our national government. They talk about big business men. Well, we know something about the big business men who have had to do with the government of the United States, in Congress and elsewhere. We have heard something from such men as Moran from Mansfield, who said he would rather be a hay shaker than a dough chaser. As long as my memory goes back, the place where he is now sitting has been called the House of the Forty Thieves, the Massachusetts Senate, where there has been more pernicious legislation railroaded through than within any other four walls in our country. We are now laboring under a transportation act, by which the junk pile of the Boston Elevated railroad and of the West End Street Railway were turned over to us, and we have guaranteed to the stockholders 6 per cent. Under the act we are also building up the road, so that at the end of ten years they will be getting back a new dollar for the same weight in junk. I don't know Mr. Moran, and I don't think personally that the gentleman knows many members of this body. He certainly cannot know much about the workings of the charter under which we have been living here in Boston for some years. I believe his Honor the Mayor and his predecessor in office agree that the charter we are now working under is a proper one, and I suppose if some individual whom certain legislators have in mind was fortunate enough to be elected Mayor of Boston they would not desire to have the charter changed, because the Mayor of Boston is absolute in himself. He is practically the only man holding such a position. He is not responsible to the other part of the government elected by the citizens, in any respect whatever, and his position in that regard is, I think, different from that of any official elected in any city, town or state in the nation. To my best knowledge there is no other individual holding a similar position who can carry on without being hampered at all by the veto power. That position is occupied by the Mayor of Boston alone. The President of the United States may have his action vetoed, the Governor of the Commonwealth may have his action vetoed. Practically every other mayor in our state or in our nation may have his actions vetoed, but the action of the Mayor of Boston cannot be vetoed, being absolute. I say that with no ill feeling toward the man holding that office now; but I do say, in so far as the Legislature is concerned, individually and collectively, "Continue with your harsh treatment of the citizenship of Boston, and in the very near future, instead of Massachusetts being in the Republican column, the old pendulum will swing and the people will place old Massachusetts on the Democratic side, with a Democratic Legislature and a Democratic Governor, and Boston will continue on the Democratic side. I wish to say that by no action of mine would I intervene with any member of the Legislature, if I knew that I could stop him, from taking a certain position by speaking to him. I would not walk up to Beacon Hill to make that request. It may be all right for us to talk here. As I understand it, that amendment that has been added this afternoon is another step towards doing a job on the citizens of Boston. I agree that it is all right to argue in favor of allowing the people to vote on the question of whether this Council shall be allowed to remain or not, and I understand that that is the amendment that has been introduced this afternoon. That means that there are going to be three questions on the ballot,—first, shall the present Council stand intact? Second, shall we elect councilors under a borough system? Third, shall each ward be represented in this Council by a man from that ward? The men who are behind the borough system, in my estimation, have decided that if only the two latter questions go on the ward system shall be defeated, and to further confuse the voters of Boston they are going to allow that third question to go on the ballot; and when the ballots are counted, while many men in the public eye and in public office are taking it for granted that the ward plan is going through, many of the so-called leaders in the districts in Boston are not going to turn their hand for the defence of the citizens of Boston, and the borough system is going to slip through. When the borough system does slip through, with the changing of the ward lines, we are going to find fifteen men here sitting as representatives of Boston, which is better than 75 per cent Democratic, with a Democratic minority representation, in spite of the fact that it is a strongly democratic city. I heartily agree with Coun. Purcell in regard to the able politician on State street. Politics has become a business now. It is not a calling. We have leading politicians on both Democratic and Republican sides sitting down at a round table to legislate while the Legislature is not in session. Just imagine! Four days before the Legislature adjourns for the year, we are having acted upon some of the most important legislation that has been before the body within the entire year. We have the insurance bill, compelling every individual who owns an automobile to insure his car, between Monday and Thursday nights. They call members of the Boston City Council dough chasers, but if the insurance companies are putting that bill through the Legislature without giving some one some money, then I don't know anything about legislation, —and I don't know whether Moran is in on it or not. I have never seen a hayseed yet that was not in. Again, there is going to be a Recess Committee sent out again in connection with this pernicious railroad bill. If they have so many people up there who have the interests of the people at heart, why don't they go into the insurance business? Why don't they start a state fund and allow the citizens of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to pay their insurance into that state fund? Why should we allow these big insurance companies with their home offices across the water, in England, to control the insurance business of our state? That is what it means, that the old line companies, owned and controlled by English powers, will compel every individual in this state to bow to the English peerage, across the water. Of course, there isn't anything wrong going on up at the Legislature! But just to keep the people blind they use the old smoke screen, Boston. It isn't only in the Republican Party; it is in the Democratic Party. Everybody outside of the City of Boston says, "Don't let the Boston Democratic pol in let us keep him out." And the Republicans take up the cry of the Democrats outside of Boston, and they keep us out. I feel that our job is not done. There are eight Democratic members of the Council and one Republican. I think it is up to the eight of them as Democrats to use their efforts to go out and put twenty-six members from the different wards into this Council, and when you do that job and get them in here, it will not be more than one or two years before a Republican Legislature will want to change that form of government. They won't let it go for fourteen or fifteen years, as they have this one. They criticized the old Common Council, they criticized the old Board of Aldermen, when they wanted to change to the present charter. They are now criticizing this Council rightfully, in my estimation, from their point of view. There wasn't any criticism for the first nine years because they were successful for nine years in absolutely holding Goo Goo control. We have practically eliminated that organization in the town, now. We now have, out of nine members, two Goo Goos left, my friend Coun. Healey and my friend Coun. Lane. It always was a wonder to me how they ever continued to get the indorsement. Coun. Healey has not jumped over the traces yet, but it is expected that he will very, very soon. So far as trying to change the minds of the legislators on Beacon Hill is concerned, it is almost impossible, because I was told by a very prominent Republican who is now sitting in the Senate that during the time when the bill was up word went out that everybody should be in his seat on the day when the Council measure came up, and should go along with the committee's report. And they did. Whether they have seen their mistake in the House or not I don't know, but I feel, as I said on rising, that in so far as the citizens are concerned it might be a good thing for them to allow the Legislature not only to throw the dust in their eyes but to continue to rub it in. That is what the Legislature has done and that is what the Legislature here is going to continue to do, and it may finally awaken the good people of our city to rise up in arms, showing by electing a council of twenty-six that the Legislature has made a mistake in throwing overboard the best form of government Boston ever had, the Council as it is constituted at the present time.

Coun. PURCELL—Mr. President, I again want to reiterate that what I said about Mr. Innes is true. Mr. Innes, in my estimation—and I guess that is the feeling of about everybody in the city who has studied the situation—realizes that, while he controls the Legislature of Massachusetts, he does not control this body. Mr. Innes and a few more men in this town want to control this city, and in order to do so they want to put over the borough system. I remember back in the old days that I sat for the last three years in the old Common Council, and I knew how they did jobs then. I can remember one night when we wanted to put through an order for $28,000 to finish the bathhouse on North Bennet street, North End. It had been built and it lay there for three years without any shower baths being put into it. I asked the gentlemen coming from the same ward that Mr. Innes lives in now to go through with it and to give the people of the North End the shower baths and they said, "No, there is only one way in which you will get that $28,000 through, and that is to vote for $40,000 to beautify Copley square." That is the way it went through, and that is the way those gentlemen play the game. It is the Back Bay first. They want to run this body, and it looks as though they would run it if they can put through the borough system. I want to say that if such a bill is enacted I will tour this town from one end to the other for the ward system.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything further in connection with the order, but in view of the fact that the so-called leader of the Democratic Party of Boston has been attacked here today by the only Republican member of this Council, I refuse to sit in my seat and let it go by without any answer. Of course, what the councilor has said regarding the Democratic chairman of our city committee in Boston is merely hearsay. I don't know whether it is so or not, but, whether it is so or not, I think a false impression was attempted to be created by the remarks along that line. Of course, the chairman of the Democratic City Committee is entitled to his view as to how this Council should be constituted, whether or not it should be composed of twenty-six members, one from each ward, or of nine members, as it is. He has a right to his own opinion on that matter. That does not remove the blame that is justly placed on the shoulders of the Republican Party for interfering in Boston's affairs, simply because they are in a vast majority in the Senate and the House of Representatives on Beacon Hill. They established the tax limit for Boston, the capital of this Commonwealth, and the only city which has been hampered in any such way, under the claim that we might be able to conduct the city's activities properly. Just think of what that means! Every little rural community in the state has the right to spend its own money, but Boston is denied that right by a Republican Legislature. They appointed a Police Commissioner for the City of Boston. The only other city in the state which has a police commissioner appointed by the Governor is the Democratic city of Fall River, the two Democratic cities, Fall River and Boston, the capital of Massachusetts, are the only two cities in the state that have a police commissioner appointed by the Governor to handle the affairs of the police department in those two cities. They appointed a Finance Commission for Boston, the only city in the state to have a finance commission. They are to appoint a redistricting committee, a recess committee, presumably to be composed of not less than eight Republicans and three or four Democrats—a Republican committee, again, to redistrict Democratic Boston, the capital of Massachusetts. With regard to the bill establishing the hours for voting, saying that the polls must open at six o'clock in the morning, I have been corrected, have been told that I did not know what the bill in the Legislature meant. But I still claim that I am right, that the intention of the bill is that the polls shall open at six o'clock in the morning and shall continue open for ten hours. It is unbelievable to think that they are going to open at six o'clock in the morning and close, say, at twelve o'clock noon, and then open again at five o'clock in the afternoon and continue for four hours. Of course, it must mean ten continuous hours of voting, or else you are going to again inconvenience the Democratic voters of Boston. Then, we have the Metropolitan District Commission, for which Boston pays practically 75 per cent of the maintenance, inflicted on the citizens of Boston by a Republican Legislature. I cannot make my position on this matter too emphatic. I am glad of the opportunity to stand on my feet and try to focus public attention on the Republican legislation which is being enacted on Beacon Hill to the detriment of Boston. Let us send to them a copy of this order, embodying our action. I don't care what they do with it. At least something will be accomplished by this agitation. I believe the people are beginning to realize that there is too much interference by the Republican Legislature in Boston's affairs, and that is the primary thing in which I am interested. I believe there should be no interference, and if they do interfere that there should be no taxation. The foundation of our government is that without representation there shall be no taxation, and if I had my way I would make them go to the courts for every ten-cent piece they get from Boston's citizens until they realized that they could not interfere in Boston's affairs as they are doing, that Boston, the capital of this Commonwealth, is at least entitled to a square deal.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. WALSH, the Council refused a general reconsideration of all action taken today.

Adjourned at 3.37 p. m., on motion of Coun. HEALEY, to meet on Monday, June 16, at two o'clock p. m.

TO GENERAL CONTRACTORS.

The Schoolhouse Commissioners of the City of Boston invite sealed proposals for alterations, etc., to the building at 300 Walnut avenue, Roxbury, Lewis District, giving bond of a surety company satisfactory to the Board therefor in the sum of 45 per cent of the entire contract price. Only proposals obtained at the office of the Commissioners, 1007 City Hall Annex, signed by the bidder and left before 12 o'clock m. of Tuesday, July 1, 1924, at said office, with a certified check for $5,000, payable to the city if the proposal is not carried out, will then and there be publicly opened and read. The proposal shall be made in duplicate, the one with the check to be submitted as indicated above, the other to be deposited with the City Auditor, City Hall, previous to the time named for opening proposals. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all proposals. A deposit of $25 in cash or by certified check will be required for a complete set of plans and specifications, said sum to be refunded on return of plans and specifications. A deposit of $15 in cash or by certified check will be required for a set of heating and ventilating or electrical plans, with specifications. Mutilation of the plans or specifications will be deemed sufficient cause for the forfeiture of the said deposit.

THOMAS P. GLYNN,
JAMES J. MAHAR,
CLARENCE H. BLACKALL, Commissioners.
